The Hollingbrook clan take her in and care for her during her recovery, which includes

A century-old house in Little Rock, Ark., that seems choked in tragedy is the backdrop for "Toxic Relations," the latest investigation by paranormal sleuths Amy Bruni, Adam Berry and their frequent colleague Chip Coffey. Several of the former occupants have met a variety of unfortunate deaths, and their restless spirits are still rumored to be walking the halls of the gloomy home. As they explore, Bruni, Berry and Coffey start to feel as if they've stepped inside a Victorian-era mystery.

9 p.m. on HBO Movie: The Suicide Squad

Writer-director James Gunn created this 2021 superhero film as a standalone sequel to the similarly titled 2016 hit "Suicide Squad," which earned a fortune at the worldwide box office despite generally hostile reviews. ## tonight's picks

Bridget Everett

5 p.m. on OXYGEN Killer Relationship With Faith Jenkins

Faith Jenkins, a former criminal prosecutor in the Manhattan District Attorney's office, hosts this new series, which explores romances that start out looking like a happilyever-after in the making, before veering off on a dark detour to a bitter ending. Among the cases scheduled for examination in the eight episodes that make up Season 1, a seemingly solid marriage between two deeply religious people is ruined to ensure that a twisted personal secret doesn't come to light.

6 p.m. on LIFE Movie: My Best Friend's Secret Life

Maggie, a socially awkward teenager, is thrilled beyond words when she strikes up a friendship with Laurel, a hip. edgy new acquaintance who seems to be the epitome of cool. It's not long, though, before Maggie starts to suspect Laurel has a hidden agenda that involves grooming Maggie for something really unsavory. It's up to Maggie's mom. Kate, to save the day in this 2021 thriller. René Ashton, Nicolette Langley, Rachel Turner Pusey and Philip Boyd

7 p.m. on TNT Claws

In the new episode "Chapter Seven: Ascension," Desna (Niecy Nash-Betts) grimly vows not to rest until she has dismantled Uncle Daddy's (Dean Norris) organization from the inside out. Meanwhile, Jenn's (Jenn Lyon) questionable friendship with Tony is discovered by both Desna and Bryce (Kevin Rankin), threatening to destroy both relationships.

7 p.m. on EPIX Britannia

Season 3 of this historical fantasy sees a radical transformation in Cait's (Eleanor Worthington-Cox) journey as the Chosen One with a decision that will tie her to the future of her wartorn people and their ravaged land. Meanwhile, Aulus (David Morrissey) comes under mounting pressure from a new and dark force, and Amena (Annabel Scholey) finds herself in a dangerous threeway liaison with both the aforementioned characters. Nikolaj Lie Kaas and Mackenzie Crook also return.

8 p.m. on KVIA2 Two Sentence Horror Stories

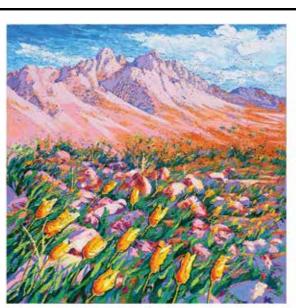

Inspired by a viral fan fiction genre of horror stories that are only two sentences long, this chilling little half-hour anthology series returns with two new back-to-back episodes to launch its third season. First, Jacqueline and Joyce Robbins star in "Crush" as a pair of elderly twin sisters who are constantly at each other's throats until they encounter a common enemy. Kevin Anderson also stars. Then, a man experiences unsettling changes to his mind and body after a plant gifted by his boyfriend takes root in his apartment in "Plant

11 p.m. on HBO The Righteous Gemstones

As a rule, each of the Gemstone siblings can be counted on to protect his or her best interests, but they make a formidable team as they try to pull back the curtain on their father Eli's (John Goodman) decidedly shady past in the new episode "For He Is a Liar and the Father of Lies." Meanwhile, Kelvin (Adam Devine) clashes with an unruly God Squad, and Eli lays down a hard truth. Danny McBride and Edi Patterson also star.

11:35 p.m. on HBO Somebody Somewhere

Comic and singer Bridget Everett stars in this new seven-episode comedy series as Sam, who may look like a generic Kansan to the untrained eye. The truth is very different, though: Sam feels like an alien to others in her hometown, especially since she's struggling with issues of loss and acceptance as the series opens. Singing is her refuge, an act that leads her on a journey to find herself, and a community of other outsiders who share her "otherness." Jeff Hiller, Mary Catherine Garrison, Danny McCarthy and Mike Hagerty co-star.

James Rutenbeck

6 p.m. on TCM Movie: American Revolution 2

Howard Alk's polarizing 1969 documentary chronicles the turbulence that broke out at the 1968 Democratic National Convention and the aftermath of that event. Among other things, the film explores how the Young Patriots Organization, a leftleaning group representing impoverished white Southerners from Appalachia. and local members of the Black Panther Party formed an alliance to pursue their common fight against racial discrimination. The documentary airs as part of a marathon observing Martin Luther King Jr. Day.

9 p.m. on KRWG Independent Lens

Filmmaker James Rutenbeck set out to make a highminded documentary about how engagement with the humanities can transform the lives of those facing economic hardship and its attendant challenges. After spending a few years among students in his target area of focus, however, Rutenbeck realized his film's premise was gravely flawed and reflected his own complicity in racist structures and assumptions. "A Reckoning in Boston" chronicles the filmmaker's epiphany.

movie review by Jay Bobbin Denzel Washington's strong work lifts 'Flight'

If you're about to travel on an airplane, this might not be the time to see "Flight." That's not because the 2012 drama – which EPIX presents Monday, Jan. 17 and Tuesday, Jan. 18 – isn't a good movie. It's extremely good indeed, but early on, it presents a crisis-in-flight scene that will stand your hair on end. That's no surprise, since "Flight" is directed by someone who had done such a scene before with great and terrifying skill: Robert Zemeckis, who put Tom Hanks through a similar emergency with the crash that set "Cast Away" in motion.

That's just the beginning of "Flight," which primarily is a character study that gives Denzel Washington a crack at a somewhat different kind of role. He surely has played flawed people, but here, he tries to conceal the flaws as the pilot who becomes a media hero after maneuvering his passenger jet out of seemingly certain doom during a fierce storm.

Not all such heroes necessarily want to be that widely praised and looked at; even Capt. "Sully" Sullenberger seemed a bit uncomfortable with all the justified praise after his "miracle landing" in New York. But Washington's character, the charismatic and somewhat arrogant "Whip" Whitaker, has another reason for not wanting the spotlight shining so brightly on him. He had drugs and liquor in his system when he performed his heroics.

As many people as he saves in the near-disaster, he can't save everyone, and the National Transportation Safety Board comes calling to start the preliminaries of an investigation. This is where a story such as "Flight" takes a star as skilled as Washington. Once the scary special effects and aerobatics that set the tale in motion are over, the movie needs somewhere to go, and Washington steers it there most ably.
