

cover story BY JAY BOBBIN Phil Keoghan gives CBS a 'Tough as Nails' competition

When Phil Keoghan created "Tough as Nails," he didn't foresee it being even more apt by the time it aired.

A producer as well as the host of "The Amazing Race," he also fills both roles on his new CBS competition series that begins Wednesday, July 8. The contestants are workers whose regular occupations - from a deputy sheriff and a firefighter to a welder and a farmer – help keep America running and qualify them for the show's challenges, with physical and mental strength among the traits needed for tasks they perform at various job sites.

With his wife Louise a fellow executive producer of "Tough as Nails," the friendly Keoghan notes "the timing of the nature of the show" is quite appropriate. "We didn't know when we were shooting the series, which is about essential workers, just how pertinent and how relevant it was going to be in terms of what's in the zeitgeist now. We're honoring these very people, and as someone said to me, never have we been so appreciative of people who make $15 an hour.

"I don't know if any of us will look at somebody stocking shelves in a grocery store the same way again," adds Keoghan. "We understand the value of everybody who contributes to society and the world that we had taken for granted."

"The Amazing Race" is expected to return to CBS later this year with its already taped 32nd season. Keoghan is satisfied to have "Tough as Nails" on first, recognizing – and, in fact, hoping for - the added significance its theme could have in this time of social distancing and face coverings

In a sense, the show is something of an immediate throwback to an age that may not come back again, at least not fully. "We don't know what world we're inheriting after all of this, or how it's going to work," the clearly well-traveled Keoghan reasons.

"There will definitely be changes and as we always have done, we'll just adapt.

"Are we going to shake hands again? I don't know. I wonder if that common courtesy will become more of a Japanese type of gesture, where it's doing to be more of a nod ... or maybe it will be a fist bump or elbow bump. And how will it be in restaurants, or on airplanes?"

Indeed, Keoghan reflects, "I've been flying long enough that I remember when people used to smoke on planes. You'd be in the nonsmoking section, but you might as well have been sitting in the smoking section, because the smoke would drift to where you were. I just know that it is not going to be the same again."

In Focus

"The Current Occupant" (Hulu — movie premiere, July 17) This installment of the "Into the Dark" se-ries of original horror feature movies tells the story of a man with no memory in a mysteri-ous psychiatric ward who comes to believe he is the president of the United States and he is the president of the United States and the target of a diabolical political conspira-cy. Julius Ramsay ("Midnighters") directs a cast headed by Barry Watson ("The Loudest Voice"), Sonita Henry ("Krypton"), Lilli Birdse ("Doom Patrol") and Kate Cobb ("Scandal"). , Lilli Birdsell

"Room 104" (HBO — season premiere, July 24)

What's Available NOW On

"Movie: Charlie's Angels"

Elizabeth Banks wrote, directed and coproduced this 2019 action film, the third entry in a film franchise that in turn was inspired by the 1976-81 TV series of the same title. Kristen Stewart, Naomi Scott and Ella Balinska star as the titular trio of formidable female agents dispatched by executive Charles Townsend (voice of Robert Clotworthy), owner of the Townsend Agency. Patrick Stewart co-stars as John Bosley, Charlie's original assistant; Banks also has a featured role.

"Movie: XX"

Four horrific tales of terror are part and parcel of this 2017 anthology movie that's made up of short films by Jovanka Vuckovic ("Riot Girls"), Annie Clark ("The Picture of Dorian Gray"), Roxanne Benjamin ("Body at Brighton Rock") and Karyn Kusama ("Jennifer's Body"). Melanie Lynskey, Breeda Wool, Peyton Kennedy and Natalie Brown are among the cast.

"Movie: Miss Snake Charmer"

Though probably not for the squeamish, this 2018 documentary chronicles an unusual high-school beauty pageant in Sweetwater, Texas, that requires each contestant to kill and skin a live rattlesnake before they can don evening wear and show off their other talents. The winner then spends a weekend reigning over the pits at the the World's Largest Rattlesnake Roundup.

"Movie: Palm Springs"

A carefree bachelor (Andy Samberg, "Brooklyn Nine-Nine") and a maid of honor (Cristin Milioti, "How I Met Your Mother") have a chance encounter at a Palm Springs wedding but when they try to leave the venue they're unable to in this comedy movie from first-time feature filmmaker Max Barbakow. J.K. Simmons, Meredith Hagner, Camila Mendes, Tyler Hoechlin and Peter Gallagher round out the solid cast. (ORIGINAL)

"TROLLS WORLD TOUR"

This animated sequel made news when it kept its original release date during the coronavirus pandemic, but debuted on On Demand as well as in any theaters that still wanted (and were open) to book it ... and it fared quite well financially in its first wave of home viewing. Anna Kendrick and Justin Timberlake reprise their voice roles from the first "Trolls" as Queen Poppy and Branch, who fight a plot to quiet all other music in their kingdom by a "Rocker Troll" who wants her sound to be the only one. Kelly Clarkson, Rachel Bloom ("Crazy Ex-Girlfriend"), "Saturday Night Live's" Kenan Thompson, James Corden, Oscar winner Sam Rockwell and Ozzy

Osbourne also are heard. DVD extras: two "making-of" documentaries; audio commentary by director Walt Dohrn, co-director David P. Smith and producer Gina Shay; "Trolls Dance Academy" and "Trolls World Tourist Map" features; "Dance Party Mode." * (PG: AS) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and On Demand)

"HOPE GAP"

Writer-director William Nicholson's ("Shadowlands") drama boasts an obviously fine acting duo in Annette Bening and Bill Nighy, playing a couple whose family reunion takes an even more emotional course than anticipated. The husband intends to end his 30-year marriage, of which he informs his son (Josh O'Connor) during a weekend visit, resulting in great stress and greatly ampedup feelings for all concerned. The coastal atmosphere of Sussex, England, adds greatly

In Focus

Season 4 of this quirky anthology drama series checks in for its final 12 new episodes, each telling a tale of characters who pass through a single room at an American chain motel. While that setting is a constant, each episode tells a different story, with an unpredictable tone, plot, characters and time period. Series co-creator Mark Duplass stars in the premiere, which he also wrote and directed. Others booked this season include Dave Bau-

"GO GO MANIA"

During the 1960s, movies showcasing some of the decade's most popular music acts were big draws produced relatively inexpensively. Having the artists pretty much just stand there and lip-sync to their hits, this is one such film – though it's particularly notable for the concert performances by The Beatles that open and close the picture. "Twist and Shout" and "She Loves You" are their selections, and in-between are appearances by such other "British Invasion" stars as The Animals ("House of the Rising Sun"), Peter and Gordon ("A World Without Love"), Herman's Hermits ("I'm Into Something Good"), The Honeycombs ("Have I the Right?") and Billy J. Kramer and the Dakotas ("Little Children"). The host is Jimmy Savile, at the time a popular television and radio presenter of such shows as "Top of the Pops" in England.  (Not rated) (Also on Blu-ray)

"GORDON LIGHTFOOT: IF YOU COULD READ MY MIND"

One of the most enduring of all modern singer-songwriters, Lightfoot has had quite a storied life, as conveyed through his own recollections in this documentary tista, Linda Lavin, Gary Cole, Melissa Fumero, Kevin Nealon and Kevin McKidd.

"The Kissing Booth 2" (Netflix — movie premiere, July 24) A high-school senior becomes torn be-made for CBC Television in his native Canada. He remembers his early years touring as a teenage musical discovery and playing coffee houses, but he ultimately would render such hits as "Sundown," "Carefree Highway," "The Wreck of the Edmund Fitzgerald," "Rainy Day People" and (of course) "If You Could Read My Mind" before packed arenas – with health challenges sometimes threatening to end his career prematurely. Friends, peers and admirers including Anne Murray, Alec Baldwin, Randy Bachman, Rush's Geddy Lee and Sarah McLachlan offer their perspectives on Lightfoot's personal and professional times.  (Not rated: AS, P)

A high-school senior becomes torn between her long-distance relationship with her Harvard freshman boyfriend and a promising friendship with a handsome new classmate in this original sequel to the 2018 romantic comedy, both of which were written and directed by Vince Marcello. Joey King, Jacob Elordi, Joel Courtney and Taylor Zakhar Perez head the cast.

"LOVE ON ICELAND"

Now, see if you can guess which cable network this was made for: For a trek to Iceland, a woman regathers the friends she often traveled with during college, and her ex unexpectedly shows up. Yes, you probably guessed it ... it was done for Hallmark Channel, and it's actually quite charming, thanks largely to an engaging lead performance by Kaitlin Doubleday and expectedly lovely scenery. "Chicago Med" alum Colin Donnell plays the surprise attendee, and another co-star – Patti Murin – probably kept close watch on him during the romantic sequences, since in real life, she's his wife.  (Not rated: AS)

Golfing in the era of social distancing

Golfers enthusiastically look forward to the day when their favorite courses reopen to players each year. That anticipation was even greater in 2020, when social distancing measures forced many courses to stay closed even as the weather warmed up. Thankfully for golfers, golf courses were among the first businesses given the green light to reopen as governments began to lift restrictions.

Golfing in the era of social distancing may not be quite the same as it was prior to the outbreak of COVID-19, but golfers can still have fun as they hit the links. That's especially true when they take steps to understand just what it means to golf while social distancing prior to teeing off.

· Assess your personal health before going to the golf course. Golf attracts athletes from all age groups, including some that are more vulnerable to COVID-19 than others. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, age is a risk factor for COVID-19, as older adults are more vulnerable to severe illness if they are infected with the virus than younger adults. Social distancing requires a collective effort on the part of everyone to keep vulnerable people safe, and golfers are no exception. Golfers young and old who are under the weather or experiencing even mild symptoms of COVID-19 should avoid golf courses until they feel better. In addition, young golfers can choose tee times when they're less likely to come into contact with older golfers. Early morning tee times tend to be popular among older golfers, but speak with staff at the course to see if they have rules in place to safeguard older golfers. If they do, respect those rules. If they don't, work with staff to choose a tee time when you're less likely to be around older golfers.

· Disinfect clubs before or after playing. Disinfecting clubs and other equipment before and after playing is a simple measure that can reduce golfers' risk of getting the virus or spreading it if they have it but are asymptomatic. Simply wipe down clubs and other equipment with disinfectant or an alcohol-based cleanser that is at least 60 percent alcohol. If playing with a friend, resist the urge to share clubs, no matter how tempting it may be to take your playing partner's new driver for a spin on the first hole.

· Refuse valet service. Many courses have temporarily stopped offering valet services to help prevent the spread of COVID-19. Golfers who visit a club that is not taking such precautions can opt to refuse the service. Doing so decreases the risk of getting or spreading the virus by limiting the number of people with whom you come into direct contact.

· Pack supplies. Contact the course in advance to determine if the dining room is open and if the course is providing hand sanitizer at each tee. At-risk golfers may want to skip dining at the course after their round is over, opting to pack their own lunch or eat when they arrive home after playing. If the course is not offering hand sanitizer at each hole, pack your own as an extra precaution.

Golfing in the era of social distancing may be different, but there's no reason golfers cannot still enjoy a summer on the links,

at the Brickyar	6

For Kevin Harvick, winning at the Brickyard last year was one of his greatest thrills - even though he'd won here before. Indeed, the driver of the No. 4 Ford Mustang for Stewart-

Haas Racing was dominant in the race's second stage on the 2.5-mile quad oval at Indianapolis Motor Speedway, leading five times for 119 laps after starting from pole and opening up a 6.118-second advantage over Joey Logano over its final nine laps to speed to his third victory of the season.

It was also his second win at Indy (his first came in 2003 with Richard Childress Racing) and it was one he particularly savored.

"I can't tell you how much coming to Indianapolis means to me," Harvick said afterward. "As a kid, I watched Rick Mears win the Indy 500 and got to be around him as a kid. He was my hero.'

The victory also locked up the 44-year-old Californian's slot in the 10-race playoff, in which he continued the consistency that marked his 2019 season. He averaged a fourth-place finish in the Round of 16 and won at Texas in the Round of 8 to advance to his fifth appearance in the Championship 4 in six years. He'd go on to finish third in the Cup standings after taking fourth in the finale at Homestead.

Harvick will be in the field when the 2020 version of the Big Machine Vodka 400 at the Brickyard revs up live from Indy on Sunday, July 5, on NBC.

Kitchen royalty: TV chefs of the past

In the days before Food Network, Cooking Channel and of course, the internet, viewers seeking culinary content had to wait for the few cooking series that were out there to show up on their local TV stations. Production values might have been wildly inconsistent but the information offered was always first rate.

Some of the following names were among them and they may or may not be familiar to many viewers. But know that these folks paved the way for what we have today – cooking shows all day and night, whenever you want them. Many of them are foodie immortals.

Julia Child, "The French Chef" (1962-73, PBS): Child introduced American viewers to French cooking at a time when it was considered exotic and expensive restaurant fare, featuring recipes from her "Mastering the Art of French Cooking" bestseller and emphasizing the use of fresh and sometimes hard-to-find ingredients. She did other cooking shows after this but this is the standard bearer.

James Beard, "I Love to Eat" (1946-47, NBC): Yes, the chef for whom one of the culinary arts' most prestigious awards is named hosted this live cooking show, the first of its genre on U.S. television. It started out as a 15 minute program but went to a half hour as more intricate recipes were introduced. Sadly, no video records of it exist today.

Graham Kerr, "The Galloping Gourmet" (1968-71, syndicated): Lighthearted humor and liberal amounts of butter, cream and fat were trademarks of this Canadian-produced program hosted by the ribald Scotsman, who always liked to grace his dishes with a little wine, be it in the recipe or in his glass. But while he talked a good game, the truth is he drank very little.

Art Ginsburg, "Mr. Food" (1975-2012, syndicated): A former butcher and amateur thespian, Ginsburg parlayed an easygoing manner and an "anybody can do it" philosophy into a full-blown cottage industry, with his cooking vignettes appearing on as many as 168 local TV stations in the early 2000s. He died in 2012 but his signature sign-off line "Ooh, it's so good!" – now legally trademarked – lives on.

Jeff Smith, "The Frugal Gourmet" (1983-95, PBS): As the title suggests, a desire to not waste money while enjoying good food was the underlying philosophy of this series, hosted by a former Methodist minister with a nasal voice whose enthusiasm for food and wine was unbridled and infectious.

Emeril Lagasse, "Essence of Emeril" (1996-2008): He's still around and making television, but the amiable New Englander made his name here with his passion for Cajun and Creole cuisines as he shared recipes and techniques and showed how to add spice to traditional dishes.
