Salisbury Pride crosswalk to be replaced with selected rotating artwork

By Richard Caines
Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — Salisbury Mayor Randy Taylor has announced plans to repaint the existing Pride crosswalk located at the intersection of South Division Street and West/East Market Street with artwork from select artists.

Taylor said the decision was made as part of a broader initiative to “maintain neutrality” in public spaces. He said the new, rotating artwork

SALISBURY — Utah-based Breeze Airways has officially announced plans to expand its growing airline service to Salisbury Regional Airport with a new nonstop flight to Orlando International Airport beginning this fall.

Airline officials said the twice-weekly service to Florida on Mondays and Fridays will start on October 1. One-way fares will start at $59.

will reflect the city’s “identity.”

“Our city is home to a diverse and vibrant community, and we want our public spaces to be welcoming to all,” Taylor said. “However, we also have a responsibility to ensure that government property remains neutral and does not promote any particular movement or cause.

“By moving forward with a neutral design, we are ensuring that city property remains a place where every individual, regardless of background or belief, feels they belong.”

In a Facebook post, members of Salisbury PFLAG — Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays — responded to the move by saying that since the installation in 2018, the crosswalk “has been lovingly maintained by PFLAG volunteers.”

We are deeply disheartened to be hearing that Mayor Taylor has decided to paint over Maryland’s first rainbow and trans pride crosswalks,” the organization said. “This decision is particularly cutting since it comes as we are ramping up for our Salisbury Pride month celebrations.”

Salisbury’s Pride crosswalk was the first in the state in Maryland, according to the organization’s website.

Instead, the city of Salisbury has launched “The Crosswalk Canvas,” a program where selected artists will receive a $3,000 stipend for the design and installation of art on the downtown crosswalks. In a release, the city said the new crosswalk will embody “the character, history or artistic vibrancy of the city of Salisbury while steering clear of any political or ideological affiliations.”

Those selected for the first round are required to have the crosswalk painted by Sept. 14. The selected art will be displayed for two years, when another artist will be selected.

Artists interested in submitting design proposals can find the application details on the city’s website. The deadline for submissions is June 30th and the final selection will be made by a panel of city officials and community representatives from the Public Art Committee.

More information can be found on the project by visiting <https://salisbury.md/departments/arts-business-culture/public-art/crosswalk-canvas>.

to-point operating model connects underserved markets that typically can't attract many direct flights.

"Breeze is all about expanding service to underserved markets, and Salisbury fits this to a tee," said David Neeleman, the airline's founder and CEO who previously started Jet-Blue and others. "Orlando is a great, family friendly destination we're confident Salisbury and Ocean City travelers will love, so we're excited to make it available on the premium product Breeze is known for and look forward to welcoming new guests on a flight this fall."

News of the airliner's arrival comes after a groundbreaking last year of the Salisbury airport's runway extension project, which will lengthen the current 6,400-foot runway by 1,200 feet, allowing for larger airplanes.

Wicomico County was previously awarded a $800,000 Small Community Air Service Development Grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation to help land the airliner.

"This new service, offering a direct flight to Orlando International Airport, brings exciting travel opportunities to our residents and opens new doors for tourism and economic growth in our region," Wicomico County Executive Julie Giordano said. "Breeze's commitment to affordability and convenience aligns perfectly with our vision for the future of air travel in Wicomico County."

Breeze Airways joins American Airlines at Salisbury Regional, which currently offers daily flights through subsidiary Piedmont Airlines, connecting thousands of passengers each year to the eastern U.S. from hubs in Charlotte and Philadelphia.

Allegiant Air came to the Salisbury Regional Airport with a twice-a-week service to Orlando in 2012, but airline officials ended the route less than a year later, due to a limited number of passengers taking advantage of the service.

Salisbury is the 71st city for Breeze Airways, which said it is continuing to expand its nationwide network as it celebrates four years of operation. The airliner said it features premium seating options and high-speed Wi-Fi on its fleet of Airbus A220-300 aircraft.

Breeze's inaugural flight was May 27, 2021, from Tampa International Airport to Charleston International Airport.

"The Salisbury Airport is a critical infrastructure hub for my district and a growing regional destination for quick access to the Ocean City beaches and the greater Delmarva," said Congressman Andy Harris, (MD-01). "I am pleased to see that Breeze Airways will be starting service in October with direct flights to and from Salisbury to Orlando International Airport. The addition of this airline service will increase economic activity in our region and better accommodate the travel plans of my constituents."

COMMUNITY*Easton hires Salisbury's city administrator as town managerBy Richard Caines

Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — Salisbury City Administrator Andy Kitzrow has accepted the position of town manager for the town of Easton, effective July 7.

Kitzrow served as the city administrator for Salisbury since 2023, and as the deputy city administrator since 2017. As town manager for the town of Easton, he will be responsible for overseeing all town operations, acting as a leader to personnel and serving as a point of contact for the mayor and administration, town council and residents.

The Salisbury native said the move was strictly about professional growth. He mentioned the leadership of former Mayors Jake Day and Jack Heath, former City Administrator Julie Glanz, his staff and the city council members he worked alongside.

"I really appreciated serving the city of Salisbury," Kitzrow said. "I'm just really excited for the next opportunity in my life and the next chapter. But I'm going to miss Salisbury and all of the great things that we were able to accomplish."

In his roles as deputy city Administrator and city administrator for Salisbury, Kitzrow helped push through multiple projects and initiatives, including:

- The establishment of the Arts, Business, and Culture Department, promoting tourism, revitalization, and economic growth.

- The introduction of THRIVE, an employee health and wellness plan designed to holistically improve the physical, mental, and emotional well-being of City staff.

- The launching of two youth community centers, which now serve hundreds of youths while fostering growth and community engagement.

- The recruitment of top talent in numerous critical roles throughout the organization, including police chief and fire chief.

- Overseeing teams that secured over $25 million in state and federal grants.

Kitzrow said he has no plans of moving away from Salisbury and will make the one-hour commute to Easton. He owns the entertainment venue Escape Salisbury, which is located across from the Government Building and plans to continue as Salisbury's city administrator until he starts his new role.

"I'm not leaving," Kitzrow said. "My kids go to school here. My wife has a private practice in Salisbury. So, we are here for good."

After obtaining his bachelor's degree at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 2005, Kitzrow started his career in community administration by serving as a Recreation Program Director and later a Recreation Superintendent for Wicomico County before moving on to the city of Salisbury.

"We received applicants from all around the country, and as luck would have it, found the best prospect right here on the Shore," Easton Mayor Megan Cook said. "We're so excited to have Mr. Kitzrow's leadership and expertise on our team here in Easton, and I am excited to work with him on helping our great town continue to thrive."

BayRunner Shuttle celebrates 20 Years of travel

Special to the Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — BayRunner Shuttle, Maryland’s largest airport shuttle by geographic area served, is celebrating 20 years of service this year.

Founded in May 2005 by airline industry veteran John W. Presburg, the company set out to bridge the travel gap between the Eastern Shore and Baltimore/Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport (BWI). Today, BayRunner has grown into a vital link in Maryland’s transportation network.

To mark this milestone, BayRunner Shuttle will host a ribbon cutting in partnership with the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce on May 21st at 4 p.m. at 47C Riverside Drive in Salisbury.

Starting with just two Chevrolet Tahoe vans, 10 employees, and service to two cities, BayRunner now operates in 12 locations across the state — from Ocean City to Garrett County — with regional offices in Salisbury and Frederick. The company also partners with Amtrak and FlixBus (formerly Greyhound), making interstate travel even more seamless for passengers.

Reflecting on two decades of steady growth, founder John Presburg said, “Our success comes down to one thing: staying true to our mission — offering safe, dependable, and fairly priced transportation. We’ve built a great team over the years, and their dedication has carried this company forward.”

Since its founding, BayRunner Shuttle has safely transported more than 300,000 passengers and contributed over $10 million in wages to Maryland residents — a testament to its local economic impact.

Under the leadership of Caroline Presburg, who now serves as company president, BayRunner continues to evolve while honoring its roots. “We’re so grateful to everyone who has supported our journey — from our incredible staff to the loyal passengers we serve every day,” said Caroline. “We’re excited about what the future holds and look forward to continued growth and new opportunities.”

CIVILITY CHECKLIST

 Take the High Road. Respond to the topic — not the person. Refrain from demonizing others for their opinions. Assume those you disagree with are, like you, genuinely interested in improving the community.

 Be Respectful. Bullying, public humiliation, insults, name-calling, harassment, and threats directed at another person — or that person's race, gender, religion, ethnicity, etc. — have no place in civil discussions. Find ways to respectfully disagree without questioning someone's character or motives.

 Be truthful. Base your opinions/arguments on facts. Value honesty. Make only accurate statements when making your point and avoid exaggeration and stereotypes. When appropriate, cite your sources of information that others may question.

 Don't misrepresent. Always identify your opinions as opinions (not stating opinions as facts). Never misrepresent the views of others or falsely claim your opinions represent someone else. If quoting the words of others, identify and credit the source.

 Listen & Learn. It's both polite and respectful to listen to those we disagree with (as well as those we support) and be genuine in our attempts to understand their point of view. Expand your mind by thoughtfully seeking out views that don't agree with your own.

 Look for common ground. When disagreeing with others, look for even small areas of agreement — which can be the gateway to working together for the greater good.

 Respect Privacy. Keep private things private — whether it involves your own information or those with whom you disagree. Revealing private information about someone else is rude, unethical, potentially harmful and in many cases, illegal.

Now that you've read the checklist, take the Civility Pledge at baytobaynews.com/pledge

Say no to neutralization: Mayor Taylor must reverse course

As the county seat, Salisbury sets the tone for Wicomico County. Its policies shape not just local outcomes, but the broader cultural and economic climate of the Shore. Since 2018, that rainbow crosswalk has stood as a visible affirmation that LGBTQ+ residents are reasonably safe, valued, and seen in this community. It has never been a political symbol. It has always been a statement of legal and moral clarity: that discrimination has no place here. Inclusion is not an ideology; it is the foundation of public neutrality. We should recall that the LGBTQ+ community is our community.

Mayor Randy Taylor's recent proposal to replace the Pride crosswalk with a so-called "neutral design" is not a neutral act. It is a coward's retreat. The LGBTQ+ community is not something that can be neutralized. Our presence, rights, and visibility are not negotiable. We must recall that removing symbols of inclusion is an act of exclusion, and such actions may contribute to compelling legal arguments that include the words "personal liability" and "patterns of discrimination."

Let's be honest about what's happening. This is not an isolated policy decision. It fits into a broader narrative concerning public behavior. Salisbury's mayor has repeatedly made erratic decisions without public engagement or transparent dialogue. We must recall that this lack of transparency from public officials undermines public trust and diminishes the credibility of the mayor's leadership.

More importantly, these actions are acts of hostility and aggression against his own constituency, especially those already vulnerable. The mayor's behavior must be recognized for what it is: not just a failure of inclusion but an active attempt at exclusion. This active attempt must be met with action, not passivity. We must recall that public leadership comes with a responsibility to represent and protect all people.

When I moved back to Wicomico County, I hoped Mayor Taylor might grow into his role. He campaigned as "pro-development" and "pro-Downtown," speaking of transforming "seas of parking" into opportunity. We must recall his statements are on public record and ask what motivations could justify reversing alignment with these past promises.

This moment still offers a chance for Mayor Taylor to demonstrate true leadership. Like any private business owner in elected office, Mayor Taylor can teach us more about the opportunities and challenges of ethically balancing personal private interests with the responsibilities of public office. He can show us how learning more about an issue and empowering public servants with knowledge and empathy can lead to reversing ill-advised proposals and committing to serving all residents with dignity and fairness. If he does not, we must recall this moment as one where leadership failed to rise to the occasion.

The Pride crosswalk is more than paint. It is a line in the sand. We will not abide its removal, or the effects of its removal on Wicomico families. We know that visibility is not a threat. It is a right. We must recall that we all deserve to be seen and heard.

Mayor Taylor must reverse course. And we must recall the values of this community and demand nothing less.

Strengthening Salisbury's bond with Estonia: A report to the community

By George Whitehead

Special to the Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — The sister city relationship between Salisbury and Tartu is one partnership in Maryland that the Maryland Estonia Exchange Council (MEEC) helps coordinate. MEEC's mission is to advance the friendship of Maryland and Estonia.

So, how is Salisbury's friendship with Tartu and Estonia advancing? As a member of MEEC and the Sister Cities of Salisbury/Wicomico committee, I'm happy to answer that question.

The Tartu Pedestrian Bridge in downtown Salisbury exemplifies that relationship. Articles in the Salisbury Independent have reported on a Salisbury University student studying at the University of Tartu (April 5, 2023) and my visit to Estonia (November 12, 2024). A picture showed a book presentation to Estonia Ambassador, Kristjan Prikk at an event in Annapolis (May 28, 2024).

I want to share three other examples. First, Wicomico Presbyterian Church recently bought a semi-concert grand piano made in the Estonian Piano Factory in Tallinn, the capital of Estonia. Choir Director, Robert Young, and Music Committee member, Deb Clark, went looking for a piano for the church. They traveled to PianoCraft in Gaithersburg, MD. While they were there, they played many different pianos. They kept coming back to the one made in Estonia. When asked why, they said "it had a bell-type quality that rings." Robert credits the material that they use, the way the sound board is cut, the quality of the strings, and the excellent craftsmanship!

If you would like to hear it, plan to attend a Sunday service at Wicomico Presbyterian Church. This fall they will be planning a concert series.

The Estonian Piano Factory was founded in 1893. After Estonia gained its independence from the Soviet Union, the company was privatized. A MEEC delegation toured the Tallinn factory in 2023 with the hope that some of the pianos could end up in sister cities in Maryland. MEEC was very happy to learn about the purchase, said Erik Puskar, an MEEC board member, who was one of the individuals who visited the factory.

Second, this past summer Salisbury University student Stephora Alberi participated in a Computer Vision and Space course at the University of Tartu. She recently learned that she is the recipient of the Boren Fellowship through the National Education Security Program. With this Fellowship she will travel to Estonia to study Russian and complete an internship at the University of Tartu. Boren awards allow students to study abroad. Stephora will also be this year's undergraduate commencement speaker.

Third, last fall the Rebecca Kontus trio performed at Salisbury University and other locations in the USA. Originating from Estonia, the trio's performance provided cultural exchange and the showcasing of Estonia's lively music scene. The members of the Sister Cities of Salisbury/Wicomico County committee attended and had dinner with the trio.

City announces launch of initiative to clean local waterways

Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — After a year of preparation and certification, the City of Salisbury’s Field Operations team is launching an initiative to improve the health and safety of local waterways. Beginning in May, the department will begin treating the Shumaker Pond area and other bodies of water to address two harmful and invasive threats: hydrilla and harmful algal blooms (HABs).

Field Operations said this is the first time it has undertaken such a project, and it reflects the city’s commitment to environmental stewardship and public safety. Hydrilla, an aggressive aquatic plant, and algae blooms, which occur when colonies of algae grow out of control, pose serious risks to aquatic ecosystems, fish, shellfish, and even human health.

The treatment will involve the application of approved aquatic algicides and herbicides, specifically targeting the affected areas with a product called Harpoon, an algicide known for its effectiveness in managing HABs. Hydrilla will be treated with a systemic aquatic herbicide that prevents regrowth. Depending on the severity, areas with 50% coverage may require two to three applications, with ongoing annual inspections and treatment as needed.

Leading the effort is Matthew Obert, parks manager for the City of Salisbury, who holds an Aquatic Pest Control Applicator’s License. His certification not only qualifies him to oversee the treatment process, but also covers the entire Field Operations team under his license, ensuring all work is conducted safely and in compliance with environmental regulations.

“This is an exciting step forward for Salisbury,” said Obert. “We’re committed to protecting our waterways, and this project allows us to take real action against invasive species that threaten the beauty and balance of our natural spaces.”

Mayor Randy Taylor echoed that sentiment: “It is vital that we pay consistent and meaningful attention to our waterways. I am proud to be a part of the City’s efforts to make that happen,” said Mayor Taylor.

DOVER — Dante Trader, Jr. was a good enough athlete to play two major sports in college.

But it's clear now that the former Delmar High's future is in football.

Trader was taken in the fifth round of the 2025 NFL Draft by the Miami Dolphins.

A safety at Maryland, while also playing men's lacrosse for the Terapins, the 5-foot-11, 196-pounder went with the No. 155 pick overall.

Trader played two seasons at Delmar, helping the Wildcats win the DIAA Division II state title as a freshman in 2017 and earning second-team All-State honors in 2018.

He played for McDonogh in Maryland for his last two years in high school.

In three seasons at Maryland, Trader played in 35 career games with five interceptions, 174 tackles and 19 passes defended.

Neither of Delaware's top two prospects, ruuning back Marcus Yarns or defensive back Ty Herring, were drafted. They can still be signed as free agents.

NATURAL GAS:

The Safe, Efficient Energy Choice

Chesapeake Utilities is proud to provide natural gas to more than 90,000 residential and commercial customers on the Delmarva Peninsula. For more than 160 years, Chesapeake Utilities has served customers and communities with reliable energy solutions that are environmentally and economically smart

Although gas leaks are extremely rare, it's important to know what to do in case of a gas leak. Natural gas is naturally odorless. To help people detect a gas leak, a harmless odorant is added called mercaptan, which smells like "rotten egg." The "rotten egg" odor alerts you that gas is escaping and a potentially dangerous situation may exist.

- ✓ Immediately leave your home or business on foot and move at least 500 feet away and upwind.
- ✓ Once safely outside the building or from a neighboring location, call the emergency number 911 from a cell phone to report the suspected leak.
- ✗ Do not use your telephone, turn on/off light switches or light a match.
- ✗ Do not re-enter the building until professionals tell you it is safe.
- ✗ Do not do anything that might create a spark or flame, including starting a vehicle in the area.

Know what's below. Call before you dig.

PLAN BEFORE YOU DIG:

Before starting any excavation activity, please contact 811 at least 48 hours in advance. This will notify us, along with other utilities, and your site will be marked to indicate where underground utilities are located. Once utilities are located, you may begin to dig carefully around the marks, but not on them.

SU vice president of student affairs announces retirement

Special to the Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — For nearly two decades, Dr. Dane Foust has been a familiar face to a generation of students at Salisbury University.

Most recently serving as SU’s vice president of student affairs for the past 13 years, Foust recently announced plans to retire at the end of the 2024-25 academic year.

“Dr. Foust’s leadership, wisdom, and deep commitment to SU’s mission have enriched our university in immeasurable ways,” said SU President Carolyn Ringer Lepre. “While we will miss his presence on campus, we take comfort in knowing that his contributions will have a lasting impact on generations of Sea Gulls to come.”

Foust came to SU as associate vice president of student affairs in 2006, providing leadership in the division’s assessment and fiscal management areas, and overseeing SU’s Student Health Services, Career Services, Counseling, and Disability Resource centers. He also played a significant role in the development of SU’s Sea Gull Square mixed-use residential and retail complex, opened in 2011.

That year, he was appointed interim vice president, earning the position on a permanent basis in 2012. In that role, he led the development of SU’s strategic enrollment plan, as well as the Student Affairs Division’s first outcomes-based strategic plan and a comprehensive campus wellness program. He also has been instrumental in the renovation of SU’s traditional residence halls and in emergency preparedness on campus.

In addition to the areas noted above, he also currently oversees the Office of Housing and Residence Life, University Dining Services, Conference Services, the Guerrieri Student Union, the SU Bookstore, the Center for Student Involvement and Leadership, TRIO Student Support Services, the SU Bookstore, and the SU Cares case management office.

Beyond SU, Foust is an accreditor for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and an affiliate faculty member in the University of Maryland Eastern Shore’s Doctor of Education Leadership Program. A graduate of Leadership Maryland, he also has served with Shore Leadership, an initiative facilitating positive change on the Eastern Shore through public-private partnerships.

Prior to coming to SU, he held positions at Mount Aloysius College in Pennsylvania, the Semester at Sea program sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh, the State University of New York College at Oneonta, and Pennsylvania State University.

He holds an Ed.D. in higher education administration from Pennsylvania State University, and an M.A. in student affairs in higher education and B.S. in journalism from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

SU's Maykrantz Named 2025-26 Fulbright Scholar

Dr. Sherry Maykrantz. PROVIDED

Special to the Salisbury Independent
SALISBURY — When Dr. Sherry Maykrantz found her passion for undergraduate research at Salisbury University, she couldn't have imagined being called upon to launch research opportunities across the world. Until now.

Next year, she will spend several months in Prague teaching at one of the oldest universities in the world igniting students' research passion as a 2025-26 U.S. Fulbright Scholar.

"I'm proud to have Dr. Maykrantz represent Salisbury University through the prestigious Fulbright Program," said SU President Carolyn Ringer Lepre. "This opportunity allows our faculty to extend their scholarly pursuits globally, while enriching the educational journey of our students. We are thrilled for the honor she has received and the opportunities her connections and experiences will create for our students here at Salisbury."

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, the Fulbright is America's flagship international exchange program.

"This opportunity directly correlates to what I'm most passionate about surrounding undergraduate research," said Maykrantz, associate professor of public health in SU's College of Health and Human Services. "I enjoy working with students who are enthusiastic about their research potential but may be unsure about how to begin.

"Some may feel overwhelmed by the complexity or believe that research is limited to laboratory settings. My goal is to introduce the possibilities of research to all students, regardless of their discipline."

Through the initiative, Maykrantz, the first faculty member in SU's School of Health Sciences to serve as a Fulbright, will spend the spring 2026 semester helping to launch a student undergraduate research conference at Charles University, one of the oldest universities in the world in continuous operation.

"Today's students are the future of change in this data-driven world, and exposing them to research I hope will cultivate a strong international research pipeline between the universities with many opportunities for collaboration to come," she said.

She will also teach public health courses, help develop international health curriculum and potentially explore options to establish a research hub similar to SU's Office of Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity (OURCA).

At SU, Maykrantz has taught public health courses, mentored students at international research conferences and led study abroad excursions in several countries including Italy, Portugal, Austria and Spain. She also is SU's Maryland Charity Campaign chair and OURCA director.

"Through my experience with study abroad, I've seen that there's a desire and reciprocal hunger to learn from each other and share research and ideas," she said. "In keeping to the mission of the Fulbright of improving mutual understanding and support of peaceful relationships, and lending to the mission that all universities and higher education can agree on, I hope to do just that through this fellowship."

SU's Maroto earns Cambridge University Press Poster Award

Salisbury Independent

SALISBURY — Salisbury University senior Gabriela “Gaby” Maroto recently earned the 2025 C.G. Turner II and Cambridge University Press Poster Competition Award from the Dental Anthropology Association.

“I’ve learned so much about conducting and presenting research over the last year,” said Maroto, a biological sciences major from Amsterdam, NY. “I had never worked with teeth, high-tech software, and creating images and scientific values, until now.”

The prize is awarded to the best student research poster exploring dental anthropological themes such as forensic anthropology, evolution, anatomy or any field that draws upon dental data.

Salisbury University senior Gabriela “Gaby” Maroto. PROVIDED

The project began as summer research sponsored by SU’s Office of Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity (OURCA) with guidance from Dr. Susanne Daly, faculty research mentor, and has been supported by SU’s Richard A. Henson

School of Science and Technology and Biological Sciences Department.

Maroto presented her research, “Getting to the point: Assessing dietary signal from tooth sharpness in the postcanine dentition of primates,” at the American Association for Biological Anthropologists’ annual meeting, where she engaged in networking sessions and learned from research panelists in the field.

“To go from no academic research experience to winning this award has only strengthened my desire to explore more research opportunities in the future,” she said.

Upon graduating from SU, Maroto will begin her graduate study in anatomy education at Johns Hopkins University later this year.

“I highly encourage undergraduate students to get involved with research in a topic that interests them,” she said. “Find a faculty member to partner with, they are always willing to help you. I wouldn’t be where I am today without their support at SU.”

TidalHealth stroke team announces “Striding Together for Stroke Prevention” community walk

SALISBURY — TidalHealth and its stroke team announce a series of community stroke walks to promote awareness, education, and prevention of stroke.

The event series, entitled “Striding Together for Stroke Prevention: Walk, Learn, and Partner for Health,” will bring together patients, caregivers, and community members for a series of walks at key locations across the region.

Led by Stroke Coordinator Lauren Hitchens, MSN, RN, these walks aim to foster a relaxed and informative atmosphere where participants can learn about stroke prevention, recovery, and the vital importance of early intervention.

“Stroke prevention and recovery are critical to improving the health and well-being of our community,” said Hitchens. “This is an opportunity for people to engage with healthcare professionals in an informal setting, while also learning about the signs, risks, and steps for reducing stroke risk. We hope to encourage healthy lifestyles, increase awareness, and offer practical advice that can make a difference in the lives of those who may be affected by stroke.”

The next walk is planned for: Salisbury: Salisbury City Park (White Pedestrian Bridge)

May 17 from 8:30 to 10 a.m. The stroke team has its three goals for the series to increase community engagement, raise awareness and support stroke education. Each walk will be followed by an informal Q&A

Attendees will also have access to educational materials and resources to take home. Advance registration is not required.

CHAMBER MONTHLY

The SACC 2025 Post Legislative Session Forum and Luncheon

Six members of Maryland's Lower Shore State Legislative Delegation gathered on Thursday, April 17th at the Wicomico Youth & Civic Center to recap the concluded 2025 Maryland General Assembly Session during the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce Post Legislative Session Forum and Luncheon, presented by Tri-County Council for the Lower Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Zach Evans, SACC Board Chair and Executive Manager of Industry & Stakeholder Affairs, Mountaire Farms, moderated the forum.

Legislative actions and inactions were the centerpieces of the discussions shared by Delegation members. Delegation members all agreed that the recently concluded session was historic in addressing a record $3 Billion structural budget deficit, soaring energy costs for state businesses and residents, and the challenges faced keeping the business environment in Maryland competitive.

Senator Mary Beth Carozza commented on Republican proposals to reduce state agencies' budgets by 5% across the board, "That action if the General Assembly had taken it, would have balanced Maryland's budget without any tax or fee increases. The General Assembly should have also paused funding for Maryland's Blueprint for Education as a further action to reduce state spending to address the budget shortfall."

Regarding the final budget vote in the House of Delegates, Delegate Sheree Sample-Hughes, who voted against the final budget proposal, said, "The budget was not in the best interests of the eastern shore, none of it."

The eastern shores' agricultural industries and how the federal tariffs could impact this critical business sector prompted Delegate Charles Otto to share, "These tariffs impact key inputs at the Port of Baltimore. We must stop worrying about bike paths and walking trails and rebuild the Key Bridge instead – a loss that still impacts the eastern shore's agricultural industry."

One of the topics addressed at the Chambers 2025 Southern Delmarva Economic Forecast was building Maryland as a center for growth in the Aerospace industry sector. Delegate Tom Hutchinson commented that a slight lowering of Maryland's Corporate income tax rate, from 8.3% to just under 8%, will do nothing to incentivize the aerospace industry."

Freshman Delegate Barry Beauchamp added, "Utah has the number one state economy in the country with a 4% corporate income tax rate on industry, and Texas is going to a 2% rate. We will watch those two states grow while Maryland continues to push businesses to the surrounding states."

Delegate Chris Adams agreed that Maryland could miss the opportunity to attract aerospace and related industries. "The eastern shore depends on new economic development. Rocket Lab sees Maryland as an opportunity. The new 3.5% state Tech Tax misses the mark in attracting these industry sectors."

The delegation also talked about climate change mandates and energy issues.

Delegate Otto bemoaned the failure of the state EV mandates to date. "Maryland should abandon the EV mandate," stated Otto.

The Maryland EMPOWER program and consumers' frustrations with high energy bills prompted Delegate Beauchamp to share with the audience, "The average electric bill was $40 to 50 dollars higher per month, and the EMPOWER program is not serving Maryland's residents the way the program intended when enacted over a decade ago."

Delegate Adams added, "Maryland imports too much electricity. That's driving these high utility rates across the board."

Final discussions centered on legislation that failed, including the tax on sugary beverages, the business-to-business tax, the door-to-door delivery tax, and a few others that failed this session.

Voodoo Brewing Co. Celebrates Opening with Ribbon Cutting

Salisbury, MD – Voodoo Brewing Co. officially opened its doors in Salisbury, MD on March 22, marking the first brewpub location for the company in Maryland. Located at 1315 S. Salisbury Blvd., Unit 6, the new location is a family-owned venture bringing a unique blend of craft beer, unique food, and community engagement to the area.

On April 3, The Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce was delighted to join owners Robert Beckey, Heather Wieland-Beckey, William Beckey; and General Manager Jason Bloom in their official ribbon cutting celebrating this new franchise.

Weiland-Beckey shared with us “We appreciate everyone for joining us today! Why Voodoo? Well Rob and I met with a broker, we looked at demographics, we live close by, and we wanted to add two other venues (PJ’s and Voodoo) on the south end of town that would add variety and community engagement. The beer and cocktails, as well as the food, are delicious! Special thanks to Fisher Architects who designed the building and Delmarva Veterans Builders who did the construction”.

Voodoo Brewing Co. offers a signature lineup of craft beers, including IPAs, lagers, stouts, hard seltzers, and the popular Voodoo Love Child, Big Black Voodoo Daddy (12% alcohol), and Lacto Coolers. A guest taps from local and regional breweries will also showcase a variety of craft beer styles.

The menu will feature pub fare with a focus on unique and high-quality dishes served in a fun, casual atmosphere. A semiprivate room that easily accommodates 25 people and a covered outdoor deck is available for private events.

The owners, Heather Wieland, Rob Beckey, and William, are committed to giving back to the community and plan to collaborate with local organizations.

Follow Voodoo Brewing on Facebook and Instagram for updates on events, menus and so much more.

Karen Davis – State Farm Hosts SACC Business After Hours

Karen Davis – State Farm Agent hosted the SACC April Business After Hours on April 10, 2025, in their Salisbury headquarters office, which was converted into a beautiful garden courtesy of Williams Market. SACC members, family, friends and staff gathered to network and cut a ribbon in celebration of the agency’s 25th anniversary of providing the community with a “Garden” full of insurance services.

Davis shared with the guests “This is a great celebration with my team and the community. I was born and raised here in Salisbury, and it is great to give back to give back to where you are from. We have extended our services to Maryland and Delaware and have offices in Salisbury and Cambridge. Nothing happens without a great team, and ours is one of the best in the industry. We share the same vision, the same passion, we are dedicated to making sure that our customers in the community are protected when the unexpected occurs. We have planted a lot of seeds in the last 25 years, and we appropriately themed this celebration as the “Garden of Coverage”.

During the event, Wicomico County Council President, John Cannon presented Davis with a proclamation and certificate in recognition of 25 years of providing the community with auto, home, business, property, life and health insurances.

Magnolia West in Downtown Salisbury Celebrates Opening with Ribbon Cutting

On Wednesday, on April 16, the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce joined Suzanah Cain, owner, and her son Jack Cain at Magnolia West for an official ribbon cutting celebrating their new store in downtown Salisbury.

Suzanah shared with our guests “I have always loved going to antiquing and going to thrift stores, and this is something I have always wanted to do. It is therapy for me. We opened in November 2024 and son, Jack, runs the store from Tuesday to Saturday. We are getting ready to receive our Mother’s Day and summer merchandise, but if you are looking for something specific, I can always get it for you. We also can get pieces upholstered for you. We are thrilled to open this store here in Salisbury and be part of the revitalization process of our beautiful downtown.”

Magnolia West is a charming retail store offering a curated collection of vintage-inspired, boho home goods, decor, and unique finds.

Guests enjoyed light fare provided by Roadie Joe’s Bar and Grill, and a giveaway gift and planting seed for everyone who attended.

Caribbean Express Market Celebrates New Store with Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

On April 22, the SACC and its members joined Jean Michel Charites, owner and CEO of Caribbean Express Market in the official ribbon cutting ceremony for their new, bigger and better store!

Charites shared with us “Thank you for joining us. With the grace of God, hard work, our great associates, perseverance, and the support of the Wicomico County community we have been able to thrive. It has not been easy; and I travel much to be able to bring the products that my customers want. I want to say thanks to my wife who is always supporting me, and to Sindy Seraphin for her continuous help and sharing with me the many benefits of joining the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce.”

Caribbean Express Market opened in March 2001, at the much smaller store at 223 Florida Ave. With the growth of the Caribbean community in Salisbury, Charites soon realized they needed a bigger store that would be able to offer a better variety of products from Haiti, Jamaica, Latin America and Africa to satisfy their customer’s needs. Customers can find fresh produce, a variety of grocery items, frozen ethnic products, and beauty products.

Guests sampled Haitian mushroom rice, goat, and other delicacies. Door prizes included beautiful charcuterie boxes created by Amazing Creations.

To discover all they have to offer, visit Caribbean Express Market at 226 Florida Avenue in Salisbury, MD.
