Magnolia Springs Mayor Bob Holk resigns; Kim Koniar voted to fill position

By JESSICA VAUGHN

MAGNOLIA SPRINGS — Mayor Bob Holk of Magnolia Springs officially resigned from his position as of Oct. 14. Councilmember Kim Koniar was voted to fill the position of Magnolia Springs mayor for the remainder of the term, leaving her previous seat one position vacant. Though the resignation may seem sudden, it was something Holk believes is the right move. “I’d already made up my mind that I was not going to run for reelection, and I’d told people as much so that they would know and could make their plans,” he said. “I look at this as a positive thing. I have no regrets, it just seemed like the timing was right.” Holk was among the committee who helped form the town over ten years ago, and has served on the council in some fashion for thirteen years, almost since the town’s incorporation. He said he isn’t burned out or tired of serving, but due to a few recent developments he believes it’s in the town’s best interest for him to step down at this time. “One major reason is that a little over a year ago I pur-

DAPHNE — City officials closed Tranquility Massage after police arrested the owner and an employee on prostitution charges.

The Daphne City Council voted 6-1 Monday night to revoke the business license of the business on US 98 after police reported that an undercover officer has a sex act performed on him for money at the location.

The owner of Tranquility Massage, Sheng Yun Zhou, 49, of Daphne, was charged with second-degree promoting prostitution, a felony, on Sept. 19. She is free on $5,000 bond, according to Baldwin County Correction Center records.

The investigation of the Daphne business began after a Foley undercover officer reported a similar incident at another business owned by Zhou, Ocean Massage on Alabama 59 in Foley, Daphne Police Sgt. Jason Vannoy said.

The Foley City Council revoked the business license for Ocean Massage on Oct. 7.

LOXLEY — Seniors gathered at the S.A.I.L. Center in Loxley on Monday to hear some big news. “We were going over the budget for the next fiscal year and included were some rather large expenses for repairs for the S.A.I.L. Center,” said Baldwin County Commission District 3 representative Billy Jo Underwood. “So, I said, why not just build a new building.” Commissioners were able to work together to budget $150,000 to build a new center, which will be located on one acre of land acquired by the sioner of agriculture and industries and a program board member, said.

"There's an opportunity for us to brand Alabama products. I'm convinced that people will local over any other word. They'll buy local over organic. They'll buy local over non-GMO. It resonates with consumers," Pate said. "We know we've met with enough grocer buyers, from Walmart, from Publix, from Piggly Wiggly, from others that say they'll take everything we can get them and so this is about now getting enough out there to start putting on shelves."

Agriculture contributes $70 billion a year to the Alabama economy with 600,000 state jobs connected to the industry, board member Horace Horn of Powersouth Energy Cooperative, said. He said promoting that industry is a benefit for farmers, consumers and the economy. "We see it as a win, win, win," he said.

Joel Sirmon of Sirmon Farms, said joint efforts have always helped farmers and the community.

"If it wasn't for good help, good employees, good neighbors, we probably couldn't make this go because as we all know it takes everybody," Sirmon said.

Ellie Watson, director of the Sweet Grown Alabama, said the program will be a label that farmers are able to use on their Alabama-grown produce, container plants any kind of good that's grown the state of Alabama is eligible for membership. "Farmers will pay a small licensing fee to join our program and then get access to that logo as well as an online database that they can use to promote their products grown in the state," she said.

Members will be included in an online searchable database coming spring 2020, she said. "This will be a tool for consumers to locate high-quality Sweet Grown Alabama products near them and will drive traffic to farms, markets, stores and restaurants sourcing local products," she said.

Annual dues are determined on a sliding scale based on farm or company annual sales. Dues range from $100 for a business making less than $50,000 a year to $4,800 for a business making over $10 million.

Membership applications for farmers, value-added product makers and associates are available online at www.sweetgrownalabama.org.

MASSAGE

"We come to you this evening asking you to consider revoking the business license of Tranquility Massage based on the fact that it was basically operating as a den of prosecution," Vannoy told Daphne City Council members.

Josh O'Neal, Zhou's lawyer, asked the council to allow the business to remain open if she made changes to make sure all laws were followed. He said the workers who broke the law were contract employees. He said the nature of the massage business requires that customers and workers be in private, making it difficult to supervise their activities.

"It's her position that she's been in business here for a couple of years. No problems prior and these are the acts of her employees," O'Neal said. "She does desire to comply with the laws and run a business that complies with the laws that's suitable for the public and doesn't engage with these things, these acts of her employees."

Councilman Ron Scott said that under Daphne city ordinances, a business owner is responsible for what happens at her establishment.

"We've got a situation where an act was committed which was illegal in our municipality and the fact that the owner was not the person does not really seem to be germane under our ordinance," Scott said.

"They are responsible for the activities of their agents, employees or contract employees."

Council President Pat Rudicell was the only council member to vote against the revocation. During the hearing, he said no one had yet been convicted and questioned whether the council should take action before Zhou was declared guilty.

"Being accused and being arrested and being convicted does not sometimes go in a straight line," Rudicell said.

You should have been here yesterday! How many times have you heard that? These autumn days can really bring quite different conditions on a day-by-day basis, so that old adage can really ring true at this time of year. One day the water is clean and the bull reds are biting. The next, a wind shift dirties up the water and the bite (along with the water temperature) turns cold.

In recent weeks there has been steady action on the inshore scene with redfish, speckled trout, white trout and flounder leading the way. The shallows along the eastern shore of Mobile Bay have been producing good catches. Anywhere from the Blakely River south to Daphne, Fairhope, Weeks Bay and Bon Secour Bay are good starting points. Also, don't forget little lagoon in Gulf Shores...a sometimes forgotten fishery with great potential! Live shrimp is a tried and true favorite local bait...but be prepared for shortages. We are getting closer to the "slow season" on live shrimp so supplies could occasionally be running low. If you're heading out there, call ahead for bait availability, good luck and be safe.

Pumpkin lore of the season

By DOOLEY BERRY

Finally Mother Nature has allowed us to turn the calendar from the blistering heat of a very long summer to the cooler, albeit shorter, days of October. Fresh, cooling breezes are beginning to be blown in on these more moderate days. Leaves are falling and pumpkins add color to neighborhoods all over the county.

I love to drive up to my favorite farmers' market and find myself being greeted by row upon row of the cheery orange fruits. Since they do contain their own seeds, pumpkins are definitely fruits, not vegetables. They are actually winter squash and are very popular as seasonal decorations. Their round, smooth and slightly ribbed surface along with today's startling range of color—from deep yellow to Halloween orange, white, even to shades of pink and blue, provide a welcoming riot of color to herald in the autumn season.

From beloved Linus, waiting each Halloween in the pumpkin patch for the Great Pumpkin's arising to the Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow tossing his pumpkin head at Ichabod Crane, there seems to be a strong connection in folklore and popular culture and the supernatural during this time of year.

Benevolent pumpkins still sitting in the field seem to be nothing more than festive harbingers of the season until someone carves a face on them. Then things change. Malicious grins and glowing heads stimulate the imaginations of both young and old alike as the Halloween holiday creeps closer.

To some, pumpkins have become beloved symbols of a romanticized rural past associated with the bounty of harvest.

Around the world, pumpkins are grown for a variety of reasons, ranging from agricultural purposes, such as animal feed, to commercial and ornamental sales. Of all seven continents, only Antarctica is unable to produce pumpkins. Pumpkins are native to North America where they are used for both food and seasonal decoration. Native Americans used pumpkins as a staple in their diets for centuries before the first Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock.

Pumpkins are versatile and can be used in many ways in cooking. They are 90 percent water and most parts are edible—the flesh, the shell, seeds, leaves and even the flower.

When ripe, this tasty orange fruit can be baked, boiled, steamed or roasted. During a traditional autumn harvest, pumpkin flesh can be mashed to find its way into delicious soups and purees and often shines as the most cherished pie on the Thanksgiving table. The seeds are often roasted and eaten as a healthy snack.

The practice of carving pumpkins into jack-o'-lanterns is supposed to have originated in Ireland with a farmer named Stingy Jack. He came upon the idea of carving scary faces onto some of the pumpkins in his field to keep thieves from stealing his precious fruits.

Pumpkins were even, at one time, a recommended treatment for removing freckles and curing snake bites.

As one of the most popular crops grown in the United States, 1.5 billion pounds of pumpkin are produced each year in the pumpkin producing states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and California. Eighty percent of our pumpkin supply is naturally available in October. They are usually planted in early July in the pumpkin-producing states and like to be grown in soil that holds water well.

The common orange color that we associate with most pumpkins derives from the orange pigment abundant in them. They are full of beta carotene which helps generate vitamin A.

With autumn's arrival (finally) and both Halloween and Thanksgiving just around the corner, plan to include this most versatile sym-

County Commission on Longview Drive, off of County Road 49, south of Loxley.

“We didn’t intend on moving the center out of this community,” Underwood said. The current S.A.I.L. Center sits on land owned by the Baldwin County Board of Education, the original site of Ellisville School. “We want this to still be a part of the community and want it to be used by the entire community and be a vital part of the community.”

The County Commission recently finalized plans to build a new S.A.I.L. Center in the Little River Community of North Baldwin County, Underwood said, and the amount set aside for the new Loxley facility is approximately what is being spent on that facility.

“That’s what we based in the number on,” she said. “This is really just in the beginning planning stages. We really don’t have building plans yet for the facility, the size or a definite timeline for construction. We do know that it is in this year’s budget and we are hoping to have it completed sometime during this fiscal year.”

While officials with the S.A.I.L. Center were not sure how long the facility had served Loxley, it is believed that the building has been used in that capacity since the early 1980s, said Loxley S.A.I.L. Center Director Betty Dryden.

Working with the George P. Thames Adult Activity Center in Robertsdale, the facility serves as a staging point to deliver hot meals to homebound seniors.

“The facility has to maintain a minimum delivery of 25 meals in order to receive state funding,” said Baldwin County Council on Aging Director Kelly Childress. “Right now, between this facility and Robertsdale, more than 40 meals are being delivered on a daily basis.”

Underwood said all of the commissioners work together to provide service to all the citizens of Baldwin County.

“Don’t just thank me,” she said. “This is a coordinated effort by all of our County Commission.”

This is something, however, Underwood said, that is close to her heart.

“I grew up in Summerdale and my brother is the mayor of Summerdale,” she said. “The Summerdale S.A.I.L. Center has served the residents there for more than 40 years, so when I heard that there are facilities which serve under the county, I wanted to make sure we do everything we can to get them what they need.”

Also on hand for the announcement were Loxley Mayor Richard Teal and Mayor Pro Tem Kasey Childress.

“I just want to say how much we appreciate the County Commission for making the commitment to build this new facility,” Teal said, “and for making it possible for this facility to better serve the residents of Loxley.”

on the river,” Holk said. “It’s a great piece of property, I feel it’s something that needs to be involved in the growth of Magnolia Springs, but I never dreamed it would become so contentious.”

Over the course of the year, the property has been a focus during numerous council meetings, with citizens voicing concerns over an added driveway leading to the river, the adverse effects such a construction could have on the river, and the property’s commercial zoning potentially leading to a business construction being built, such as a bed and breakfast or a mixed-use facility. Holk stated that he’s spent the last year on the development of the property, and now after closing on two large pieces of property he plans to put more focus on developing the land behind Jesse’s.

“I feel as I’ve done everything in the right concerning the property, but it’s still been contentious,” he said. “Part of my decision to resign is because I don’t want to spend a whole year putting the council in turmoil. By being mayor it’s very difficult to sit up there and run the meeting during public comment in this particular situation; it made it almost impossible for me to really defend myself. I’m personally excited and anxious to do something special with the property, but I know that not everyone will be happy. I think it’s only fair to the town and mainly the councilmembers that me not being mayor will hopefully take some of the heartache off of them.”

Holk cited another reason for his resignation was the council’s recent decision to purchase the property 12395 Magnolia Springs Highway to be remodeled into a new town hall and library. Although the majority of the council was behind the decision, Holk says he had his concerns over the purchase and wished “more time had been taken to explore other opportunities.” He says the original comprehensive plans for the town had the town center closer to Jesse’s Restaurant, and he wanted more citizen input before the final decision was made.

“The property purchase may be the best decision ever, and I hope that it is and that it works out to be great,” he said. “But as mayor I think it’s going to take a lot of work, and I think it deserved somebody who’s 100% behind it—that’s what the mayor needs to be. Though I would certainly do everything that the majority voted to do, I don’t know that my heart was in it.”

He says that with this decision, he doesn’t plan on leaving the Springs anytime soon, and he and his wife Lolly are remaining in town to support the future of the town and the council.

“I want to thank the citizens of Magnolia Springs for allowing me to serve on the council and then as mayor, and I’m looking forward to the future of the town,” he said. “The town is probably just as financially strong as any town in Baldwin County based on population and budget, so that’s a great thing. I think we’ve got a very dedicated group of councilmembers and I’m sure whoever they choose to come on board with them will be the same. There’s no doubt in my mind that each one of them is looking to do the very best for Magnolia Springs.”

With a seat now vacant, the council is asking anyone who is interested in serving on the council to submit letters of interest to Jenny White, Town Clerk/Treasurer, at clerkms@gulftel.com or by regular mail to the Town of Magnolia Springs, PO Box 890, Magnolia Springs, AL 36555. Those interested must be a registered voter and a resident within the Town of Magnolia Springs town limits. Letters will be accepted up until Tue., Nov. 19 at 5 p.m., and the appointment of the position will be made during the Nov. council meeting that same day.

eMINTS: Changing the way teachers reach students

By JESSICA VAUGHN

FOLEY — Over the last decade, teachers have been utilizing a program that shows them new and exciting ways to reach their students: eMINTS.

“Most people think of eMINTS as a technology program, but that’s not what it is,” said Education Technology Support Services Coordinator Jeremy King. “It’s a professional development course that works with teachers to understand how to use technology correctly in their classrooms. Teachers learn how to build and teach lessons that harness the power of what they have in their classroom and use it with their students.”

eMINTS started out as a way for teachers to not only learn more about technology in schools, but to help with receiving new computers for classrooms. Over time that transformed into something much larger, giving teachers new tools to engage students in lessons. eMINTS is a two-year process during which teachers and administrators go to eMINTS classes twice a month for four-hour sessions. The majority of classes take place at night when teachers are off-duty from the schools, but as the demand for eMINTS certification has grown daytime classes have been added where available. Night course attendees are given a small stipend for gas, dinner expenses, childcare expenses, and the extra work hours. Currently there are five nighttime classes going, with approximately 22 teachers and admins in each.

There are four key components involved: community building, high-quality lesson design, authentic learning, and power by technology. As part of the plan, certified eMINTS teachers have the ability to receive their National Board Certification. There are approximately 150 certified eMINTS teachers in Baldwin County after ten years of courses being offered.

“One of the things teachers learn is the kids are part of the community they’re in,” King said. “One of the first things we teach is not how to teach the lessons, but how to get your kids involved in what you’re doing so they feel like they’re part of the community and they’re comfortable.” eMINTS courses teach how to organize group work, giving students the chance to develop life skills in teamwork and organization to benefit them in the future. To this end, teachers are instructed on making decisions based off each individual lesson: some lessons may be taught in the traditional method of reading from the class book while other lessons may take place with kids standing in separate groups before charts or working together with desks turned to face one another.

Certified eMINTS teachers don’t always do things in a traditional manner. Desks may be put together, or not utilized in a lesson at all, to bring students closer together in a learning environment.

“The big trick of the program is to learn how to make your classroom what the kids need, not what you need in your classroom,” said King. “Sometimes desks are facing each other, sometimes they have bean-bags, it varies classroom to classroom. It all looks different depending on what those kids at that grade level at that school need at that time.”

Students are given the chance to develop classroom Norms, such as ‘respect one another,’ or ‘work as a team.’ At the same time, teachers keep journals to reflect on individual lessons, detailing what worked, what didn’t, and their personal thoughts on how a lesson went. In this way, teachers are able to reflect on what they’ve learned, exactly as students are doing.

“A lot of people ask if eMINTS change test scores, and a lot of factors go into that so I can’t say,” King said. “What I can say is that teachers repeatedly tell us the kids in their class like being there, there’s less absenteeism, the students are more engaged in what they’re learning, meaning they’re in school and they’re participating. Since the four-part project began

eMINTS also assists teachers on any grade level, as once you learn the courses the lessons you leave with can be applied no matter what grade you’re teaching. For teachers who switch schools, grades, or even those who move on to work in the school library or as a school administrator, the lessons taught in eMINTS still apply. While teachers still have to learn the new academics or job duties, the skills they obtain during eMINTS training are transferable.

“That’s what is so great about the program, it’s not a curriculum,” King said. “The State of Alabama sets our curriculum and that’s what we teach, but eMINTS is how you teach it. When planning a lesson the first thing you look at is the Alabama standards that you’re trying to cover, then you ask how you are going to teach those standards. You’ve got 50 different ways to choose, but which one is going to work best for those kids?”

On Friday evening, Oct. 18, 2019, Mrs. Bernice "Niecey" Hare was surrounded by her loving family as she transitioned from this life and received her heavenly reward. She was 74 years young.

Bernice was born on March 16, 1945 in McCullough, Alabama as the fifth of 11 children to Mr. Willie Lee Johnson Sr. and Mrs. Pearlie Mae Johnson. Bernice grew up in the southern Alabama region and resided in Daphne Alabama during her formative years.

She attended St. Mary's Catholic School and graduated from Baldwin County Training School in 1964.

She met, Elbert M. Hare, the love of her life, when she was 16 years old and married him in December 1963, and they remained so for more than 55 years until the date of her departure.

Bernice supported Elbert as a military wife and traveled the world with him during their nearly 30 years of honorable military service.

She was employed in various lines of work that gave her joy. She managed a military fitness gym in Mannheim, Germany. She bagged groceries at the military commissary in North Carolina. She was the marketing representative at the local newspaper in Trenton New Jersey. She was an entrepreneur and business woman, launching a boarding house, a night club and bar, a thrift shop, an import/export car shipping service and an adult assistant care home in Alabama, Georgia, Virginia and North Carolina. She retired from nursing at The Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Hampton, Virginia in 2012.

She effortlessly accomplished all of these things while still finding the time to be a Boy Scout Den mother for her son and an avid band booster parent for her daughters.

Bernice loved sporting events. She was a football fan and played softball with various adult leagues over the years. She loved to ride bikes and roller skate. As a youngster, she would perform various gymnast and athletic activities with her sisters.

She loved gardening and respected nature. She loved animals and took great joy in caring for her pets and the surrounding wildlife. She made lasting friendships with countless people in various states and countries. She had an adventurous and fearless personality.

She was fascinated with airplanes, trains, large engines, aircraft carriers, fast cars, and semi trucks. She loved the ocean and the beach. She was a gifted sketch artist, leaving her original works on notes and cards to her loved ones.

Bernice was a huge country music fan and included Loretta Lynn, Pasty Cline and Dolly Parton among her favorite artists. Bernice was also a wonderful singer and songwriter. She was a self-taught piano player.

She attended a music writing and publishing workshop in Nashville, Tennessee, where she received positive reactions for songwriting techniques. She lent her voice to church choirs and often sang at the request of her patients at the VA hospital.

Bernice was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in 1987. She humbly shared her testimony and joy with those she encountered in her day-to-day life. She was a faithful and obedient servant. She accepted each calling and task with an open mind and a joyful heart.

Her most fulfilling experiences included a trip to Jerusalem, where she was able to walk on the same path as her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. She truly lived her life in service. She was always available to provide help and understanding to those in need.

Her beautiful smile and warm welcoming nature drew people to her. Her counsel was respected and treasured.

Bernice was dedicated and devoted to her family and her community. She loved spending time with her husband, children and grandchildren.

She encouraged and support each one in their dreams and aspirations. She led by example and instilled in her children the value of hard work, respect for authority and faith in God.

Southern Fox Festival in November

Submitted

The Southern Fox Festival hosted at the Veranda at the Preserve in Elberta will be held on Saturday, Nov. 2 with proceeds to benefit Mary's Shelter Gulf Coast.

The day begins at 9 a.m. at Soldier Creek Golf Course with a four-person scramble shotgun start golf tournament. Tickets are $65 per person and include lunch and a beverage ticket. Smokey B's BBQ will provide the food for the event. To sign up call 986-TOFF (8633).

The Fall Festival begins at 1 p.m. and includes a harvest market, arts and crafts, food trucks, Kids Zone and live music from local bands. The family friendly event is free, but donations will be accepted. Food may be purchased at the food trucks which include Bleu's Burgers, Greens n Grains and Gourmet Waffle Bar and Bakery and the unique Foam Coffee Cart.

At 6 p.m. the big bands take the stage for listening and dancing. Bonfires and other special events are planned.

A special vine planting will take place in the afternoon. The vines will eventually provide Muscadine grapes that will be used at the Southern Fox Winery. A descendant of the Woerner farming family, event organizer Blake Woerner Higgins, recalls the many times she and her Dad picked the grapes in their backyard and ate them straight from the buckets.

Known for their special turf, the Woerners turned some of their acreage in Elberta into a golf course. Blake quickly found she didn't have the "golf gene", but she wanted to continue the Woerner legacy, being an integral part of the Elberta landscape.

She studied the Muscadines and found they were called southern fox grapes with female varieties named "Higgins", her married name. Blake decided she wanted to start a winery and have a venue for weddings, fam-

Legend of Sleepy Hollow gallops into Daphne this weekend

Did you hear that? Did you see that? The “Legend of Sleepy Hollow” has arrived in Daphne for one weekend only.

Students with Bay Area Performing Arts will present the ghostly tale Friday at 7 p.m., Saturday at 2 p.m. and again at 7 p.m. and finally Sunday at 2 p.m. and again at 7 p.m. The production is directed by Tara Knight.

The show is the first production to take place in the group’s newly finished theatre. Staff and volunteers spent months transforming a Daphne warehouse into a fully functioning theatre. The venue is located at 8724 Rand Ave. in Daphne.

Tickets are available at www.eventbrite.com.

One Fairhope foodie Prosciutto Cheddar Quiche

Fall is one of my favorite times of year on the Gulf Coast. After a long hot Summer, it is time for the humidity and heat to go back where it came from. Most of us long for the cooler temperatures and a steady breeze that does not feel like a hot blow dryer. We long to sit on the porch sipping a sweet tea or bourbon without working up a sweat.

As much as we love our summer sports and activities a healthy dose of July and August has cured us. By the time mid-August has arrived we have thrown in the towel and start praying for cooler temps to save us. During this transition from Hades to weather sent from heaven above, we start using our ovens again. And its high time because everyone is tired of eating out, cold salads and sandwiches.

MIMI WOODHAM
Dining with Mimi

Quiches are an easy meal to serve for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Typically, I will make two at a time to use one now and place one in the freezer. Whether you call it quiche or egg pie, this dish will satisfy any hungry appetite. Recipe is easy to make ahead and reheat in oven or pop in microwave for 30 seconds.

Whether you have a busy work week or a house full of little ones, time is always in short supply. The One Fairhope Foodie Prosciutto Cheddar Quiche recipe will help with those busy mornings. Swap prosciutto for ham if you want to reduce the cost. I love the full flavor of Chipotle but this cheese may also be swapped for your favorite. Include a soup or salad with quiche to serve for lunch.

Cooking a quiche for breakfast is one of my favorites. What is your favorite breakfast to serve for company? Please let me know if you have any questions about cooking, I look forward to hearing from you.

Love from Mimi's Kitchen,

The American Autism and Rehabilitation Center hosts this event for families with special needs in our community who feel that their child's unique differences prevent them from participating in fall festivals or other trick or treating events. Children in Baldwin and Mobile County are invited to tour our center for trick-or-treating. Families will follow a set route through our facility and each child will receive candy or trinkets at every stop. This set-up is ideal for children who tend to elope or become overwhelmed easily. Costumes are welcome but not required in hope that every child with sensory-processing difficulties will feel included. The employees at American Autism and Rehabilitation Center decorate all our doors in the facility, and our staff dresses up in friendly costumes.

Former Fairhope Pirate Tevin Brown to lead Murray State basketball

receivers in the NFL. Now the spotlight is on former Fairhope Pirate and current Murray State Racers sophomore guard Tevin Brown. Last season, Brown was one of the top performers for a Racers' team that went 28-5 and won the Ohio Valley Conference regular season (with Belmont) and Conference Tournament Championship. As a freshman, Brown accounted for 11.8 points per game (third highest on the team) on a .414 field-goal percentage and .372 from 3-point percentage as well as 4.7 rebounds per game, 2.3 assists per game, and 1.1 steals per game. Brown played and started in all 33-games as one of the top back-court players. The Racers also had talent in Ja Morant. Last season, he averaged 24.5 points per game, 5.7 rebounds and 10 assists. But Ja Morant would end up being selected second overall in the 2019 NBA Draft by the Memphis Grizzlies.

Guard Shaq Buchanan also departs through graduation. With Brown being the top returning scorer, the team will fall on his shoulders and shooting ability to compete for potentially a third-straight OVC Tournament Championship and another appearance in the NCAA Tournament. In the three preseason games in the Bahamas, Brown averaged 5.7 rebounds per game and more than 21 points per game. The Racers will play their last exhibition game against the Martin Methodist Redhawks on Monday, Nov. 4. They will tip-off their 2019-20 season against the Southern University Jaguars on Saturday, Nov. 9.

Baldwin Business

OCTOBER 25, 2019

Plant the seeds for your business to grow now

Fall is in the air, what a great time to start developing plans for the New Year! In business, we have to plant seeds like the generations of Baldwin Countians before us. What are you growing next year? Have you thought about selling your product or service to the government? Did you know that NASA is conducting a Business Procurement Forum in Mobile for companies in Coastal Alabama? It is

Know Yo! Business

next week, Wednesday, Oct. 30 at the Renaissance Mobile Riverview Plaza Hotel from 8 a.m. – 3 p.m. Businesses will have the opportunity to connect with NASA Marshall Space flight Center, Johnson space Center, Stennis Space Center, NASA shared Services Center and support prime contractors. Yes, large prime contractors provide company bidding opportunities too. The registration deadline is TODAY! So, contact Brenda Rembert at 251-431-8607 to register, now.

As a creative type or maker, have you ever thought about how to market your products? You have a story with each piece but wondered how to make the connection? Here's an opportunity to learn, no cost seminar provided by the Alabama SBDC. "Connecting Art & Audience" with Ibiyinka Alao, United Nations Ambassador of the Arts from Nigeria will be Nov. 6, 1 – 3 p.m., at the Orange Beach Adult Activity Center, space is limited and pre-registration is required at <https://asbdc.eccenter-direct.com/events/8355>, a tour following at the Coastal Art Center of Orange Beach. Make reservations today!

Marketing today, always includes social media posts. Is your business getting the coverage you need in the medium? Posting a sale item or same type of post too often causing less engagement resulting in less views is common. Use information from this article each week to engage your online audience. Identify the interest of your audience and connect them with "awareness" campaigns, events, information that is of importance. When an individual engages with your posts then they see your post and so will their friends. Stop sending your post in the death spiral of no likes and no friends. Make a plan of what awareness campaigns are each month of the year and connect to your customers with engaging posts. What's all the "pink" about this month? Breast cancer awareness. Did you see all of those guys in pink shirts and ties at the football game?

Plant the seeds now to grow your business in 2020.

Continuing the legacy of greatness

A full ten years before Alabama became a state, the residents of Baldwin County were already established and working towards crafting a community that their great, great grandchildren could be proud of.

Here we are, 210 years later. And we think those settlers who worked to turn this area into a prosperous, bustling community wouldn't just be proud, they would be amazed.

The cities and towns of Baldwin County routinely top national lists of best places for business, families, vacation and retirement. Our towns continue to attract national and international attention as industries move their headquarters here.

Our schools continue to improve and score in the top tiers of the Alabama State Department of education report cards with both Orange Beach and Fairhope Elementary schools scoring 99 out of 100 on their state report cards this month.

There is no doubt that the tradition of hard work and dedication set forth by our first settlers helped to forge this road of success.

This year, as the state of Alabama celebrates its 200th anniversary, many municipalities and organizations within Baldwin County are also marking milestones.

Prodisee Pantry

marked 15 years while Ecumenical Ministries celebrated 50 years of feeding hungry neighbors. Both the Central Baldwin Middle School and the Lighthouse of Baldwin County both just celebrated 25 years together. Boy Scout Troop 47 in Fairhope recently marked its place as the oldest, continuous troop in the state, operating for just over 90 years.

Many municipalities are also throwing parties decades in the making. Loxley is approaching its 200th anniversary while Fairhope is preparing to mark 125 years by the bay. Baldwin EMC recently celebrated 80 years of serving Baldwin County residents practically from the day the lights were first turned on in many places.

As we look to the future we need to remember how those who came before us worked every day to make Baldwin County a place that we love to live and continue that legacy of greatness.

Rick Pate, Will Ainsworth, Jack Hawkins

We have two men who were elected to statewide constitutional offices last year, who seem to be doing a good job. They are both working quietly and diligently in their new posts.

Rick Pate was sworn in as the state's Agriculture Commissioner in January. He followed John McMillan, who served eight years as Agriculture Commissioner. McMillan took a nonpolitical, hardworking, business-like approach. Pate seems to have taken a page from his friend McMillan and appears to have the same non-flamboyant, business-like approach to the job.

Rick Pate is a lifetime farmer who seems to have been perfectly scripted for the role of Agriculture Commissioner of Alabama. My observation of Alabama politics is that Alabamians have a way of ascertaining who the real farmer is in the Ag Commission race. Even urban voters tend to select the man who is an agri-business man.

Rick Pate fits that bill as an agri-business man. He wants to do a good job as Commissioner of Agriculture and not appear to have his eye on a higher office or in other words, use the job as a stepping stone. He will more than likely serve two four-year terms managing this large and important department and retire to the farm.

Rick Pate was born 62 years ago, and grew up working on his family's cattle and poultry operations in Lowndes County. With his roots in agriculture, it was a natural choice for him to attend Auburn University. He received his Bachelor's Degree in Ag and Horticulture from Auburn in 1978.

Pate started and ran a successful landscape company in Montgomery for 36 years. However, he never left his beloved home in Lowndes County. In addition to landscaping, he has a purebred Charolais cattle operation. Rick was mayor of Lowndesboro for 14 years before being elected Agriculture Commissioner. He was on the Town Council for eight years prior to becoming mayor. He has been active in the state Republican Party for decades.

Having grown up on a farm, running a business and serving as mayor of a small town, has given Pate a unique perspective to the office of Agriculture Commissioner. He has a genuine concern for the future of agriculture and the people of Alabama.

Lt. Governor Will Ainsworth is a man with a different mission. Unlike Pate, he wants to and will seek higher office. In fact, if Kay Ivey does not run for reelection in 2022, young Will Ainsworth will be a candidate for governor of Alabama, and my suggestion would be do not bet against him being elected governor.

Ainsworth is young. At 38 years old, he is one of the youngest Lt. Governors in state history. He was born and raised in Albertville in picturesque Marshall County, to parents who were self-made financially successful folks. He attended Marshall County public schools and then went on to Auburn University. He graduated from Auburn with a degree in marketing. He owns and operates the Tennessee Valley Hunting and Fishing Expo which draws more than 20,000 attendees each year.

STEVE FLOWERS

Prior to entering public service, he worked as a youth pastor at Albertville's Grace Baptist Church and was a co-founder of Dream Ranch, one of the premier hunting and fishing lodges in the United States. At age 33, he was elected to the Alabama House of Representatives where he served for one term from 2014 to 2018, prior to his election as Lt. Governor in November 2018.

After a close Republican Primary victory, he won overwhelmingly in the General Election. He actually received the most votes of any candidate for constitutional office on the General Election ballot.

Ainsworth has won the respect and admiration of many of the veteran state senators for his quick grasp of the intricate senate rules. He presides effectively and fairly. State Senator Jabo Waggoner, (R-Vestavia), who has been observing lieutenant governors for over three decades, recently said, "Will Ainsworth has learned the rules and presided better than any lieutenant governor I can remember." These same sentiments were echoed by other veteran state senators.

Will Ainsworth has a bright future in Alabama politics. It also does not hurt that he hails from the vote rich and growth centered Tennessee Valley Huntsville metro area of the state.

Troy University Chancellor Jack Hawkins, Jr. has recently celebrated 30 years as presiding officer of the Troy University System. He has done a yeoman's job over those three decades. He has left an indelible legacy in Alabama higher education history. He is the longest serving chancellor of a major university in not only Alabama but the entire nation.

See you next week.

Alabama families could lose crucial support with an inaccurate census

By HUEY HOSS MACK

Baldwin County Sheriff

Based on 30 years of law enforcement experience, I know that public safety goes far beyond simply arresting people for committing crimes. It depends on preparing kids to succeed academically so they stay away from the criminal justice system. It relies on mitigating dangers from natural disasters. And it's a lot easier to achieve when we get the resources we deserve from the federal government.

For these reasons and more, I'm very concerned Alabama is going to get shortchanged by an inaccurate 2020 Census. Here's why. The U.S. Constitution mandates that the Census be done every 10 years to ensure federal dollars are allocated fairly and efficiently. In 2010, it failed to do so by missing more than a million children across the country, most from disadvantaged families, including many in suburbs and rural areas.

Unfortunately, that could happen again. Right now, about 15 percent of Alabama's population (more than 720,000 people) lives in what the U.S. Census Bureau refers to as "hard-to-count" households. These include people in rural and isolated locations, young adults who are highly mobile, and low-income households.

With this in mind the Bureau wisely plans to use significant door-to-door canvassing and an unprecedented level of technology to reach these groups. To do so successfully, it must strengthen cyber-security and ensure its IT systems are ready for the challenge. It also has to recruit and train tens of thousands of field staff, purchase advertising, conduct special outreach to those living in college dorms, nursing homes, military barracks and prisons, and make special efforts to reach those who will inevitably be affected by natural disasters.

Of course this will cost a lot of money, but we have to recognize how much taxpayer money will be wasted if the count is imprecise. In 2015 nearly $600 billion was allocated for the programs that are tremendously important to our families, such as the National School Lunch Program, the State Children's Health Insurance Program, Head Start and other early education programs. These programs are especially important to the 250,000 Alabama children who are living in poverty.

As a sheriff, I'm also worried about the connection between funding shortfalls and crime. With empty bellies and lack of access to high-quality early childhood education like Head Start, chances are kids won't be ready to learn when they enter kindergarten. Without access to health care, they're going to miss more days of school and won't be treated for vision problems that impact academic achievement, or mental health problems that could increase the chances they'll run afoul of the law.

Natural disasters are another concern. Most longtime residents well remember the outbreak of 62 tornadoes that struck Alabama during a four day period in April of 2011, killing 240 people and injuring about 2,000. We need accurate census data to spotlight neighborhoods occupied by the elderly, the disabled, and those living in homes that don't do well in harsh weather so we can develop sound evacuation plans. We also need accurate population data to ensure we get sufficient federal funding to rebuild.

Accurate census data is also important to our overall economy because business people and other employers depend on it to understand the education levels of potential workers, household incomes and where people live. This data helps determine where to locate operations and what products to offer. It also identifies barriers and solutions to improve our schools, health care system, and transportation options that our workers rely on. All of this is cyclical – because when businesses and other enterprises succeed, they also generate more tax revenue that can be directed toward programs that improve the education, health and safety of our residents.

While the president has signed legislation to keep the government running until the middle of November, it doesn't provide the Census Bureau with enough funding to adequately budget for the activities that are required to get this done right. Building on strong bipartisan support for an accurate count, Congress should ensure full funding for the 2020 Census right now as a crucial step toward using taxpayer dollars wisely to create stronger, safer communities nationwide.

HOROSCOPES

WEEK OF OCTOBER 28, 2019

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It might not be wise to pursue goals involving others, unless you can stop impulsively rejecting new ideas. Either open your mind or wait until next week, when this "ornery" mood passes.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good time for the Bovine to be creative and practical for yourself and your surroundings. Shop wisely, not impulsively, and keep your Bull's eye focused on quality, not quantity.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You should feel more confident about moving ahead with plans that had to be delayed by an unexpected turn of events. Also, family matters might need more time than first anticipated.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Be considerate of others as you move into a new area in your professional life. Take time to meet people and discuss mutual goals. The more you get to know each other, the better.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Creating a fuss could get your ideas noticed quickly. But it would be best to present your case, and then wait for a reaction to follow in due course, rather than try to force it to happen.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Unkept promises might cause plans to go awry this week. You can either grumble about people "letting you down" or find a way to make the best of it and move on. The choice is yours.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Putting off making a commitment early in the week could be a good move. It's best to act when you know you're making an informed decision. Expect more facts to emerge by the week's end.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A recent act of kindness on your part could take on special meaning this week. Also, look for signs of upcoming changes in both your personal and professional relationships.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Many of the tougher communication barriers between you and others in the workplace or at home could begin breaking down this week. Expect some surprises to emerge.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your "tough love" attitude toward someone you care for could be misunderstood. Try to be less judgmental and show more consideration in the way you relate to that person.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An unexpected workplace challenge could be daunting. But take what you know (and you know more than you realize) and apply it to the problem, and you should see positive results.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Recent relationship changes for both single and paired Pisces continue to influence much of your week. Keep your focus on developing the positive aspects as you move along.

(a) Optional Redemption

The Warrants with stated maturities on September 1, 2030 and thereafter are subject to prior redemption, at the option of the City, in whole or in part in multiples of an Authorized Denomination, on September 1, 2027 or on any Business Day thereafter, in such principal amounts and in such order of maturities as the City shall specify and by lot within a maturity, at a redemption price for each Warrant (or principal portion thereof) redeemed equal to the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest thereon to the date fixed for redemption, without premium or penalty.

Section 6.03 Selection of Warrants for Redemption

The City may redeem less than all of the Warrants then Outstanding upon written notice thereof to the Paying Agent, by such date in advance of the proposed date of redemption as shall enable the Paying Agent, and the Securities Depository (if applicable) to comply with this Ordinance with respect thereto, which notice shall designate the order and the aggregate principal amount of maturities of Warrants (determined on the basis of the smallest Authorized Denomination so that the principal amount of each Warrant which remains Outstanding after such redemption shall be an integral multiple of an Authorized Denomination) of Warrants to be redeemed; provided:

(b) Interest shall cease to accrue on all Warrants (or portions thereof) from and after the date of redemption thereof unless default be made in payment of the redemption price therefor, whereupon interest shall continue to accrue thereon at the per annum rate prescribed therefor until such Warrant (or portion thereof) is Fully Discharged.

(d) If on any principal or Stated Interest Payment Date the amount on deposit in the Warrant Fund is insufficient to pay the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on the Warrants due and payable on such date, the City will forthwith pay any such deficiency into the Warrant Fund.

(e) The City hereby authorizes and directs the Paying Agent to pay from funds in the Warrant Fund the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on the Warrants as the same shall become due and payable.

(f) The City and Paying Agent covenant and agree that (i) all money transferred to or deposited in the Warrant Fund shall be applied to the payment of principal of, premium (if any) and interest on the Warrants within 13 months from the date of such transfer or deposit and (ii) all income and profits received from investment of money in the Warrant Fund shall be applied to the payment of principal of, premium (if any) and interest on the Warrants within 12 months from the date of receipt of such income or profits.

(g) The Paying Agent shall transfer to the City all amounts in the Warrant Fund remaining after the Warrants shall have been Fully Discharged and after all fees and expenses of the Paying Agent shall have been paid.

Section 8.04 Investment of and Security for Warrant Fund

(a) The Paying Agent shall invest money in the Warrant Fund at the written direction of the City in such Authorized Investments as shall provide that a sufficient principal amount shall mature or be redeemable at the option of the owner on or prior to the date or dates the City and the Paying Agent anticipate that money from the Warrant Fund will be required hereunder. The Paying Agent shall not be liable or responsible for any loss resulting from any such investment if made in compliance herewith.

(b) All income derived from the investment of money on deposit in the Warrant Fund shall remain therein and be credited against the next ensuing deposit specified therefor, and all losses resulting from liquidation of investments in the Warrant Fund shall be charged thereto and added to the next ensuing deposit specified therefor.

(c) The moneys at any time on deposit in the Warrant Fund shall be and at all times remain public funds impressed with a trust for the purpose for which the Warrant Fund was created. The Paying Agent shall at all times keep the moneys on deposit in the Warrant Fund continuously secured for the benefit of the City and the Owners of the Warrants, either (1) by holding on deposit as collateral security U.S. Government Obligations or other marketable securities eligible as security for the deposit of public trust funds under regulations of the Comptroller of the Currency, United States Treasury, having a market value at any date of calculation (exclusive of accrued interest) not less than the amount of moneys on deposit in the fund being secured, or (2) if the furnishing of security in the manner provided in (1) above is not permitted by Applicable Law, then in such other manner as may be required or permitted by the then Applicable Law respecting the security for, or granting a preference in the case of, the deposit of public trust funds; provided, however, that it shall not be necessary for the Paying Agent to secure any portion of the moneys on deposit in any such fund that may be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or by any agency of the United States of America that may succeed to its functions, or to secure any portion of the moneys that are invested as herein provided.

Section 8.05 Discharge and Defeasance of Warrants

(a) From and after the date on which a Warrant shall be Fully Discharged, the obligations of the City with respect to such Warrant under this Ordinance and under such Warrant shall be fully discharged, satisfied and terminated, such Warrant shall be cancelled as provided in Section 8.06, and such Warrant shall not be entitled to any benefits under this Ordinance.

(b) A Warrant shall be deemed “Fully Discharged” if:

(1) such Warrant has been delivered to the Paying Agent for cancellation, or shall have been canceled by the Paying Agent under Section 8.06; or

(2) such Warrant shall have matured or been called for redemption, and amounts sufficient for the payment of the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on such Warrant are then held by the Paying Agent for the benefit of the Owner entitled thereto; or

(3) such Warrant is alleged to have been mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen and shall have been replaced as provided in Article 7; or

(4) a trust for the payment of such Warrant shall have been established in accordance with Section 8.05(c).

(c) The City may provide for the payment of any of the Warrants by establishing a separate, irrevocable trust fund (herein a “defeasance trust fund”) for such purpose with the Paying Agent, for the exclusive and sole benefit of the Owners of the Warrants to be paid therefrom, and depositing therein cash or U.S. Government Obligations which (assuming the due and punctual payment of the principal of and interest on such U.S. Government Obligations) will provide funds sufficient to pay the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on such Warrants as the same becomes due and payable until the maturity or redemption of such Warrants; provided, however, that:

(1) Such U.S. Government Obligations must not be subject to redemption prior to their respective maturities at the option of the issuer thereof;

(2) If any of such Warrants are to be redeemed prior to their respective maturities, either (i) the Paying Agent shall receive evidence that notice of such redemption has been given in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and such Warrants or (ii) the City shall confer on the Paying Agent irrevocable authority for the giving of such notice on behalf of the City; and

(3) The Paying Agent shall have received (i) an Opinion of Counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters stating in effect that upon the occurrence of an Act of Insolvency, money and investments in such defeasance trust fund will not be subject to any preference claim under the Federal Bankruptcy Code, and (ii) a certificate of an Auditor to the effect that the funds on deposit in such defeasance trust fund and the income therefrom without reinvestment will be sufficient to pay when due the principal of, premium if any and interest on such Warrants.

(d) The Paying Agent may invest any investment proceeds received by the Paying Agent in a defeasance trust fund in U.S. Government Obligations.

(e) The Paying Agent shall apply all amounts in a defeasance trust fund solely for the payment of the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on the Warrants with respect to which such fund was established.

Section 8.06 Cancellation of Surrendered Warrants

All Warrants surrendered for payment, redemption, transfer, exchange or replacement shall be promptly cancelled and destroyed by the Paying Agent.

Section 8.07 Expenses of Collection

The City hereby covenants and agrees that, if the principal of and interest on the Warrants are not paid promptly as such principal and interest matures and comes due, it will pay to the Owners of the Warrants all expenses incident to the collection of any unpaid portion thereof, including reasonable attorneys’ fees.

The City covenants and agrees:

(a) the Owners shall have all rights and remedies for the enforcement of the Warrants and this Ordinance as may be provided by the Governing Law; and

(b) The City hereby designates the Warrants as “qualified tax-exempt obligations” for purposes of paragraph (3) of subsection (b) of Section 265 of the Code and in connection therewith and after due investigation and consideration, finds, determines and declares that the amount of tax-exempt obligations that have heretofore during the current calendar year (2019) been issued by the City and by all subordinate entities of the City and the reasonably anticipated amount of tax-exempt obligations that will be issued by the City and its subordinate entities during the current calendar year will not exceed the sum of $10,000,000.

Section 12.05 General Authorization

ARTICLE 13

Acts of Owners; Special Agreements by Owners and Beneficial Owners of Warrants

Section 13.01 Acts of Owners; Binding Effect of Acts

(a) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by this Ordinance to be given, made or taken by Owners may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more substantially concurrent instruments of substantially similar tenor signed by such Owners in person or by an attorney or legal representative duly appointed in writing; and, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, such action shall become effective when such instrument or instruments are delivered to the Paying Agent, and, where it is hereby expressly required, to the City. Such instrument or instruments (and the action embodied therein and evidenced thereby) are herein sometimes referred to as the “Act” of the Owners signing such instrument or instruments. Proof of execution of any such instrument or of a writing appointing any such legal representative, or of the holding by any Person of Warrants, shall be sufficient for any purpose of this Ordinance and conclusive in favor of the City and in favor of the Paying Agent, if made in the manner provided in this Section.

(b) The fact and date of the execution by any Person of any such instrument or writing may be proved by the affidavit of a witness of such execution or by the certificate of any notary public or other officers authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds, certifying that the individual signing such instrument or writing acknowledged to him the execution thereof. Whenever such execution is by an officer of a corporation or a member of a partnership, or limited liability company or partnership, on behalf of any thereof, such certificate or affidavit shall also constitute sufficient proof of the authority thereof.

(c) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action by the Owner of any Warrant shall bind every future Owner of the same Warrant and the Owner of every Warrant issued upon the transfer thereof or in exchange therefor or in lieu thereof, in respect of anything done or suffered to be done by the Paying Agent or the City in reliance thereon, whether or not notation of such action is made upon such Warrant.

Section 13.02 Officers and Members of the Governing Body of the City Exempt from Personal Liability

As a condition of, and as a consideration for, the issuance of the Warrants, each Owner and Beneficial Owner agrees, by acquisition of a Warrant or a beneficial interest therein, that no covenant or agreement contained in the Warrants or in this Ordinance shall operate or be construed as a covenant or agreement of any officer, agent, employee, or member of the governing body of the City or of the Paying Agent in its individual capacity, and none of such Persons nor any officer executing the Warrants shall be liable personally on the Warrants or be subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the issuance of the Warrants and any liability of every name and nature, either at common law or in equity or by constitution or statute, and all such rights and claims against every such officer, employee, or member of the governing body of the City are irrevocably waived and released.

Section 13.03 Agreements of Beneficial Owners

The Beneficial Owners, by acquisition of a beneficial interest in a Warrant or Warrants, severally agree that the City and the Paying Agent have not undertaken, directly or indirectly, to provide, and therefore shall have no liability, obligation, or responsibility to any Person (including without limitation Beneficial Owners, Direct Participants, and Indirect Participants) for (i) the accuracy of any records maintained by the Securities Depository or any Direct Participant or Indirect Participant, or (ii) the payment by the Securities Depository or any Direct Participant or Indirect Participant of any amount due to any Beneficial Owner in respect of the principal of, interest on or premium (if any) on, any of the Warrants, or (iii) the delivery, or timeliness of delivery by the Securities Depository or any Direct Participant or Indirect Participant of any notice due to any Beneficial Owner which is required or permitted under this Ordinance to be given to such Beneficial Owner, or (iv) any Act (including without limitation any consent to, or waiver of, any action or inaction) by the Securities Depository or Securities Depository Nominee, as Owner.

Section 13.04 Contractual Agreements of Owners and Beneficial Owners

By acquisition of a Warrant or any beneficial interest therein the Owner or Beneficial Owner thereof consents to, and agrees to be bound by, the terms and provisions of this Ordinance as a contractual agreement under the laws of the State of Alabama by the City and each Owner and Beneficial Owner.

ARTICLE 14

The Paying Agent

Section 14.01 Designation of Paying Agent

The City does hereby designate and appoint Regions Bank as the depository for the Warrant Fund and as Paying Agent, Warrant Registrar and authenticating agent for and with respect to the Warrants.

Section 14.02 Payments at Par

The Paying Agent, by acceptance of its duties hereunder, shall have agreed thereby with the Owners of the Warrants that it will make all remittances of principal of, premium (if any), and interest on the Warrants from money supplied by the City for such purpose in bankable funds at par and without discount or deduction for exchange, fees or expenses. The City hereby covenants and agrees with the Owners of the Warrants and with the Paying Agent that it will pay all charges for exchange, fees or expenses which may be incurred by the Paying Agent in the making of remittances in bankable funds at par.

Section 14.03 Rights of Paying Agent

(a) The Paying Agent shall not be liable hereunder except for its noncompliance with the provisions hereof, its willful misconduct or its gross negligence.

(b) The Paying Agent:

(1) may execute any of the powers conferred on it hereunder or perform any duty hereunder either directly or through agents and attorneys in fact who are not regularly in its employ and who are selected by it with reasonable care, but it shall be responsible for the observance by such agents and attorneys in fact of the terms and conditions hereof;

(2) may consult with counsel on any matters connected herewith and shall not be answerable for any action taken or failure to take any action in good faith on the advice of counsel, provided that its action or inaction is not contrary to an express provision hereof;

(3) need not recognize a Owner of a Warrant as such without the satisfactory establishment of his title to such warrant;

(4) shall not be answerable for any action taken in good faith on any notice, request, consent, certificate or other paper or document which it believes to be genuine and signed or acknowledged by the proper party;

(5) shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for its services hereunder, including extra compensation for unusual or extraordinary services;

(6) may be the Owner of Warrants as if not Paying Agent hereunder;

(7) shall not be liable for proper application of any moneys other than those that may be paid to or deposited with it;

(8) shall not unreasonably withhold or delay any consent or approval required of it under the provisions of this Ordinance;

(9) may make any investments permitted hereby through it's own investment department or affiliated entity, and any Authorized Investments issued or held by it hereunder shall be deemed investments and not deposits;

(10) shall, upon reasonable request, advise the City of the amount at the time on deposit in any of the special funds herein created;

(11) shall have no obligation to file financing statements or continuation statements.

(c) Any action taken by the Paying Agent at the request of and with the consent of the Owner of a Warrant will bind all subsequent Owners of the same Warrant and any warrants issued hereunder in lieu thereof.

(d) All moneys received by the Paying Agent to be held by it hereunder shall be held as trust funds until disbursed in the manner herein provided therefor. The Paying Agent shall not be liable to pay or allow interest thereon or otherwise to invest any such moneys except as specifically required herein.

(e) The recitals of fact herein and in the Warrants are statements by the City and not by the Paying Agent, and the Paying Agent is in no way responsible for the validity or security of the Warrants, or the validity or enforceability of the Ordinance. The Paying Agent does, however, assume responsibility for its eligibility to accept and administer the duties created hereby, and it agrees and represents that it is duly authorized to accept and administer such duties and that the acceptance and administration by it of such duties do not violate or contravene, and are not void or voidable under, any applicable state or federal law now existing.

(f) The Paying Agent's immunities and protections from liability and its right to indemnification in connection with the performance of its duties under this Ordinance shall extend to the Paying Agent's officers, directors, agents, attorneys and employees. Such immunities and protections and rights to indemnification, together with the Paying Agent's right to compensation, shall survive the Paying Agent's resignation or removal, the discharge of this Ordinance, and final payment of the Warrants.

(g) The Paying Agent shall have the right to accept and act upon directions or instructions given by an Authorized City Representative pursuant to this Ordinance or any other document reasonably relating to Warrants issued hereunder and delivered using Electronic Means (defined below). If the City elects to give the Paying Agent directions or instructions using Electronic Means and the Paying Agent in its discretion elects to act upon such directions or instructions, the Paying Agent's understanding of such directions or instructions shall be deemed controlling. The City understands and agrees that the Paying Agent cannot determine the identity of the actual sender of such directions or instructions and that the Paying Agent shall conclusively presume that directions or instructions that purport to have been sent by an Authorized City Representative listed on the incumbency certificate provided to the Paying Agent have been sent by such Authorized City Representative. The City shall be responsible for ensuring that only Authorized City Representatives transmit such directions or instructions to the Paying Agent and that all Authorized City Representatives treat applicable user and authorization codes, passwords and/or authentication keys as confidential and with extreme care. The Paying Agent shall not be liable for any losses, costs or expenses arising directly or indirectly from the Paying Agent's reliance upon and compliance with such directions or instructions notwithstanding such directions or instructions conflict or are inconsistent with a subsequent written direction or written instruction. The City agrees: (i) to assume all risks arising out of the use of Electronic Means to submit directions or instructions to the Paying Agent, including without limitation the risk of the Paying Agent acting on unauthorized directions or instructions, and the risk of interception and misuse by third parties; (ii) that it is fully informed of the protections and risks associated with the various methods of transmitting directions or instructions to the Paying Agent and that there may be more secure methods of transmitting directions or instructions; (iii) that the security procedures (if any) to be followed in connection with its transmission of directions or instructions provide to it a commercially reasonable degree of protection in light of its particular needs and circumstances and (iv) to notify the Paying Agent immediately upon learning of any compromise or unauthorized use of the security procedures. "Electronic Means" shall mean the following communications methods: e-mail, facsimile transmission, secure electronic transmission containing applicable authorization codes, passwords and/or authentication keys, or another method or system specified by the Paying Agent as available for use in connection with its services hereunder.

Section 14.04 Resignation and Removal; Appointment of Successor

(a) The City may remove and discharge the Paying Agent from all duties imposed upon it as Paying Agent, Warrant Registrar and transfer agent by giving written notice of such removal and discharge by certified or registered mail to the Paying Agent not less than 30 days prior to the date when such removal shall take effect.

(b) The Paying Agent may resign and be discharged of all duties imposed upon it as Paying Agent, Warrant Registrar and transfer agent by giving written notice of such resignation by certified or registered mail to the City not less than 30 days prior to the date when such resignation shall take effect.

Section 14.05 Qualification of and Acceptance of Appointment by Successor

(a) If at any time the Paying Agent shall be removed, resign or be or become incapable of acting or shall be adjudged a bankrupt or insolvent or a receiver of the Paying Agent or of its property shall be appointed or any public officer shall take charge or control of the Paying Agent or of its property or affairs for the purpose of rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation, then the City shall promptly appoint a successor Paying Agent.

(b) Any successor Paying Agent shall be a bank or trust company authorized to act as Paying Agent and Warrant Registrar and having, at the time of its acceptance of such appointment, combined capital and surplus of at least $100,000,000.

(c) Every successor Paying Agent appointed hereunder shall execute, acknowledge and deliver to the City and to the retiring Paying Agent an instrument accepting such appointment and thereupon the resignation or removal of the retiring Paying Agent shall become effective and such successor Paying Agent, without any further act, deed or conveyance, shall become vested with all the rights, powers, and duties of the retiring Paying Agent.

Section 14.06 Merger or Consolidation

Any corporation into which the Paying Agent may be merged or with which it may be consolidated, or any corporation resulting from any merger or consolidation to which the Paying Agent shall be a party, or any corporation succeeding to all or substantially all of the corporate trust business of the Paying Agent, shall be the successor of the Paying Agent hereunder, without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto. In case any Warrants shall have been authenticated, but not delivered, by the Paying Agent then in office, any successor by merger or consolidation to such authenticating Paying Agent may adopt such authentication and deliver the Warrants so authenticated with the same effect as if such successor Paying Agent had itself authenticated such Warrants.

ARTICLE 15

Paranormal investigator Dakota Laden ("Ghost Adventures") takes sister Chelsea and best friend Tanner Wiseman along on this new Halloween-friendly travel series, a 10-episode road trip to some of the most reputedly haunted abandoned locations in America. The premiere finds the trio on the road to Brushy State Penitentiary in Petros, Tenn., which was known as the Alcatraz of the South in its heyday. The prison, where Martin Luther King Jr. assassin James Earl Ray was once an inmate, is said to be a hotbed of uncanny activity.

Monday Bets

- 6 p.m. on AMC
Movie: Friday the 13th
Unlike John Carpenter's "Halloween" two years earlier, which kept much of its violence suggested rather than graphic, this 1980 slasher flick really let it rip with its depiction of the gory fates handed out to a group of sexually adventurous young counselors at a summer camp where a young man drowned years earlier. Kevin Bacon is among the unlucky victims, while Betsy Palmer — best known as a daytime TV and stage musical performer at the time — is cast against type, to put it mildly.
- 7:20 p.m. on FREE
Movie: Scream 3
Life imitates art imitating life in this 2000 horror tale, the third in Kevin Williamson's "Scream" series. Neve Campbell returns to the role of Sidney Prescott, who again becomes the target of a mysterious killer. This time, the murderer also is after those playing Sidney and friends in "Stab 3," a movie about their experiences. David Arquette, Courteney Cox Arquette and Liev Schreiber also star, with Parker Posey, Emily Mortimer and Matt Keeslar as the actors.

8 p.m. on BRAVO
Below Deck

In the new episode "Weekend at Brandy's II," Brandy, a charter guest, continues stressing out the crew with her drunken antics, leading up to an emergency beach rescue. Meanwhile, Ashton begins to see weak links in his deck team when Brian breaks an expensive piece of equipment, and Tanner gets stood up for a date by another crew member. Elsewhere, Kevin manages to insult Captain Lee twice in the same evening.

8 p.m. on HBO
The Deuce

This absorbing adult drama from David Simon and George Pelecanos about the sex trade in New York's Times Square from 1971 to the mid-80s concludes with "Finish It." Sweeping changes come to The Deuce as Gene Goldman (Luke Kirby) sees a way to turn the city's public health crisis into an opportunity. Meanwhile, a weary Vincent (James Franco) desperately seeks to get out from under the mob's thumb and reconcile with Abby (Margarita Levieva). Candy (Maggie Gyllenhaal) makes a pivotal choice in her relationship with Hank (Corey Stoll).

Season 21 of this documentary series opens with Emmy- and Peabody Award-winning filmmaker Beth Aala's new "Made in Boise," a look at a surprising new industry that has emerged in this idyllic Idaho city, where nurses, nail technicians and stay-at-home moms are choosing to become paid reproductive surrogates for people from around the world. Four of those women share their perspectives as they build relationships with the intended parents, prepare for the physical demands of pregnancy and deal with mixed emotions from their loved ones.

The horrifying inferno known as the Camp Fire, the deadliest and most destructive wildfire in the history of California, started on Nov. 8, 2018, in Northern California. Now, a year later, major questions remain over who is to blame for the conflagration and why it was so catastrophic, virtually wiping out a densely populated foothill town known, ironically, as Paradise. The new episode "Fire in Paradise" draws from accounts by survivors and first responders as it seeks some answers.

9 p.m. on OWN

Bishop (Keith David) makes a bold counterstrike even as Judee Whitmore (Valerie Jane Parker) counts the board of deacons to make sure she has enough votes for her favored new governance structure in the new episode "God's Justice." Elsewhere, Phil and Charity's (Sean Blakemore, Deborah Joy Winans) relationship is jeopardized by a revelation from his past, while Jacob and Karissa (Lamman Rucker, Kim Hawthorne) try to heal old wounds between them. Grace (Merle Dandridge) faces an impossible choice.

Scripting dinner: Food on TV comedies and dramas

Just as it is often at the center of family or social gatherings, food can also serve as the catalyst for some memorable TV.

Be it a sitcom from long ago or a drama series from the present, food can spur conversation, provoke conflict or be a source of laughter. And keep viewers coming back for seconds, thirds and fourths.

The following are few that we think are noteworthy.

"M*A*S*H" (CBS, 1972-83): Amid all the complaining about Army food in this classic Korean War comedy, there was Hawkeye (Alan Alda) pining for and eventually ordering from Adam's Ribs in Chicago (but forgot to ask for the coleslaw); Klinger (Jamie Farr) waxing on about Tony Packo's hot dogs in his hometown of Toledo, Ohio; and Radar (Gary Burghoff) coming up with a Spam lamb to replace the real one he set free, lest it become the main course at a 4077th Greek festival.

"Alice" (CBS, 1976-85): By default, this sitcom about the misadventures of waitresses (Linda Lavin, Polly Holliday, Beth Howland) at a Phoenix greasy spoon diner had food built into its premise. Viewers gobbled it up like burgers and fries.

"Seinfeld" (NBC, 1989-98): For a show that was supposed to be about nothing, there certainly was a lot of food talk going on. From the "Soup Nazi" episode where there was "no soup for you!" to the fat-free yogurt that caused Jerry (Jerry Seinfeld) to pack on the pounds to the Kenny Rogers Chicken joint that kept Kramer (Michael Richards) up at night, food certainly had a significant presence — especially when you consider many scenes took place in a diner.

"Gilmore Girls" (WB Network, 2000-07): Rory and Lorelai's (Alexis Bledel, Lauren Graham) obsession with food was downright charming and provided fodder for a lot of laughs. But their diet was a tad unhealthy with marshmallows, frozen pizza and Pop Tarts serving as Gilmore staples.

"Blue Bloods" (CBS, 2010-present): The weekly Reagan family dinner has been a fixture on the drama series since its premiere nearly a decade ago. And that's real food that Frank (Tom Selleck), Danny (Donnie Wahlberg) and the rest of the clan are consuming — though the actors admit they have to pace themselves in the face of multiple takes. Pass the antacid, please.

7 p.m. on CW-55 Riverdale

In the chilling seasonal episode "Chapter Sixty-One: Halloween," ominous video recordings start turning up on Riverdale doorsteps, sending ripples of apprehension through the community. At Stonewall Prep, Jughead (Cole Sprouse) discovers several students have disappeared from the school, while Archie's (K.J. Apa) Halloween bash — designed to offer a safe space for local kids — is breached by some unwelcome party crashers. Elsewhere, Betty's (Lili Reinhart) past comes back to haunt her. Camila Mendes also stars.

7 p.m. on PARMT Movie: Dawn of the Dead

Zombies in a shopping mall — sounds like a five-word indictment of our advertising-addled consumer culture. It's also the setting of this 2004 remake of George Romero's 1979 horror classic, one of the better entries in the zombie subgenre.

8 p.m. on ABC-3 Modern Family

Halloween always has been an important holiday to the extended family at the heart of this Emmy-winning sitcom, which currently is playing out its final season. In the new "The Last Halloween," after years of failure, Phil (Ty Burrell) is determined to scare his unflappable wife, Claire (Julie Bowen), but it's Gloria (Sofia Vergara) who's feeling frightened — about her age, when, for the first time, someone correctly assumes she is married to the much-older Jay (Ed O'Neill).

8 p.m. on HBO The Bronx, USA

Alan Alda, Robert Klein, Gen. Colin Powell, Melissa Manchester, Chazz Palminteri, Carl and Rob Reiner and hip-hop artist Melle Mel are among the featured alumni of DeWitt Clinton High School's graduating class of 1949 in this nostalgic documentary from producer George Schlatter, another of their classmates. As these participants share their high school memories, a socio-cultural history of the school's borough — The Bronx — begins to emerge in this film, which also includes students from the class of 2017.

10 p.m. on TRAV American Mystery

In the new episode "Triangles," a panel of experts delve into the head-spinning mysteries of the Bermuda Triangle, while other investigators look for the source of strange sightings made by several witnesses in Massachusetts. In Bennington, Vt., a string of unexplained disappearances is thought to be the work of a homicidal madman.

OF 'THE KOMINSKY METHOD' ON NETFLIX

What attracted you to playing Madelyn, the long-ago love interest of Alan Arkin's Norman on "The Kominsky Method"?

Well, I'm a huge Chuck Lorre fan. But they called my agent and said that they wanted me to play either Michael Douglas' ex-wife or a romantic interest for Alan Arkin. So I had a meeting with Chuck for well over an hour just talking about everything, life in general and all kinds of stuff. And of course, I hadn't read anything because nothing had really been written at that point. And he said, "No, I think you should play Madelyn."

And so I came in originally just for the two episodes and Alan and I really hit it off and Chuck loved what he was seeing so it became five episodes out of the eight, which was thrilling. And it was a wonderful character and there's so much material, really, when you have people of a certain age because they've got a lot of baggage (laughs). And I think that's what's so exciting about it.

You wear a gray wig for this role, which does make you not immediately recognizable.

Yeah, but I think it is the perfect look for the character. And I think Chuck, when he first met me, said, "You maybe look too young to be with Alan." But I said, "Trust me, with the gray wig and lights in the right direction or the wrong direction, I will definitely age up. Don't worry about it." (laughs)

OF 'MODERN LOVE' ON AMAZON

You've mentioned you really liked the fast-paced filming of your episode of "Modern Love" in New York City. Can you talk about that?

Yeah, and like on the streets of New York, we did a couple pick-up days like a month later where we were just like walking along 7th Avenue in the West Village with a camera and a skeleton crew and just like doing it really bare bones. It was amazing.

Where was that apartment building where your character lived?

That was in Prospect Heights, sort of across from Grand Army Plaza. It was in Brooklyn, and what's amazing about that is I am a college dropout and when I dropped out of college, one of the jobs I had was that I was a dog-walker and I had a bunch of dogs in that building. And it was really amazing to be like there filming this. I knew that building very, very well because I walked three dogs that lived there.

So did you get the crew in with the landlord?

No, not at all. They literally were like, day one, "Here's where you have to show up." And I showed up and I was like, "Oh, I know this place very well. I know this building very well."

So the landlord wasn't even brought into it?

No, not that I know. I mean, I had nothing to do with it but it was just sort of like a beautiful kismet.

Movie: Halloweentown

Like a ghoulish Brigadoon,

A hidden town makes contact with the outside world just once a year — on Halloween. In this 1998 fantasy, Debbie Reynolds plays a witch grandma who visits her daughter's family on the only day she can, Oct. 31, to enlist their help in saving her hometown. But her daughter (Judith Hoag), who's raising her kids in the mortal world, refuses to cooperate — until the youngsters slip away on a bus to Halloweentown.

In a new Halloween episode called "Whistlin' Past the Graveyard," Alex (Justin Chambers) is feeling optimistic that he can impress investors at Pac-Gen North, until he hears decidedly unwelcome news about skeletons being unearthed at the construction site. With few other options, he asks Richard (James Pickens) to help distract the money men and women from those distasteful reports. Elsewhere, Teddy (Kim

BEST JULIE ANDREWS MOVIES

"Mary Poppins" (1964) The role that brought Andrews from Broadway to the screen also earned her an Oscar, as the Disney incarnation of novelist P.L. Travers' literally high-flying English nanny.

"The Sound of Music" (1965) Well, of course. The Rodgers & Hammerstein classic gave Andrews a milestone movie role as Maria, the novice nun turned novice governess to the Von Trapp children.

"Torn Curtain" (1966) Andrews and Paul Newman certainly delivered star power to Alfred Hitchcock's Cold War thriller about an American scientist's attempt to go behind the Iron Curtain and retrieve a vital formula.

"Hawaii" (1966) Andrews' acting is solid throughout in this epic based on the James A. Michener best-seller, with fellow "Sound of Music" alum Heather Menzies and (very briefly) Bette Midler also in the cast.

"Thoroughly Modern Millie" (1967) The genre's leading lady then, only Andrews — along with co-stars Mary Tyler Moore and Carol Channing — could sell a musical about white slavery in the Roaring '20s, which leads off Turner Classic Movies' full evening of Andrews attractions on Tuesday, Oct. 29.

"Star!" (1968) While this wasn't as successful as other musicals of hers, Andrews gave the role of performer Gertrude Lawrence her all in working again with "The Sound of Music" director Robert Wise.

"10" (1979) In another film she made with husband Blake Edwards, Andrews became the unwitting romantic rival of Bo Derek (who was made a pop-culture icon by the film) for Dudley Moore.

"Victor/Victoria" (1982) Working again with Blake Edwards, Andrews pulled off a tricky role — a struggling performer posing as a female impersonator — though co-star Robert Preston nearly steals the show, right up to the closing sequence.

"The Man Who Loved Women" (1983) Pretty much the emotional ballast of the story, Andrews made a compassionate psychiatrist to a womanizer (Burt Reynolds) in Black Edwards' version of a highly regarded French film.

"The Princess Diaries" (2001) Andrews was in fine, properly regal form in director Garry Marshall's comedy as the royal grandmother of a teen (Anne Hathaway) who didn't suspect her lineage.
"Shrek 2" (2004) The unmistakable sound of Andrews informed the character of Queen Lillian, a voice role she would reprise in two more sequels in the popular animated franchise.

"Despicable Me 3" (2017) Doing animation voiceover work again, Andrews is heard as the mother of not only Gru (voice of Steve Carell), but of his newly resurfaced twin brother Gru.
