The 'Filthy Rich' have their troubles in new Fox series

Wealthy people's problems have fueled some of television's most popular series, and a new show is aiming to join those ranks.

Originally intended for last season, "The Help" filmmaker Tate Taylor's "Filthy Rich" helps Fox's pandemic-impacted fall lineup as it debuts Monday, Sept. 21. Also one of its producers, 'Sex and the City" alum Kim Cattrall heads the cast as a wealthy Southern family's matriarch who suddenly loses her husband (Gerald McRaney) ... but surprisingly gains three relatives, the illegitimate children named in his will. Immediately, all concerned move into action to retain what they feel is rightfully theirs, which doesn't match up in Aubrey Dollar ("Women's Murder Club"), Broadway veteran Corey Cott ("Bandstand") and Olivia Macklin also portray members of the show's central Monreaux clan, whose dynasty prominently includes the religion-based - and, it turns out, ironically named – Sunshine television network. Melia Kreiling ("Salvation"), Benjamin Levy Aguilar and Mark L. Young play the newly discovered relations, with Steve Harris ("The Practice") and Aaron Lazar also are regulars in the series from Ron Howard and Brian Grazer's company Imagine Entertainment.

"I don't come from the South," Cattrall notes. "I was not raised in a religious household. All of these (were) new aspects to this character for me, but it was a wonderful opportunity to sort of take that magical (journey of) if I was this person, if I was filthy rich, if I had children. The (pilot) script was a one-off, in the sense that it was dealing with very serious topics and questions about faith and family and secrets. It just felt new and fresh, and I wanted to take this journey, especially with Tate Taylor."

A writer, director and executive producer on "Filthy Rich" as well as its creator, Taylor says he "wanted to do a great show. I love extreme conflict, where you're just going, 'What???' And the idea came to me to have this strong Christian family faced with the most impossible of situations that rocks their faith to the core. And you realize that whatever side of the line you are on, as far as how devout you feel, you are a human and you are going to make mistakes."

Co-star Dollar reveals that not everyone had all the pieces of the puzzle of "Filthy Rich" during production. "Different people had different secrets they knew about their characters," she notes, "and we would try to guess what they were. It became this weird kind of rumor mill, sharing things we shouldn't share and trying to hit Abe (executive producer Abe Sylvia) or Tate — when they got a little chatty — for pieces of information. It's a very complicated pie."

"Movie: Judy"

The casting of Renée Zellweger in the lead of a Judy Garland biopic initially raised some Hollywood eyebrows, but her performance in this 2019 adaptation of a hit play silenced skeptics, as she picked up best actress trophies at the Oscars, Golden Globes, the SAG Awards and the U.K.'s BAFTA Awards. Jessie Buckley, Finn Wittrock, Rufus Sewell and Michael Gambon also star in the film, which chronicles the last year of Garland's life.

"Movie: Hell on the Border"

Inspired by the historical figure of Bass Reeves (David Gyasi), the first Black marshal in the Wild West, writer-director Wes Miller's low-budget 2019 Western spins a yarn that finds Reeves trying to prove he is worthy of a judge's recommendation that he be a deputy marshal by heading into Indian territory to capture notorious outlaw Bob Dozier (Frank Grillo). Hostile natives aren't his only challenge, however, as Reeves also runs into racists who still don't acknowledge the freedom of former

"Movie: Awoken"

From first-time filmmaker Daniel J. Phillips comes this 2019 horror movie about a young medical student who learns an awful truth while trying to cure a terminal illness in her brother that keeps him awake until he dies. Erik Thomson ("The Luminaries"), Benson Anthony ("800 Words"), Sara West ("Ash vs. Evil Dead") and Adam Ovadia ("Escape From Pretoria") head the cast.

"Movie: The Festival"

Dumped by his girlfriend just before graduation, Nick (Joe Thomas) reluctantly agrees to accompany his pal Shane (Hammed Animashaun) to a massive music festival to get over his pain. On the train, Shane is instantly smitten with Amy (Claudia O'Doherty), a chatty Australian, then later the threesome bump into Caitlin (Hannah Tointon), the faithless ex-girlfriend, and her rich chums at the big event. Complications ensue in Iain Morris' 2018 British comedy.

"Soulmates" (AMC — series premiere, Oct.

This new six-part episodic anthology series take a wry look at the nature of romantic love among a different set of characters. Set 15 years in the fu-ture, each episode revolves around a revolutionary new scientific discovery that guarantees to tell you the identity of your true soulmate. Stars include Sarah Snook ("Succession"), Kingsley Ben-Adir ("High Fidelity") and Betsy Brandt ("Life in Pieces").

"The Bachelorette" (ABC - season premiere, Oct. 13)

It's been a long time waiting on love for this season's newest leading lady. Clare Crawley was seen walking out on Juan Pablo Galavis in Season 18 of "The Bachelor," went looking for romance again in Seasons 1 and 2 of "Bachelor in Paradise" and almost walked down the aisle with Benoit Beauséjour-Savard from "Bachelor Winter Games" (2018), but their engagement didn't last. Will this finally be the time she meets her match?

"THE GOOD FIGHT: SEASON FOUR"

The way it has worked out, this most recent season of CBS All Access' spinoff of "The Good Wife" offers the final chances to see two of its founding stars – Cush Jumbo and Delroy Lindo – as cast regulars. After a devastating turn of events that sees their legal firm gobbled up by a much larger one, Diane Lockhart (Christine Baranski), Lucca Quinn (Jumbo) and their colleagues are on their guard until they can determine just how permissive their new bosses will be. A mysterious memo also causes concern for the lawyers. In the first of the episodes here, writers (and series executive producers) Robert and Michelle King recast history, since the story purports that the 2006 presidential election had a different outcome. John Larroquette has a notable presence in these stories; Audra McDonald, Sarah Steele, Nyambi Nymabi and Michael Boatman also continue their roles. *** (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"MOST WANTED"

The fate of a man (played by Antoine Olivier Pilon) arrested for forced participation in a drug deal rests with an investigative reporter (Josh Hartnett) in this "Midnight Express"-ish drama inspired by another true story. Sentenced to 100 years in a Thai prison, the entrapped man suffers greatly at the hands of his jailers ... and his survival is in doubt unless the reporter can locate and expose the duplicitous cops who set up the convict. Actorcomedian Jim Gafigan, seen frequently on CBS' "Sunday Morning," also appears for writer-director Daniel Roby – as do Amanda Crew ("Silicon Valley") and veteran Canadian talents Stephen McHattie and Don McKellar. *** (R: AS', P, V) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"DC'S LEGENDS OF TOMORROW: THE COMPLETE FIFTH SEASON'

The latest round of the CW adventure series saw the departure of a prominent character, and it's not a spoiler to mention it here, since the actor had telegraphed that it was coming long before. Brandon Routh makes his exit as Ray Palmer, alias The Atom, in the course of stories that find the Legends enjoying new fame ... but still having to find outside financing to continue their missions. Rasputin, Jack the Ripper, mobster Bugsy Siegel, Marie Antoinette, Genghis Khan and William Shakespeare are among figures from history they encounter in their timetraveling. References are made to the superheroshow-uniting "Crisis on Infinite Earths" event, which preceded the start of this season: Matt Ryan's John Constantine remains a transplanted presence, with Caity Lotz, Maisie Richardson-Sellers, Tala Ashe, Jes Macallan, Courtney Ford (Routh's real-life wife), Olivia Swann, Nick Zano and Dominic Purcell also starring. ★★★ (Also on Blu-ray)

"EDDIE MURPHY 14-MOVIE COLLECTION

This expansive grouping of DVDs spans the "Saturday Night Live" alum's whole history of moviemaking at Paramount Pictures, and by and large, his earliest films there are the best. Solid examples: "48 HRS.," with Murphy as a temporarily released convict helping a grouchy cop (Nick Nolte) track escaped fugitives; Trading Places," an extremely smart comedy about the financial world, casting Murphy and fellow "SNL" veteran Dan Aykroyd as men of very different stations in life who literally do trade places; and the mega-hit "Beverly Hills Cop," featuring Murphy as a Detroit police detective who heads for California to probe a friend's murder. Also included is Murphy's Oscarnominated turn in the screen version of the stage hit "Dreamgirls," casting him as a music star whose career starts on a downslide.  $\star\star\star$  (PG, PG-13 and R: AS, N, P, V)

"ROYAL PAINS: THE COMPLETE SERIES"

The former USA Network comedy-drama about an ex-emergency-room doctor in relative paradise (played by Mark Feuerstein), privately marketing his services to those who need them and are willing to pay handsomely for them - in the posh Hamptons of Long Island, N.Y., gets full-set treatment on DVD. Paulo Costanzo plays his brother, who becomes his partner in the business they dub HankMed, with Jill Flint as a hospital administrator who becomes involved with the medic both personally and professionally. Henry Winkler made recurring appearances over the show's eight seasons as the siblings' father in an enjoyable cast that also included Reshma Shetty, Brooke D'Orsay and Camobell Scott.  $\star\star\star$  (Not rated: AS, P)

Voit proves he's the real deal for the Yankees

From a man without a job to a critical cog, Luke Voit has enjoyed a meteoric rise with the New York Yankees.

Indeed, in their 29-year-old first baseman, the Bombers have a budding star who has raked more or less consistently since his arrival in the Bronx.

Acquired in July 2018 from the St. Louis Cardinals, where he was blocked from a starting job by Jose Martinez, the Missouri native quickly rewarded Yankee GM Brian Cashman's confidence in him by batting .333 with 14 home runs a 1.095 OPS in 39 games.

He followed that up in 2019 with more impressive mashing, again batting .333, this time with 17 homers and a .959 OPS in 78 games. An All-Star berth seemed to be in his future when

An abdominal injury suffered while running the bases put him on the shelf for two months and when he returned in late August, he clearly wasn't the same player, as reflected in his final stats (.262, 21, .842). But offseason surgery appears to have corrected the problem.

This year, he's managed to stay healthy while mates Giancarlo Stanton, Aaron Judge, DJ LeMahieu and Gleyber Torres have landed on the IL. More importantly, he's been his old self, as of late August batting .311 with 10 homers and a 1.115 .OPS in 21 games. At the moment, he's the centerpiece of an offense that's expected to be swinging away well into October.

Voit can be seen in action Sunday, Sept. 20, on TBS, when the Yankees close out a three-game series at Fenway Park against the Boston Red Sox.

Breaking bread and discussing the issues on Amazon's 'Pan y Circo'

Diego Luna is an actor, writer and producer best known for his role as Mexican drug cartel leader Miguel Angel Felix Gallardo in the Netflix drama series "Narcos: Mexico." But he's also a citizen concerned about the problems facing the world and his native Mexico these days, which is why he created "Pan y Circo."

Currently streaming on Amazon in Spanish with English subtitles, the seven-episode series (whose title translates to "Bread & Circus") from Luna and fellow actor Gael Garcia Bernal's production company La Corriente del Golfo uses a sumptuous meal as the vehicle to get together people of differing points of view to converse about the issues of the day and hopefully come to a better understanding of one another.

The dinner guests are politicians, activists, Nobel Laureates, film, music or literature professionals, scientists and even an astronaut and discussions revolve around topics such as gender violence, the climate crisis, abortion, racism and identity, immigration and COVID-19. All meals are prepared by world-class chefs in varying locations around Mexico. Luna moderates the conversations.

The idea, the actor says, is to get people not only talking, but listening.

"I think everyone is shouting these days," he says. "You know, social media is a great example of that, but no one listens. And by listening ... we find out what we can do together, the way we can connect. And polarized societies are very dangerous, and that's where we're heading in the states, in Mexico, in Brazil, in you name it. So the idea of this was to do the show, as a citizen, I would like to see, I would like to participate (in). And, also, to do a show where I can get closer to cooks. ... So it was a chance to step away from fiction and talk about the real world, the one that should be worrying us today so much."

The meals have three courses, each with a meaning – basically, a past, present and future of the issue at hand. All diners are asked to give up their cellphones for the evening and no toxic voices are allowed. So for instance the climate change dinner would have no climate change deniers.

Still, tensions would flare and arguments would break out but the intimate dinner setting and the opulent spread managed to alleviate any lingering animus. The wine and Mezcal also helped.

"By the end, it was one of those lunches you have that suddenly become dinners," Luna says. "You know, that suddenly you realize you've been there for four hours and you still want to stay. The best part is that every time I said, 'OK, we're going to stop shooting, and this is the end of the show. We can stay here,' everyone stayed for at least a half hour. Everyone wanted to keep going, and it was a nice experience for everyone, even those who were confronted (about) their positions."

"All or Nothing: Tottenham Hotspur"

The English Premier League soccer team is at the center of the latest round of the documentary series, which gives a behindthe-scenes look at the club's operations, the arrival of new head coach José Mourinho, its move to a brand new stadium in North London and the response to the league's pandemic-induced shutdown. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Dino Dana: The Movie"

This feature-length movie finds the titular 10-year-old protagonist off on an adventure after a neighbor finds her Dino Field Guide, which enables her to see dinosaurs, and winds up being taken away by the T-Rex, who thinks she's one of her babies. It's up to Dana, with the help of others, to get her back. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: The Addams Family"

After enjoying success as a magazine cartoon, a TV sitcom and two live-action movie comedies, Charles Addams' macabre characters earned more box-office bucks in the form of this 2019 computer-animated black comedy, with Oscar Isaac and Charlize Theron lending their voices to Gomez and Morticia. The movie opens with the couple living with their family in self-imposed exile in an abandoned New Jersey asylum, shielded from the disapproving "normal" world.

"Utopia"

From writer/creator Gillian Flynn ("Sharp Objects," "Gone Girl") comes this conspiracy thriller series about a group of young adults who must save the world when they discover the conspiracy written about in a graphic novel is indeed real. John Cusack ("Maps to the Stars"), Desmin Borges ("You're the Worst"), Dan Byrd ("Cougar Town") and Christopher Denham ("Billions") head the solid cast. (ORIGINAL)
