President's Welcome

Welcome to the Alabama Gulf Coast. By selecting a boat from the Alabama Charter Fishing Association, you are assuring yourself a trip with a dedicated professional Captain. All member vessels of the Alabama Charter Fishing Association are independently owned and operated. The boats in our association are experienced full-time charter boat operators. Our members not only work to ensure you a fun, productive day on the water, but they are also committed to the long-term sustainable health of the fisheries and protecting the public's access to the fisheries.

Please feel free to contact any of our listed boats to get information on availability and pricing. We have a variety of charter vessels that can provide anything from a peaceful back bay experience to an overnight blue water adventure. Our directory will give you easy access to some of the best charter operators on the Gulf Coast. Our directory is divided into sections to make your search for the perfect boat easier. Just pick the section for your type of trip and the number of passengers in your group. We have Back Bay - Near Shore Boats, Six Pack Boats and Multi-Passenger Boats. The Back Bay and Six Pack Boats are limited to a maximum of 6 passengers. Our Multi-Passengers boats are all custom built to Coast Guard Regulations and are passenger rated according to the design specs.

On behalf of the Alabama Charter Fishing Association, I hope you have a great time here at the Alabama Gulf Coast. Enjoy the beautiful beaches, friendly people and make some fishing memories that will last a lifetime.

Sincerely,

Dale Woodruff

Passenger Trip Suggestions & Etiquette

Contributed by Captain Iris G. Ethridge

1. Dress for comfort. Bring sunscreen, a camera, sunglasses and wear shoes with soft light colored soles.
2. Avoid rich food and excessive alcohol the night before. Eat a light breakfast and if taking motion sickness medication please follow directions.
3. Bring an ample supply of eats and drinks. It is customary to bring eats and drinks for your captain and crew.
4. Please respect the boat and equipment. Your captain and crew have a lot of pride in their vessels and equipment can be costly to you if damaged or lost overboard.
5. Deckhands work hard for you and have pride in your catch. Their day starts several hours before your trip and extends hours after you are gone. We recommend a 15% to 20% tip over and above a fish cleaning fee.
6. Make sure you choose a trip that suits you. Our fleet offers 4 hour trips all the way up to 3 day trips. Your Captain can assist you in choosing the appropriate trip to meet your needs.
7. Always inquire about payment method, cancellation and bad weather policies.

Head Boat/Party Boat Deep Sea Fishing

A Head Boat offshore charter boat offers an economical way to get out fishing and usually bring home dinner! All boats are U.S. Coast Guard Inspected, with clean restrooms, clean interior salons, and always helpful, friendly crews.

The length of the trip and distance traveled offshore is generally determined by weather, sea conditions and the fish you want to target.

Boat sizes – Boats range from 57' to 65' in size.

Rates, pricing and fees – Boats offer individual and group pricing. You can come alone or bring a large group (50 to 66 people). Fish cleaning is generally .30¢ per pound (whole fish estimated weight). Customary gratuity for your deckhand is 15% to 20% of the trip price.

All tackle, bait and license is provided (including Rods and reels, though feel free to bring your own).

Remember to bring your own lunch, snacks and beverages.

Inshore/Nearshore Fishing

On the Alabama Gulf Coast, you have the opportunity to fish in the Bay, Bayou, Delta or Nearshore. Each venue provides a variety of fish. Short fishing trips (4 hours) as well as all day fishing trips are available. Each boat provides bait, tackle and fishing licenses. You will need a cooler for your drinks and snacks.

The goal of each captain is to provide a safe, fun, memorable fishing trip for your group. Children are most welcomed! Captains enjoy their work and are willing to share their skills so that you will have a successful trip.

When you call your captain to book a fishing trip, please leave a message because he/she may be fishing at the time. Your call will receive a response and together you can plan your trip.

six passenger "six pack"

Six Passenger "Six Pack" Deep Sea Fishing

A six (6) passenger offshore charter boat is also known as a "Six Pack" boat. These boats can carry 1 to 6 passengers at a time. Many trips are taken with 2 to 3 people.

Depending on the length of the trip you have chosen, you may either stay nearshore or go further offshore. There is usually a direct correlation between the length of the charter trip and the distance you can go offshore. Weather and sea conditions are also factors as well as the fish you want to target.

Boat Sizes - Boats range from 30' to 50' in size. One thing the boats have in common is that they are designed to operate in a nearshore to offshore environment and provide a safe and comfortable ride.

Rates, Pricing and Fees - Most boats offer private fishing charters. This means the fees paid are for the entire group, 1 to 6 people and for an agreed number of hours. Some six pack boats do offer shared expense trips. Fish cleaning is generally .30¢ per pound (whole fish estimated weight). Customary gratuity for your deckhand is 15% to 20% of the trip price.

Characteristics of a Six Passenger "Six Pack" Deep Sea Fishing Boat:

- Ideal for people who want to go deep sea fishing in small groups of up to 6 people maximum.
- These boats can take you near the beach (nearshore fishing) or offshore (deep sea fishing).
- All boats have a restroom on board.
- Most have a shaded area to get out of the sun or an air conditioned cabin. Many are heated as well for comfortable winter fishing.

Multi-Passenger Deep Sea Fishing

A multi-passenger offshore charter boat offers many options. These charter boats can carry up to a maximum number of passengers determined by their COI (Certificate of Inspection) issued by the U.S. Coast Guard.

The length of the trip and distance traveled offshore is generally determined by weather, sea conditions and the fish you want to target.

Boat Sizes - Boats range from 36' to 65' in size. One thing the boats have in common is that they are designed to operate in an offshore environment and provide a safe and comfortable ride. These boats are safety inspected by the U.S. Coast Guard.

Rates, Pricing and Fees - Most boats offer private fishing charters. This means the fees paid are for the entire group, up to 66 people and for an agreed number of hours. Fish cleaning is generally .30¢ per pound (whole fish estimated weight). Customary gratuity for your deckhand is 15% to 20% of the trip price.

Characteristics of a Multi-Passenger Deep Sea Fishing Boat:

- Ideal for people who want to go deep sea fishing and have seven or more people in their group. These boats will accommodate groups of 6 or less, however the private charter rate is slightly higher than their Six Pack counterparts.
- Some boats offer per person or walk-on shared expense charters where you can pay to join other passengers, thus keeping the cost per person down.
- All boats have a restroom on board.
- Most have a shaded area to get out of the sun or an air conditioned cabin. Many are heated as well for comfortable winter fishing.

Alabama's Artificial Reef Program... A Brief History

Alabama has the largest permitted artificial reef program in the world. The natural bottom offshore of Alabama is predominately flat sand bottom. This bottom type attracts few fish that are either commercially or recreationally valuable. However, it has long been known that if a vertical relief is created, many reef fish such as snappers and groupers will be attracted. Artificial reefs, over time, will appear as natural reefs with similar communities of encrusting organisms and bait fish. As various encrusting organisms, such as corals and sponges, cover the artificial reef material, small animals take up residence. As these small animals become abundant, larger animals are attracted and feed upon them and so on until a complete reef food web is created. At that point the artificial reef functions as a natural reef.

Alabama's artificial reef building program started in 1953 when the Orange Beach Charter Fishing Association asked the authority to place 250 car bodies off Baldwin County, Alabama. This proved to be very successful and in the years since, many different types of materials have been placed offshore of Alabama. These have included additional car bodies, culverts, bridge rubble, barges, boats and planes. In 1974-75, in an excellent example of State/Federal cooperation, several "ghost-fleeted" liberty ships were sunk in five locations off Mobile and Baldwin Counties in 80 to 93 feet of water.

In 1987, a general permit was issued by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers creating specific areas offshore of Alabama for the creation of artificial reefs. These were created in order to provide areas for these materials in order to coordinate with other users of the offshore area. In 1987 the areas encompassed almost 800 square miles.

REEF - EX is the program name associated with the concept of deploying obsolete military combat tanks in the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean as artificial reefs. The initial deployment under this program was on June 1, 1994 with the initial deployment of six tanks. With the successful completion of this deployment, the mechanisms were in place for the deployment of hundreds of tanks in the future.

In 1993, the U. S. military, in addressing the need to de-militarize obsolete battle tanks, realized that immersion in seawater was an acceptable method. The idea of using these obsolete materials to create artificial reefs was born. The idea was presented to the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, Marine Resources Division and development of an operation plan began. As plans developed the full extent of the impact this program will have on the reef fisheries and associated economy of Alabama became obvious. It is an outstanding and creative way to convert swords to plowshares. ■

ALABAMA'S ARTIFICIAL REEFS A FISHING INFORMATION GUIDE

Revised 2009

MARINE RESOURCES DIVISION
ALABAMA DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION AND NATURAL RESOURCES

ALABAMA ARTIFICIAL REEF GENERAL PERMIT AREAS

ALABAMA'S ARTIFICIAL REEF PROGRAM

Alabama has one of the largest artificial reef programs in the world. The natural bottom of offshore Alabama is a predominately flat sand/mud type bottom. This bottom type attracts very few fish that are either commercially or recreationally valuable. However, it has long been known that if vertical relief is created on this bottom, many reef fish such as snappers and groupers will be produced. In fact, artificial reefs can be created that over time will appear as natural reefs with similar communities of encrusting organisms and bait fish. As various encrusting organisms such as corals and sponges cover the artificial reef material, small animals take up residence. On-going research within Alabama's artificial reef general permit areas indicates that juvenile red snapper recruit to new, uninhabited artificial reefs, aging with the reef, and recruiting to the fishery at an appropriate size. At that point the artificial reef functions as a natural reef.

Alabama's artificial reef building program started in 1953 when the Orange Beach Charter Boat Association asked for the authority to place 250 car bodies off Baldwin County, Alabama. This proved to be very successful and in the years since, many different types of materials have been placed offshore of Alabama. These have included additional car bodies, culverts, bridge rubble, barges, boats and planes. In 1974, in an excellent example of State/Federal cooperation, several "ghost-fleeted" liberty ships were sunk in five locations off Mobile and Baldwin Counties in 80-93 feet of water.

In 1987, a general permit was issued by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers creating specific areas offshore of Alabama for the creation of artificial reefs. These were created in order to provide areas for these materials in order to coordinate with other users of the offshore area. In 1987 the areas encompassed almost 800 square miles.

In 1993, the U. S. military in addressing the need to de-militarize obsolete battle tanks realized that immersion in sea water was an acceptable method. The idea was presented to the Marine Resources Division and development of an operation plan began. Reef-Ex is the program name associated this activity. In 1994, one-hundred M-60 military tanks were deployed as artificial reefs in depths of 70 to 110 feet of water within the Hugh Swingle and Don Kelley North permit areas. The conservative estimate for the life span of the tanks is 50 years as artificial reefs.

In late 1997, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers authorized an expansion of Alabama's artificial reef construction areas to allow for greater freedom in reef placement and greater variety in depth. The combined area for all reef permit zones now encompasses approximately 1260 square miles. At the same time, the protocol for reef construction was modified. This modification limited the types of materials that can be used to construct artificial reefs. Enforcement of the protocol and placement of reefs is a joint effort of the Marine Resources Enforcement Section, the Alabama Marine Police Division, and the U. S. Coast Guard.

BALDWIN COUNTY TROLLING CORRIDOR AREA

Note: A total of 208 Red Snapper World Championship (RSWC) concrete reef modules from the 2007 deployment are located in the Baldwin County Trolling Corridor General Permit Area. Module numbers 1 through 180 are located at approximately 100 foot intervals along the entire length of the corridor. The DGPS coordinates and sponsorship information for these reefs is found on pages 11 and 12 of this brochure.

INSHORE FISHING REEFS

Mobile Bay's ample surface area – about 450 square miles – and its shallow waters... coupled with the influx of copious amounts of freshwater and nutrients from rivers and tributaries, produce some of the very best saltwater gamefish populations to be found anywhere. Speckled trout and white trout, redfish and black drum, sheepshead and flounder all abound in local waters. Head to one of Alabama's 21 inshore artificial fishing reefs and there you will find an inshore fishing experience that is second to none on the Gulf Coast.

Prior to the construction of formal fish attractors in Mobile Bay, knowledgeable local fishermen understood and appreciated the community relationship between the Bay's prolific oyster reefs and exploitable fish populations. First, there's something structurally different about an oyster reef from the surrounding sand and mud bottoms. Oyster reefs are usually raised ever so slightly above the surrounding aquatic terrain, providing linear habitat and home range anchors for schools of predatory fish. This reef structure would attract schools of fish even if devoid of biological activity. But an oyster reef is anything but devoid of life. In addition to the oysters, dozens of types of aquatic invertebrates call the "nooks and crannies" of the oyster reef home, filling each biological niche. Barnacles, mussels, worms and bryozoans, along with a variety of crabs and shrimp abound, taking advantage of the large variety of available food supported by the oyster reef ecosystem. And where such abundant food is available, you find gamefish...and lots of them!

In past geologic history, when the sea stretched much farther inland than today, oyster and marine fish populations thrived in areas which are now human habitat. As the seas retreated, so did the oysters and fish, slowly moving southward out of what is now the Mobile Delta. Good oyster habitat, hard bottom and medium salinity, continued to move southward as sea level fell and river discharge increased. This progression of natural events created a chain of oyster reefs all the way down both sides of the Bay, and left behind vast deposits of shell. Many of these old reefs continued to support marginal populations of oysters, but typically only enough for very localized harvest and marketing strategies. Man's agricultural activities upstate dumped heavy loads of sediment into the waters of the Bay, and rapid human encroachment into the Bay area coupled with dredging and channelization changed the flow patterns of the Bay, impacting most of the middle Bay and particularly the eastern shore reefs, including the once prolific reefs in Bon Secour Bay.

For the Alabama Marine Resources Division, enhancement of these relict oyster areas seemed logical and responsible. An idea was developed to ring marginally productive oyster reefs in the bay with some form of hard, durable material, and fill the areas with oyster cultch such as shell or crushed limestone for vertical relief. All that was needed was the appropriate material, something hard, cheap, and durable. It was believed that such an enhancement could help revitalize oyster production in these relict reef areas, possibly resuscitating an oyster industry which made the Bon Secour area famous in days past. Additionally, the agency anticipated improved sportfishing at the sites due to increased vertical relief and biological diversity. The agency did not anticipate just how good the fishing would become!

In the spring and summer of 1996 various concrete rubble became available from the demolition of the old Mobile Bay Causeway bridges (Tensaw, Blakely, and Apalachee rivers). The Marine Resources Division with the help of local contractors and conservation groups decided to build fish attractors with the material. This was precisely the material needed for the ringing of the oyster reefs that had earlier been envisioned by the agency. Now was the time to move ahead with what has since proven to be the most comprehensive fishing enhancement project in the history of the Bay and the finest example of inshore fishery enhancement in the nation. Your purchase of motorboat fuel and fishing tackle helps pay for these construction efforts through the Wallop-Breaux funding program.

Refer to the map within this document. Shellbank, Denton, Grey Cane and Fish River reefs are dual purpose sites serving as both fishing reefs and as experimental oyster reef rehabilitation areas. These three areas received oyster cultch material (crushed limestone) during the summer of 1998 and fall of 1999. All of these sites are producing spectacular catches of speckled trout and redfish. The water depth above all the construction material is approximately 3.5 feet at mean low water (MLW). Anglers should exercise caution at all times when approaching these sites, but particularly during times of extreme low (winter) tidal conditions.

The Marine Resources Division and its industry and public partners are proud to be involved in such tremendous enhancement of our oyster and sportfish resources in the Mobile Bay area. The agency is committed to continuing this trend, sprinkling great fishing areas and, where possible, enhanced oystering areas within the reach of even the most modestly outfitted angler.

A total of 30 inshore fishing reefs are located within Mobile and Bon Secour Bays, Mississippi Sound, and the Perdido System. Concrete bridge materials, culvert pipes, concrete roof panels, oyster shells and crushed limestone were utilized as reef materials. Five reefs are experimental dual-purpose sites, providing excellent inshore fishing while improving oyster production on nonproductive relict oyster reefs. In addition, seven gas production platforms in lower Mobile Bay have been enhanced with limestone rock fish attracting pads.
