Disney+ brings a Broadway smash to streaming with the Tony-winning 'Hamilton'

American television has a proud tradition of bringing award-winning stage productions to the small screen.

Be it a one-off special on a network or long-running PBS series such as "Great Performances" or "Masterpiece Theatre," anyone who doesn't live near New York who has wanted to take in a Broadway show has been able to do so without leaving the comfort of their living room.

The latest comes this month with the arrival of "Hamilton." Premiering Friday, July 3, on Disney+, the Tony-winning play from director Thomas Kail offers a rap-infused look at Alexander Hamilton's life and formative role in American history. Starring Lin-Manuel Miranda (who also wrote the musical) in the title role, this production is made up largely of filmed performances featuring the original Broadway cast, shot at the Richard Rodgers Theater in June 2016.

It joins a laundry list of stage productions that have introduced TV viewers to what Broadway is all about, including the following.

"Peter Pan" (March 7, 1955; NBC): The original 1954 Broadway play came to television a year later with the same cast, including Mary Martin as the boy who refused to grow up. Martin and co-star Cyril Ritchard (as Captain Hook) took home Tony Awards for their performances. A 2000 production with Cathy Rigby in the starring role also drew rave reviews.

"Cinderella" (Feb. 22, 1965; CBS): An 18-year-old Lesley Ann Warren's career got a major lift with her starring role in Rodgers and Hammerstein's iconic musical about a mistreated peasant who finds her prince, though she admitted later to nerves playing opposite decorated screen legends Celeste Holm and Walter Pidgeon. And that's future "General Hospital" mainstay Stuart Damon as the prince.

"Death of a Salesman" (May 8, 1966; CBS): Arthur Miller's Tony-winning play about an aging travelling salesman on the verge of a nervous breakdown starred Lee J. Cobb in the iconic role of Willy Loman, in a cast that also included Stanley Adams, Edward Andrews and Albert Dekker. Sharp-eyed viewers will also notice George Segal and Bernie Kopell ("The Love Boat") in bit parts.

"Kiss Me, Kate" (March 25, 1968, ABC): Cole Porter's musical about behind-the-scenes conflict during a stage production of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" featured then-spouses Robert Goulet and Carol Lawrence in the roles of contentious exes Fred and Lilli.

"Oklahoma!" (Nov. 15, 2013, PBS): Fifteen years after it was filmed for the BBC, this 1998 National Theatre of London production came to "Great Performances" with a game Hugh Jackman in the starring role of Cowboy Curly, who tries to win the heart of headstrong Laurey (Josefina Gabrielle) in a singing and dancing extravaganza.

"Jesus Christ Superstar Live in Concert" (April 1, 2018, NBC): Generally positive reviews but disappointing ratings greeted this lavish stage concert production of the 1970 rock opera, featuring John Legend in the title role and a cast including Sara Bareilles, Brandon Victor Dixon, Ben Daniels and legendary rocker Alice Cooper.

"EVIL: SEASON ONE"

"Disturbing" is a good and very apt word for this CBS series from the mentors of "The Good Wife" and "The Good Fight," writingproducing spouses Robert and Michelle King. Dutch actress Katja Herbers heads the cast as a psychologist who delves into long-unsolved, seemingly supernatural mysteries with religious bents, as she teams with an aspiring priest (Mike Colter). Some of the cases have alarming personal aspects for the investigators. Michael Emerson ("Lost") and Kurt Fuller ("Psych") also are among the stars of the show, which has been renewed for a second season though its first round ended relatively early (accounting for the 13 episodes offered here); Christine Lahti has a recurring role as the psychologist's mother. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"THE GHOST OF PETER SELLERS"

One of the most unique talents in movie history, "Dr. Strangelove" and "The Pink Panther" star Sellers also could be famously difficult on film sets, and this documentary recalls one such instance in great detail. Also the director here, Peter Medak ("The Ruling Class") remembers his dealings with

Sellers during the production of "Ghost in the Noonday Sun," a mid-1970s pirate satire that would end up never being released, attributed largely to the alleged problems generated by Sellers as the cameras rolled. Fellow British comedy legend Spike Milligan was brought in to try to fix matters as a screenwriter, but that didn't quite work out ... as is related here by Medak and some of the other surviving personnel involved in that ill-fated picture, including producer John Heyman and costume designer Ruth Myers. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, P) (Also on On Demand)

"MASTERPIECE: BEECHAM HOUSE"

Public-television dramas are famous for stories of daily dynasties, and this 19th-century saga set in India - and being broadcast through mid-July - is the latest. Tom Bateman ("Vanity Fair") heads the ensemble cast as a trading company alumnus and new owner of a mansion where the relationships among several generations undergo their constant ups and downs. Created and directed by "Bend It Like Beckham" filmmaker Gunndher Chadha, the story also features Lesley Nicol - familiar to PBS viewers from one of the most successful entries in this genre, "Downton Abbey" - as well as such other veterans of the network as Leo Suter ("Sanditon") and Gregory Fitussi ("Mr. Selfridge"). ★★★ (Not rated: AS)

"STREET SURVIVORS: THE TRUE STORY OF THE LYNYRD SKYNYRD PLANE CRASH"

Among documents of tragedies that claimed the lives of famous people, this one is about as close as it gets ... due to the fact that it's told by Artimus Pyle, then the drummer for the legendary rock band, and a survivor of the 1977 disaster that claimed the lives of individuals including band founder Ronnie Van Zant. Pyle (portrayed in this dramatization by Ian Shultis, with Taylor Clift as Van Zant) helped save others from the wreckage, and the script details the circumstances at the time and Lynyrd Skynyrd's enduring legacy; some of Pyle's newer music is on the film's soundtrack. Other music stars represented include Aerosmith's Steven Tyler and Joe Perry, respectively portrayed by Neill Byrnes and Anthony Rocco Bovo. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray and On

"CHRISTMAS IN EVERGREEN: TIDINGS OF JOY"

Something of a gathering of Hallmark Channel movie all-stars, this pleasant sequel to an earlier holiday tale - not all that out-of-place in the summer, since Hallmark still runs Christmas tales at this time of year - casts Maggie Lawson ("Psych") as a writer who has her doubts about the supposed innocence and purity of a town where the yuletide spirit always is maintained. Of course, she visits to see for herself ... and of course, her skepticism ultimately is turned around. Jill Wagner, Ashley Williams, Holly Robinson Peete and Barbara Niven return from earlier films in the franchise, and Paul Greene also stars. The naturally seasonal soundtrack features Carrie Underwood among others.  (Not rated)

Reelz and Natalie Morales go "Back to the Future," profiling the iconic Michael J. Fox-starring film that celebrates its 35th anniversary this year in an episode of "Behind Closed Doors," airing Sunday. Check out what future celebs and movies the series plans to spotlight at www.reelz.com/behind-closed-doors/

Inspired by his mom's cooking, the chef prepares the grill for chicken parmesan meatballs with ricotta cheese and sweet red sauce in the opener of "Symon's Dinners Cooking Out," firing up Tuesday on Cooking Channel. Expand swimming styles for increased safety and fun

Knowing how to swim is one of the most important tools a person can have in warm weather, when people are most inclined to go swimming in pools, lakes and oceans.

Swimming is a fun yet potentially dangerous activity. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, each day roughly 10 people die from unintentional drowning in the United States. That makes drowing the country's fifth-leading cause of unintentional death.

Knowing how to swim is essential for people who plan to spend time in the water. Swimmers are urged to learn as many different swimming techniques as possible to strengthen muscles in their body and prevent fatigue in the water. The most common swimming styles include freestyle, breaststroke, backstroke, and butterfly stroke.

FREESTYLE

The freestyle, or front crawl, is a popular stroke among seasoned swimmers. When doing the freestyles, swimmers alternate their arm movements and a flutter kick to propel them through the water. People who need to reach a distressed swimmer or cross a body of water quickly rely on the freestyle to do so. Freestyle swimming offers a fullbody workout as well.

BREASTSTROKE

The breaststroke originates with a sweep out of the arms from the breast and then back in to the starting position. A frog-like kick complements arm movements. The breaststroke is one of the first swimming strokes taught to beginners because individuals can keep their heads above the water. The breaststroke may be efficient, but it is slower than other swimming styles. The legs and back work hard when performing this stroke.

BACKSTROKE

The backstroke is similar to the freestyle except the body is supine. The back gets an excellent workout during this stroke, which can help straighten and lengthen the spine. Physicians may even recommend the backstroke for those dealing with back pain.

Strasburg lives up to hype, leads Nats to title

Stephen Strasburg may have been called the "most-hyped pick in draft history" but he got the last laugh with another label he earned last fall – "world champion."

Indeed, in his age-31 season, the Washington Nationals' hard-throwing righthander seems to have realized the massive potential that was attached to his name when he was selected first overall by the Nats in the 2009 draft.

That buzz got only louder when he burst into the majors in June 2010, striking out 14 Pittsburgh Pirates in a dominant debut. More such performances followed before disaster struck in August in the form of a torn ulnar collateral ligament in his elbow that required Tommy John surgery and took him out of action until late in the folliwng year.

When he returned in 2012, he found himself at the center of a controversy when innings limits imposed on him dictated that he be shut down for the postseason. After much hue and cry and a poor pitching performance in September, he was placed on the physically unable to perform list. The Nats didn't make it past the NLDS.

In the intervening years, Strasburg distinguished himself as one of the game's top righties, recording double-digit wins in all but one season, ERAs consistently in the threes and a strikeout title in 2014 while staying mostly injury-free.

But it was in the 2019 postseason that he took his game to another level, winning five games, including two in the World Series as the Nationals defeated the Houston Astros in seven games for the franchise's first world championship. For his performance, Strasburg won World Series MVP honors.

Strasburg and the Nationals can be seen in action when Fox Sports 1 airs a recap of the 2019 World Series in the early morning of Tuesday, June 30.

BUTTERFLY STROKE

The butterfly tends to be a challenging stroke that can work the core and upper body while providing a great cardiovascular workout. When performing the butterfly, swimmers raise both arms above their head and then push down into the water to propel their bodies forward. The legs are positioned like a dolphin or a mermaid and will flap to kick down, states CureJoy, a health and wellness resource.

These strokes are used in swimming competitions and are widely taught at swim schools. The sidestroke is another style that only requires one arm and can be used in swimming rescues, which also can be handy to learn.

People new to swimming or who want to increase their skills can work with certified swimming instructors to learn proper techniques.

Food Network comes Fourth with Independence Day meal ideas

The Fourth is nearly with us and you'd better be on your game.

Whether it's a backyard barbecue, a lavish dinner party or even just cocktails and hors d'oeuvres you're planning for the Independence Day holiday, a little extra knowledge can go a long way toward making your get-together a success and impressing your family and friends with your culinary know-how.

The experts at Food Network have a few ideas toward that end, so tune in this week and check out their suggestions.

Valerie Bertinelli certainly has a few in her Sunday, June 28, edition of "Valerie's Home Cooking," which finds her celebrating the holiday with friends with a menu of mini-pepper poppers with bacon, chipotle barbecue ribs and kale and carrot slaw. And for dessert, she offers up frozen watermelon mint pops with prosecco.

Monday, June 29, on "The Kitchen," it's a veritable cornucopia of holiday-themed comestibles, ranging from Katie Lee's grilled firework onion and Sunny Anderson's steak supreme to Jeff Mauro's cheesy and spicy reuben-style brats and Michael Symon's blackberry barbecue chicken. There is also a how-to on serving a fruit salad from a watermelon grill.

If the backyard grill is your preferred mode of food prep, Kardea Brown has you covered in her Tuesday, June 29, episode of "Delicious Miss Brown," in which she fires up the old-fashioned barbecue for a family meal consisting of pimento cheese-stuffed burgers and grilled sea island wings with a side of southern pickles and okra. And for dessert, try out a grilled peach crumble.

Then on Saturday, July 4, "The Kitchen" is back with a "Star Spangled Spread" highlighted by Mauro's grilled triple decker hot dog sandwich, Anderson's all-American cola-glazed short rib, Jet Tila's bacon, egg and potato salad and Jocelyn Delk Adams' no-bake strawberry cheesecake bars.

Immediately following on "Trisha's Southern Kitchen," family recipes are the order of the day as host Trisha Yearwood introduces a menu of pork candy, baked beans, corn on the cob grilled in the husk and a dessert of grilled pineapple served with ice cream and a warm apricot sauce.

Not to be outdone, Ree Drummond has her own "Fourth of July" spread planned in a so-named episode of "The Pioneer Woman," which finds her at her ranch prepping a meal for hundreds, with the menu including grilled steak, baked beans, a Caprese salad and a peach crisp with maple cream for dessert.

Of course, if none of the above sparks your imagination, you can always head over to the Food Network website (www. foodnetwork.com/recipes) for a library's worth of meal ideas for any occasion.

"Transparent"

All five seasons of this Emmy-winning Amazon comedy about a family of Los Angeles eccentrics whose secrets come to the surface when the patriarch (Jeffrey Tambor) admits he self-identifies as a woman return to the streaming service. Judith Light, Amy Landecker, Jay Duplass and Gaby Hoffmann are also in the stellar cast. (ORIGINAL)

"Hanna"

In Season 2 of this high-concept thriller, Hanna (Esme Creed-Miles) is now aware that she is not the only young woman with elite skill and training as the Utrax program has produced a whole contingent of highly trained teens whose development is about to reach the lethal second phase. Dermot Mulroney joins the cast as Utrax overseer John Carmichael, with Mireille Enos returning as CIA operative Marissa Wiegler. (ORIGINAL) Season Premiere
