David Furr and Louisa Jacobson in "The Gilded Age"

Operatic opposition: HBO period drama lifts curtain on Season 2

Whether first heard as a quippy one-liner from famous New York humorist Fran Lebowitz ("Pretend It's a City") or read in Esther Crain's book "The Gilded Age in New York, 1870–1910," there is little doubt you've heard about New York City's penchant for change. Per Crain's aforementioned book, released in 2016 and available through most major booksellers, "the most common observation about New York is that it never stops evolving."

This is especially true in the HBO series "The Gilded Age," premiering Season 2 on its home network and the Max streaming service Sunday, Oct. 29. Starring Carrie Coon ("Gone Girl," 2014), Cynthia Nixon ("Sex and the City") and Christine Baranski ("Mamma Mia!," 2008) as some of New York's finest wealthy gossips, the series follows a group of business moguls and socialites as they work hard to make a name for themselves and build an empire in New York City during the turn of the 20th century.

Coon stars as Bertha Russell, a "new money heiress" who caused some major waves in Season 1 alongside her husband, railroad tycoon George Russell (Morgan Spector, "The Plot Against America"), and her fellow socialite Mrs. Caroline Astor (Donna Murphy, "The Nanny Diaries," 2007), the leader of aristocratic social society called The Four Hundred. With her own societal standing foremost in her sights, Bertha often stirs up more trouble than is necessary to get what she wants.

Also to blame for her fair bit of trouble is Marian Brook (new talent Louisa Jacobson), who fell on hard times when her father died in the series premiere and began Season 1 by moving into her estranged aunts' house for a bit of a lifestyle makeover in the Big Apple. Marian's aunts, Ada Brook (Nixon) and Agnes Van Rhijn (Baranski), both belong to the old-money world and thus have very particular views on how things should be done among New York's finest. While Marian does her best to please her aunts, she has also learned that not everyone subscribes to her family's conservative school of thought.

Returning alongside Coon, Murphy, Jacobson, Nixon and Baranski for Season 2 is Denée Benton ("UnREAL"), who plays highly motivated writer Peggy Scott, who moved from Pennsylvania to New York City with Marian. Despite holding down a job as Agnes' secretary, Peggy is of respectable societal standing herself and has come to enjoy the company of her old friend in a new city. She also enjoys testing the boundaries set in place by those in high-up positions, often complicating matters for herself and those closest to her.

Headed into the show's second season, the Primetime Emmy-winning series follows more of the petticoat-clad drama that comes along with Gilded-era expansion. This time, according to the official HBO trailer, it seems that the bulk of the hullabaloo centers on the world of the operatic arts. More specifically, it likely revolves around the 1886 closing of the Metropolitan Opera House.

As newcomers to the show (and maybe even some avid fans) may not yet know, "The Gilded Age" takes many of its plot lines from the annals of history. While hardly to be considered a true story, the first season held to realities of the robber barons of the late 1800s, like the railroading Russells. (The Astors were also a real family, fictionalized for the series.) Now headed into its second season, "The Gilded Age" is placing its focus on the so-called "Opera House War" of the 1890s and the subsequent end of the "Knickerbocker era."

“All The Light We Cannot See” (Nov. 2)

Based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, this series follows the story of Marie-Laure (Aria Mia Loberti), a blind French girl, and her father, Daniel (Mark Ruffalo), who flee German-occupied Paris with a legendary diamond to keep it from falling into the hands of the Nazis. Relentlessly pursued by a Gestapo officer, Marie-Laure and Daniel soon find refuge. Here, Marie-Laure’s path collides inexorably with the unlikeliest of kindred spirits: Werner (Louis Hofmann), a brilliant teenager enlisted by Hitler’s regime.

“Nyad” (Nov. 3)

This film tells the remarkable true story of athlete Diana Nyad (Annette Bening) who, at the age of 60 and with the help of her best friend and coach, Bonnie Still (Jodie Foster), commits to achieving her life-long dream: a 110-mile open ocean swim from Cuba to Florida, often referred to as the “Mount Everest” of swims.

“Ferry: The Series” - Season 1 (Nov. 3)

A spinoff of Netflix’s “Undercover,” this new series tells the story of drug lord Ferry Bouman (Frank Lammers), as he rises from obscurity and tries to get a foothold in the Brabant underworld. Together with John (Raymond Thiry), brother-in-law Lars (Yannick van de Velde), Remco (Tim Haars) and Dennis (Huub Smit), he fights the immovable drug lord Arie Tack (Steeff Cuijpers) and a notorious motorcycle club to win his place at the top. But, he quickly learns that greatness comes with a price.

“Blue Eye Samurai” - Season 1 (Nov. 3)

This provocative and visually stunning cinematic series immerses the viewer in a world of vivid adult animation with a live-action edge. Set in Edo-period Japan, the series follows Mizu (voiced by Maya Erskine), a mixed-race master of the sword who lives a life in disguise seeking the deliverance of revenge. The voice cast also includes George Takei, Masi Oka, Cary-Hiro-yuki Tagawa, Brenda Song, Darren Barnet, Randall Park and Kenneth Branagh.

Taste and talent: Peruvian chef Franco Noriega sizzles in 'Hot Dish'

Good food and good stories — that's what makes a perfect meal. And having tried everything — from acting to modeling to competitive swimming — before becoming a professional restaurateur, this Peruvian chef certainly has both to share. All-new episodes of "Hot Dish With Franco" air Saturdays on Food Network.

During this series, "Franco shares personal heartfelt stories of his Peruvian and Italian roots as he prepares delicious dishes with his signature flare for flavor," Food Network describes. "From quick and easy weeknight meals to brunch and classic Latin dishes with a twist, all of Franco's food is easy, accessible and brings people together."

Even before the show's premiere, Noriega's enthusiasm for the program was evident. "Delicious food has always been central in my life as some of my favorite memories have been in the kitchen eating and cooking with my family and traveling across the world enjoying fantastic meals. Now, I'm thrilled to share my favorite recipes and lifelong passion for cooking with Food Network viewers," he recently shared.

Throughout the series' six half-hour episodes, Food Network promises that "Franco takes viewers on a culinary journey, sprinkling in tidbits of his Latin American and Italian background along with cooking tips and tricks," exploring everything from cheese-covered Arepas with Chorizo and Vegetable Ceviche to Crispy Parmesan Lemon Asparagus, Deconstructed Tiramisu and ooey-goey Lava Chocolate Chip Cookies in previously aired episodes.

During the season's fifth episode, chef Franco invites viewers to taste a Peruvian-inspired feast — what he dubs the perfect comfort food. "Crispy and fluffy Baby Arepas with melted cheese and chorizo are the perfect appetizer," the episode description promises, "and there's nothing more comforting than juicy Pollo a la Brasa with crispy skin, smothered in a spicy green sauce. Papas Huancaína with a Spicy Cheese Sauce makes for the perfect side, especially when paired with a Pisco Sour."

Finally, during the series' upcoming Season 1 finale, Franco tackles brunch, sharing his recipe for piled-high Avocado Toast before crafting an elevated take on Tex-Mex Huevos Rancheros, complete with fried tortilla strips then covered in homemade salsa, refried beans, crema and fried eggs.

Bursting with flavor and Franco's signature flair, the Season 1 finale for "Hot Dish With Franco" airs Saturday, Nov. 4, on Food Network.

Frances Dade and Bela Lugosi in "Dracula"

Frankenstein: Though Boris Karloff established the legend of playing Dr. Frankenstein's monster, the screen incarnation pre-dated him, going back to 1910 — and actors from Lon Chaney Jr. to Robert De Niro would succeed him. Turner Classic Movies shows the 1931 Karloff version during the concluding day of a two-day Halloween "Terror-Thon" Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Dracula: Here's another situation where one actor (Bela Lugosi) made a frightening role his trademark, but others actually played it before he did, including in the unauthorized adaptation "Nosferatu." Christopher Lee and (on both stage and screen)

Frank Langella also would become noted for their interpretations of the character.

The Wolfman: Yet another fear-instilling figure brought to the screen many times, this was another character Lon Chaney Jr. was renowned for ... though other performers to sprout a lot of hair upon a full moon have included Benicio Del Toro and (in a Mike Nichols-directed modernization) Jack Nicholson.

The Mummy: Karloff also got to do extra monster duty with a part he got all wrapped up in, quite literally. Arnold Vosloo inherited the role (and the bountiful bandages) in a modern retelling and its sequel, and another remake starred Tom Cruise.

King Kong: The mightiest ape of all first reigned supreme in a 1933 stop-motion-animation milestone in which he famously carried a shrieking Fay Wray, then returned in a 1976 version (with Jessica Lange in his massive palm) and director Peter Jackson's 2005 version (featuring Naomi Watts as the apple of Kong's eye).

Godzilla: Originated in Japan and brought to America in a 1956 version of the initial movie that added scenes featuring Raymond Burr, this giant sea monster has been revived on film numerous times in projects of varying quality, the most notable of which starred Matthew Broderick (1998) and Bryan Cranston (2014).

Still reeling from Nolan's (J.K. Simmons) betrayal in Season One, Mark struggles to rebuild his life as he faces a host of new threats, all while battling his greatest fear — that he might become his father without even knowing it.

Benjamin Evan Ainsworth and Malcolm McDowell in “Son of a Critch”

Q: Seeing Malcolm McDowell on “Son of a Critch” has made me think that I saw him play Mr. Roarke on a version of “Fantasy Island.” Am I right? – Stan Phillips, via e-mail

A: You are. The McDowell-starring 1998-99 ABC variation on the theme was the second pass at the concept about guests flying to an island to have their fantasies fulfilled, though typically with twists they didn't expect. While McDowell assumed the role that Ricardo Montalban originated, initial assistant Tattoo (who had been played by Herve Villechaize) was replaced by Ariel (Madchen Amick), an elderly woman who was able to adopt different appearances ... including her most frequent one that made her look much younger. McDowell's “Fantasy Island” lasted only a half-season, but it wasn't the last stand for the premise. It inspired a 2020 feature film, one of the last movies to get a wide release before the coronavirus pandemic, with Michael Pena starring as Mr. Roarke (and Lucy Hale and Maggie Q among those playing guests). Then in 2021, Fox launched another “Fantasy Island” series led by Roselyn Sanchez as Elena Roarke, who was a grand niece of Mr. Roarke (Montalban's incarnation, since the update — which ran for two seasons — was linked in certain ways to the very first version of the show).

A real “Fantasy”: Malcolm McDowell played Mr. Roarke

Q: When I watched the Adam Sandler movie “Big Daddy,” I saw that it said, “Introducing Dylan and Cole Sprouse as Julian.” Was that the same Cole Sprouse who played Jughead on “Riverdale”? – Amy Strand, Joliet, Ill.

A: Yes. He worked with his twin brother Dylan a number of times when they were starting their careers, and they had shared the role of Patrick Kelly on TV's “Grace Under Fire” earlier. Cole also played Ross's (David Schwimmer) son Ben on “Friends,” and he was Cody in the popular show “The Suite Life of Zack & Cody.” After doing more TV work principally for Disney Channel, he portrayed Jughead throughout the seven seasons of “Riverdale,” which ended its run on The CW recently.

“Tim Burton’s The Nightmare Before Christmas” - 30th Anniversary (Oct. 31)

Jack Skellington (voiced by Chris Sarandon with singing by Danny Elfman), the pumpkin king of Halloween Town, is bored with doing the same thing every year for Halloween. One day he stumbles into Christmas Town, and is so taken with the idea of Christmas that he tries to get the resident bats, ghouls, and goblins of Halloween Town to help him put on Christmas instead of Halloween — but alas, they can't get it quite right.

“Behind the Attraction” - Season 2 (Nov. 1)

This docuseries explores how each attraction came to be, how it's changed over time and why fans still love it today (per Disney). This season, the series dives into the history of the Haunted Mansion, the Pirates of the Caribbean, how The Twilight Zone Tower of Terror transformed into Guardians of the Galaxy – Mission: Breakout! and more.

Two of my friends recommended Creeks to me and I'm so glad they did. The estimator was friendly, open and honest and gave several options and the installers were courteous, on time and cleaned up the working area. Plus, the system works great. No one likes to have to buy a new AC in the middle of summer, but their price was fair and the work was good. Highly recommend! - Renay T.
