Kaley Cuoco is 'The Flight Attendant' in new HBO Max melodrama

It's been a while since "The Big Bang Theory" ended, and now, Kaley Cuoco's career is taking flight again.

Though she voiced the title character in an animated "Harley Quinn" show, the actress' main focus has been on the Chris Bohjalian bestseller "The Flight Attendant" as both star and executive producer. The limited HBO Max drama-with-humor starts streaming the first three of its eight episodes Thursday, Nov. 26, with Cuoco playing Cassie Bowden, a stewardess with no memory of what happened when she wakes up in a hotel room with a dead man near her.

"Over the past few years, I've been looking at books to maybe produce or different stories that kind of were interesting to me," Cuoco says, "but nothing excited me. And honestly, I read one little snippet (of this), a line of the book on Amazon. It just was one sentence and I got like this weird chill, and I called my team and said, 'Hey, I'd love to look at the rights to this book.'

A bidding war ended with Cuoco winning the screen rights, "and I'm like, 'Now what do I do?' I didn't believe it. I brought it to Warner Bros. and I said, 'You know what? I think this is a great character. I think this could be a really great show.' " The studio then matched her with prolific producer Greg Berlanti - king of The CW's DC Universe, plus many other series - in making "The Flight Attendant."

Rosie Perez, Michiel Huisman ("Game of Thrones"), Zosia Mamet ("Girls") and "Grey's Anatomy" alum T.R. Knight are among additional stars. For all her television experience, dating back to "8 Simple Rules" and the original "Charmed," Cuoco notes she has learned a lot from "The Flight Attendant" providing her first major involvement behind the cameras.

"I thought if we could find the right team and bring some levity to such a dark book, it could be kind of cool," she reflects. "I laughed over the last few years working on this. I was like, 'I know too much!' Sometimes, you just don't want to know all the stuff that's going on ... but it's been totally career-changing for me just to see it from the beginning, and to kind of go with my gut on things and make my own decisions.

Work on "The Flight Attendant" was shut down for several months by the coronavirus pandemic, when production almost was completed. The tale has given Cuoco a new appreciation of the title profession, having kept closer watch on stewardesses while traveling.

"I can't help it," she confirms. "Now, after doing this project, I'll be noticing flight attendants probably for the rest of my life."

"The Prom" (Netflix - movie premiere, Dec. 11)

Facing the crisis of an expensive Broadway flop, two stage stars (Meryl Streep, James Corden) see an opportunity to revive their careers by turning celebrity activists for an Indiana teen (newcomer Jo Ellen Pellman) who was banned from her prom for wanting to take her girlfriend as her date. The impressive cast for director Ryan Murphy ("American Horror Story' also includes Nicole Kidman, Keegan-Michael Key, Kerry Washington, Andrew Rannells and Tracey Ullman.

"The Bee Gees: How Can You Mend a Broken Heart" (HBO — movie premiere, Dec. 12)

What's Available NOW On

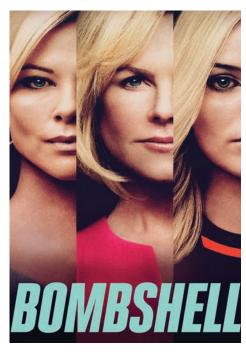

"Giada's Holiday Handbook" The Food Network mainstay offers up creative, fun and relatively simple entertaining ideas for different holidays and special occasions in the first four seasons of this cablenet series. In each episode, she presents recipes and tips for making themed party favors for guests, be it at a Thanksgiving meal or a Yuletide bash, along with ideas for music and decor pairings.

"Movie: Braking for Whales" Writer/director Sean McEwen ("The Dougherty Gang") teamed with wife Tammin Sursok ("Pretty Little Liars") to make this 2020 dramedy about estranged siblings (Sursok, who cowrote the script, and Tom Felton, the "Harry Potter" movies) who must come together on a road trip to satisfy their deceased mother's absurd final wish, that her ashes be disposed of in the body of a whale.

"Tia Mowry at Home" "Sister, Sister" actress Tia Mowry-Hardrict shows off her chops in the kitchen in this 2015-17 unscripted series that aired on the Cooking Channel, which shows her in her everyday life as a wife, mother and thespian, but mainly preparing sumptuous meals for her family and friends. Guest stars including actresses Kelly Rowland, Wendy Raquel Robinson and the late Naya Rivera make appearances.

"Movie: Bombshell"

Charlize Theron and Margot Robbie reaped a bonanza of awards season love for their performances — as Fox News colleagues Megyn Kelly and Kayla Pospisil — in Jay Roach's 2019 drama that chronicles how several women at that cable news outlet teamed up to expose executive Roger Ailes (John Lithgow) for sexual harassment. Nicole Kidman and Kate McKinnon also star.

THE IRISHMAN

Martin Scorsese made big news for Netflix last year by going to the streaming service with this epic drama, also newsworthy for its reteaming of two Oscar-winning acting icons, Robert De Niro and Al Pacino. The film is based on the true story of Frank Sheeran (De Niro), a trucker turned underworld underling who develops a friendship with union leader Jimmy Hoffa (Pacino). In the tradition of such other crime-driven Scorsese works as "GoodFellas," "Casino" and "The Departed," the alliance becomes complicated when Sheeran's boss - crime-family kingpin Russell Bufalino (Joe Pesci, another longtime Scorsese associate and Academy Award owner) orders Hoffa's demise, and Sheeran to be the person to get it done. Clocking in at 3-1/2 hours and being released on home video as part of The Criterion Collection, the project also earned attention for its visual effects in sequences that make De Niro and Pacino appear younger. Nominated for 10 Oscars (though it didn't win any), the picture also includes Harvey Keitel, Anna Paquin, Ray Romano, Jack Huston and Bobby Cannavale in its impressive cast. DVD extras: theatrical trailers; four "making-of" documentaries; roundtable conversation with Scorsese, De Niro, Pacino and Pesci; interview excerpts of Sheeran and Hoffa. * (R: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

In addition to copious archival footage, the feature-length documentary from Frank Marshall ("The Curious Case of Benjamin Button") includes interviews with Eric Clapton, Noel Gallagher, Nick

Robert Forster - to whom the first episode here, shown after his passing, is dedicated - reappears in his "Breaking Bad" role, as do Norbert Weisser and Laura Fraser; Ed Begley Jr. returns from earlier in this series. Also a producer of the film, Jessica Chastain went the direct-to-streaming route recently with this melodrama that reteamed her with "The Help" director Tate Taylor. She plays a professional assassin trying to balance her job obligations and her Boston-based personal life, which encompasses an estranged sister (Jess Weixler) and a hospitalized mother (Geena Davis). Her own existence becomes imperiled when her supervisor (Colin Farrell) starts to question her methods, including her making contact with her targets before executing literally – her assignments. The globetrotting tale also features John Malkovich, Common, Diana Silvers (of "Ma," also made by Taylor), Ioan Gruffudd and Joan Chen.  (R: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"BUCK ROGERS IN THE 25TH CENTURY"

After the initial success of the "Star Wars" franchise gave a new sheen to space stories, every studio looked for any property it had that might fit that mold ... and Universal dusted off the 1920s-originated saga of a then-modern pilot sent off course and into suspended animation,

Also notable is robotic sidekick Twiki, with Felix Silla inside the metallic outfit and cartoon legend Mel Blanc supplying the voice. Also starring Henry Silva and "Dr. No's" Joseph Wiseman, this pilot film (which received a theatrical release) for the NBC series is available on its own, though a complete-collection set also is being issued - and a lot of the sets and props were borrowed from "Battlestar Galactica." ★★★ (PG: AS, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

"FRONTLINE: POLICING THE POLICE 2020"

With the PBS public-affairs series' aim of examining timely topics, it's no surprise that this episode – a follow-up to a similarly titled and themed program also done by reporter Jelani Cobb several years ago – probes the controversial situations involving police departments in a number of U.S. cities lately. Certainly, the deaths of George Floyd and others while being apprehended have been among the most prominent of those matters, reinforcing an entire social movement and calling into question the funding of police in certain localities. Along with officers, some of them at a precinct Cobb also visited in his earlier edition, community leaders and politicians are among the interviewees here.  (Not rated: AS, P, V)

playerprofile Big Ben playing even bigger for dominant Steelers

A big comeback year for Ben Roethlisberger has the Pittsburgh Steelers thinking Super Bowl once again. Indeed, at 38 and a little over a year removed from elbow surgery, Big Ben isn't showing any signs of slowing down. Through six games in 2020 (all Steelers wins), he's connected on over 68 percent of his passes for 1,446 yards and 13 touchdowns against only four interceptions for a quarterback rating of 99.6. Not gaudy numbers by any stretch but certainly an indicator he's playing solid football with minimal mistakes.

That was evident in his best game of the year in Week 5, when he completed 27 of 34 passes for 239 yards and three TDs and no interceptions in a 38-29 home victory against the crossstate rival Philadelphia Eagles. In that game, Roethlisberger connected twice with rookie receiver Chase Claypool on scores.

In his 17th year in the league, Roethlisberger has shown a willingness to improve his game, trying to build relationships with young receivers like Claypool while working on his footwork and placement of his deep ball.

Pittsburgh center Maurkice Pouncey has taken notice, and he credits Roethlisberger with bringing out the best in his receivers. "When you have a great quarterback with a skill set like that," he said, "you can just attack different areas of the football field." Roethlisberger and the Steelers face a big test Thursday, Nov. 26, when they take on their AFC North rivals the Baltimore Ravens in a Thanksgiving night contest airing on NBC.

tasty tv BY GEORGE DICKIE It's Thanksgiving turkey with a twist courtesy of Food Network

This Thursday, Nov. 26, Americans will sit down at their dining room tables and consume what has been the national Thanksgiving meal for over a century: roast turkey, gravy, potatoes and stuffing followed by pumpkin pie for dessert. Yawn.

It's all become so formulaic that perhaps you're thinking it's time to break away from the same-old, same-old and try something different. If you answer to that description, Food Network has a few ideas designed to breathe new life into the traditional holiday feedbag and make your guests sit up and take notice – that is, if you can get them away from the football games and parades on TV.

Giada De Laurentiis has a few suggestions in her Food Network series "Giada's Holiday Handbook" bright and early on Sunday, Nov. 22, putting an Italian spin on the holiday bird with a turkey braciole, served with bacon stuffing with radicchio and chestnuts, and Brussels sprouts agrodolce. And for dessert, it's a parmesan apple pie. Molto Italiano!

Ina Garten also has a few outside-the-box ideas that morning on Food's "Barefoot Contessa" which finds her preparing a Tuscan turkey roulade, chipotle smashed sweet potatoes, roasted potatoes and for dessert, a pumpkin flan with maple caramel. Who can resist?

At midday on "Barefoot Contessa," Garten returns to tackle Thanksgiving sides, offering up ideas for comestibles such as a mushroom and leek bread pudding with gravy and cranberry fruit conserve, haricots verts with dill and hazelnuts, Brussels sprouts with bacon and a celery root and apple puree. Imaginative fare from an imaginative chef.

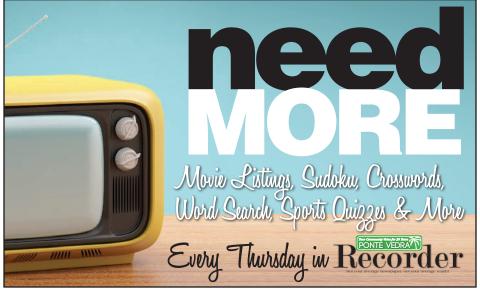

Over on the digital side, Giada De Laurentiis is at it again on "Giada's Holiday Handbook" (www.foodnetwork.com/shows/ giadas-holiday-handbook/episodes/giadasitalian-thanksgiving), putting Italian twists on holiday classics with polenta popovers with lemon butter, baked turkey parmesan, sweet and salty mashed potatoes and a dessert of chocolate pumpkin cheesecake souffle. Deliciosa!

"Thanksgiving on the Grill" (www. foodnetwork.com/shows/boy-meets-grill/ episodes/thanksgiving-on-the-grill), an episode of Bobby Flay's "Boy Meets Grill," finds the New York City native going to "Spaghetti Park" on Corona Heights, Queens, to prepare a feast for the local Italian-American community. On the menu is an apple-sage-glazed grilled whole turkey breast with grilled apples, orange-glazed grilled acorn squash and grilled polenta with morel vinaigrette, all washed down with mulled cider.

And if you want to try your hand at deep-frying a turkey, Alton Brown has a few pointers in a segment from his "Good Eats" series (www.foodnetwork.com/recipes/altonbrown/deep-fried-turkey-recipe-1952235), as he shows how to do it safely, logically and, most importantly, deliciously. Though the prep takes much longer, the actual cooking time for his small bird was about a half hour.
