Future Home Loans combines fun, expertise during process

Future Home Loans all started in Jacksonville Beach in 2017 with a group of people who wanted to improve the homebuying and refinancing experience.

With that in mind, the company was created and a handful of years later that goal of creating a place they would e comfortable sending family and friends remains at the forefront.

Just like any business, it began small, but word quickly spread, and they are currently have about 100 members as part of the Future Home Loans family and span across the southeastern United States.

Over the years they have had more than 1,500 fivestar experiences and thousands of home loans closed during that time.

The staff at Future Home Loans is comprised of a team of top producing loan originators, many of which chose the business after having enough of working for larger financial institutions and were looking for a new approach.

Treating employees with the value and respect they deserve is a cornerstone at Future Home Loans, as the business believes that having strong relationships amongst team members extends to the consumers.

The company has grown its impact outside of just Jacksonville, and their reach now includes Melbourne, Charlotte, North Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia.

However, despite the growth, they have been able to maintain the same goal they have had the entire time, with the only difference being that they are now serving a larger geographic area.

The Future Home Loans motto is "Some promise good service, some promise great rates, but our goal is to offer both. A great rate and A+ customer experience."

That motto proves that they strive to treat each client like family and do not treat them as if they are just another transaction or a volume number, but instead they never forget they are a person.

Providing that type of high-level customer experience is made possible thanks to a mixture of fun, expertise and balance.

The company hosts kickball tournaments, happy hour events and monthly yoga sessions in attempt to remember that life is about having fun, but they back that up with a staff of experts passionate about their work. Together they have created a perfect mix of both working hard and playing hard.

Services offered include financial, mortgages, veterans' affairs (We are veteran owned and focused), Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and portfolio products.

When someone walks into the Future Home Loans office they are looking for ways to achieve the dream of homeownership and are usually looking for mortgages or financial help along the path to turning that dream into a reality.

Hence the name of the business, Future Home Loans, which pretty much explains what they seek to do for every client that asks for their assistance in the process of owning a home.

Future Home Loans' Jacksonville Beach office is located at 315 11th Ave. N. in Jacksonville Beach.

"Movie: Rosaline"

This feature-length comedic take on Shakespeare's Romeo & Juliet stars Kaitlyn Dever ("Dopesick") as Rosaline, the jilted ex of Romeo (Kyle Allen, "West Side Story") who launches an effort to get him back when she sees him pursuing Juliet (Isabela Merced, "Instant Family"). Minnie Driver, Bradley Whitford and Sean Teale also star for director Karen Maine ("Yes, God, Yes"). (ORIGINAL)

"Schitt's Creek"

Canadian comedy legend Eugene Levy reteamed with his frequent colleague Catherine O'Hara in this 2015-20 sitcom (which he co-created with his son, Dan) in which he stars as filthy rich video store magnate Johnny Rose, who suddenly finds himself broke, forcing Johnny, his soap star wife Moira (O'Hara) and their two kids (Dan Levy, Annie Murphy) to move to a small, depressing hamlet they once bought as a joke.

"Movie: Matriarch"

After she nearly dies of an overdose, a young advertising executive (Jemima Rooper, "The Girlfriend Experience") returns home to her estranged mother (Kate Dickie, "Red Road") and a sleepy English village with a terrifying dark secret in this horror flick from writer/director Ben Steiner ("Monsterland 2"). Sarah Paul, Simon Meacock and Christina Cole also star. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: The French Dispatch"

A huge, star-filled ensemble cast is among the chief attractions of this whimsical 2021 dramedy anthology from director/co-writer Wes Anderson. The eccentric plot follows three diverse storylines as the French foreign bureau of the (completely fictional) Liberty, Kansas, Evening Star newspaper publishes its first issue. The cast includes Frances McDormand, Benicio del Toro, Adrien Brody, Tilda Swinton, Timothée Chalamet, Jeffrey Wright, Bill Murray and Owen Wilson.

Netflix's 'Drink Masters' create art you can sip

Nexflix's "Drink Masters" is about so much more than who makes the best margarita or gin and tonic.

No, the competition series that begins streaming its 10 40-minute episodes Friday, Oct. 28, is more about the artistic side of mixing drinks. Here, 12 of the most skillful and creative bartenders – or mixologists as the series refers to them - are tasked with infusing, stirring and blending their way through a gauntlet of high-stakes cocktail challenges. The victor, as judged by award-winning bar entrepreneurs Julie Reiner and Frankie Solarik, moves on to vie for the chance at winning a $100,000 grand prize at season's end. Actor Tone Bell ("The Flash") is the host.

But these aren't your father's cocktails. These are drinks that often tell a story - about the drink itself, the contestant or something else. And the story doesn't necessarily have to be only in the glass. It could be on a small tray with other ingredients surrounding the glass. If there was a Michelin star for mixologists, these folks would have one.

It's really outside-the-box thinking on the part of the contestants, all of whom have culinary backgrounds and thus take is liquid art," Warren says. "You know, that approach to their liquid creations.

"They really have a culinary background because it's the mixing, combining of flavors and really changing the composition of certain ingredients into something different," explains executive producer Tim Warren ("Bar Rescue," "Undercover Billionaire"). "So yeah, they're bartenders, they've all been strictly behind the bar, many of them have their own bar but they've kind of elevated cocktails to a whole different level. ... So they have this combination of great bartender skills as well as a culinary background/appreciation. And that combination is what enables them to create these unbelievable drinks."

In the first episode, the contestants are challenged to make one of the world's most requested drinks, the margarita, what we know as a mixture of triple sec, lime juice and tequila with salt on the rim of the glass. But these folks are using odd ingredients like gelatin, tea, elderberry and smoked salt to make their interpretations, which range from a deconstructed margarita to a Japaneseinspired variation.

What the judges want to taste is something they've never had before - a tall order for this drink - but one that still captures its essence. And always with complexity and creativity.

"What these mixologists are creating that's really what these are. So very much (like) 'Blown Away,' (where) they're creating these pieces of art with glass, our mixologists are creating art with their cocktails - or cocktail art, if you will."
