Christopher Chung in "Slow Horses"

Picking up speed: MI-5 agents ramp up in third season of 'Slow Horses'

The phrase "You can't teach an old dog new tricks" may or may not be true, but Apple TV+ has proven that, at least when it comes to horses, even the slowest ones can gain speed. Based on the Slough House book series by English novelist Mick Herron, "Slow Horses" begins its third season with two fresh episodes Friday, Dec. 1, on Apple TV+.

The first season of the Gary Oldman ("Darkest Hour," 2017) -led series kicked off on the streamer in April 2022 and made good use of Herron's first Slough House novel, "Slow Horses," for which the show's is named. Season 2 continued the author's saga, taking its plot details from the literary series' second book, "Dead Lions." Now, heading into its third season to be released within a year and a half, the newest instalment will follow the tradition of pulling content chronologically from the novels, this time focusing on Herron's "Real Tigers," the third book in the series.

On screen, the spy dramedy follows a group of aging and disgraced MI-5 agents, who all appear to have lived out their usefulness within the high-ranking British espionage organization. As such, the agents have been relegated to another department, "known un-affectionately as Slough House," where a large part of their job involves sitting behind a desk and pushing papers; a low-stakes operation for agents who have made "career-ending mistakes."

Slough House is headed up by "brilliant but misanthropic leader" Jackson Lamb (Oldman), and also acts as a sort of workplace home to recovering alcoholic Catherine Standish (Saskia Reeves, "Luther"); former hactivist Roddy Ho (Christopher Chung, "Waterloo Road"); Louisa Guy (Rosalind Eleazar, "Uncle Vanya," 2020), assigned to Slough House following a botched tailing job; and River Cartwright (Jack Lowden, "Dunkirk," 2017), whose desire to redeem himself in the field set the tone for the premiere season.

Other agents have come and gone over the seasons, including Jed Moody (Steven Waddington, "Jamestown"), Struan Loy (Paul Higgins, "Apostle," 2018), Min Harper (Dustin Demri-Burns, "Cardinal Burns"), Shirley Dander (Aimee Ffon-Edwards, "Peaky Blinders"), Marcus Longridge (Kadiff Kirwan, "This Is Going to Hurt") and Sidonie "Sid" Baker (Olivia Cooke, "Bates Motel"), the last of whom was a competent MI-5 agent assigned to Slough House for seemingly unknown reasons.

Headed into Season 3, many Season 1 and/or 2 characters are expected to return, including Lamb; Cartwright; Ho; Guy and Standish; MI-5 director general and head of operations Diana Taverner (Kristin Scott Thomas, "Gosford Park," 2001); Cartwright's grandfather, retired intelligence officer David Cartwright (Jonathan Pryce, "Pirates of the Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl," 2003); and MI-5 agent James "Spider" Webb (Freddie Fox, "Victor Frankenstein," 2015). Supporting characters Harper, Dander and Longridge are also scheduled for Season-3 return.

In terms of the plot, Apple TV+ notes that the newest season of "Slow Horses" features "a romantic liaison in Istanbul [that] threatens to expose a buried MI-5 secret in London. When Jackson Lamb and his team of misfits are dragged into the fight, they find themselves caught in a conspiracy that threatens the future not just of Slough House but of MI-5 itself."

Some of the best news for fans of the show, however, is that Season 4 is also confirmed. Renewed for back-to-back seasons in June 2022, the Season-4 confirmation could mean a more dramatic end to Season 3, as writers know that the show is definitely returning.

“The Jinglebell Jubilee” (Dec. 3)

“We Live Here: The Midwest” (Dec. 6)

Every family experiences new challenges every day as they learn, grow and adapt together. But many families throughout America also face a rising tide of discrimination and hate in their churches, schools and even their own neighborhoods. Profiling families who are hoping to stay in a part of the country that they love, often where deep roots are already established, the film chronicles their journey to find happiness and safety where they are without having to compromise.

“Culprits” (Dec. 8)

This crime thriller kicks off where most crime stories end: after a high-stakes heist, when the crew of elite criminals have gone their separate ways and have tried to leave their old lives behind. Past and present collide when a ruthless assassin starts targeting them one by one. Why are they being stalked, who is behind the mayhem, and will they be able to find one another in time to protect themselves and the people they love? The series stars Nathan Stewart-Jarrett, Gemma Arterton, Niamh Algar, Kirby, Kamel El Basha, Tara Abboud, Kevin Vidal and Eddie Izzard.

“Meet Me Under the Mistletoe” (Dec. 9)

In this holiday film from Great American Family, rival real estate agents both make the exact same wish during the first snow of the winter: to win the most coveted listing in town. As the business competitors begrudgingly work together, they learn this house comes with a special commission: love. Starring Sarah Fisher and Simon Arblaster.

Christmas confections: 'Elf on the Shelf' comes to life in new baking competition

There are all sorts of elves, but only some are talented enough to make cookies for Santa. This all-new series puts confectioners to the test, as "The Elf on the Shelf: Sweet Showdown" continues with new episodes, airing Sundays on Food Network.

Hosted by Duff Goldman ("Holiday Baking Championship"), this five-episode, Christmas-themed series boasts chef Kardea Brown ("Delicious Miss Brown") and pastry chef Ashley Holt ("Bake Squad") as judges, rounding out a team of Christmas-loving cooks.

"Santa and his loyal Scout Elves, along with the help of legendary cake master Duff Goldman, will challenge six teams of sweetmakers in a competition full of surprises. Each week, the teams must create edible showpieces that bring the holiday season to life," a recent news release from Food Network describes — and with two challenges per episode, the season has already produced some crazy confectionary creations.

So far, teams have adopted their own Scout Elves, created personalized and edible shelves for them to enjoy, crafted show-stopping, snow globe showpieces, prepared for "elfie selfies" and tirelessly sewed the sugared seams of some runway-ready elf-fits — and the season's just begun.

Descriptions given by the network share that upcoming episodes will see more Christmas chaos, with a synopsis for the season's third episode describing: "the Scout Elves want to play the 12 Days of Christmas at their elf concert tonight, but they accidentally mixed up all the lyrics! Host Duff Goldman tasks the remaining teams with figuring out their jumbled lyrical prompts and delivering a twisted-up 12 Days of Elfmas showpiece."

During the fourth, "host Duff Goldman revs up the teams as they create an edible sleigh design that will wow Santa and show off their magical skills. Then, two teams go head-to-head in the Santa Showdown by creating inventive snow forts."

Finally, the remaining three teams will square off in a super-sized season finale, just before the Scout Elves head back to the North Pole to help Santa prepare for his big night. The flight home is long and cold, but the Elves fly over some of their favorite places on Earth in the meantime, and the remaining bakers pay homage by "elf-ify"-ing a famous landmark in their honor.

After the final round of eliminations, one team — and their very special elf — will earn the ultimate Christmas gift: $25,000 and the title of The Ambassadors of Confectionery Concoctions.

Sugary sweet and full of Christmas magic, "The Elf on the Shelf: Sweet Showdown" airs an all-new episode Sunday, Dec. 3, on Food Network.

BEST STEVE MCQUEEN MOVIES

Steve McQueen in "The Great Escape"

"The Blob" (1958): It can be argued that the gelatinous title monster is more the star here, but McQueen got top movie billing for the first time in this cult classic.

"The Magnificent Seven" (1960): Still on television's "Wanted: Dead or Alive" when this was released, McQueen put his Western experience to good use in this iconic Americanization of Japan's "Seven Samurai."

"The Great Escape" (1963): Jumping a motorcycle over a barbed-wire fence is one of the most famous images of McQueen, and this is the popular war drama it came from.

"The Cincinnati Kid" (1965): An intense poker match between an ambitious upstart (McQueen) and a master of the game (Edward G. Robinson) fuels this fine drama.

"The Thomas Crown Affair" (1968): McQueen's bid for a more sophisticated image paid off in this classic crime caper, boasting a memorable chess game between Boston's rich but larcenous Crown and the insurance investigator very closely on his trail (Faye Dunaway).

"The Reivers" (1969): McQueen tried something different with this adaptation of a William Faulkner story about a youngster's

"Le Mans" (1971): McQueen addressed his passion for auto racing with this drama, which hangs an admittedly thin story on plenty of footage of the legendary French competition.

"The Getaway" (1972): Teaming with Ali MacGraw - and not just on the screen - in this Sam Peckinpah-directed drama, McQueen plays an ex-con who doesn't waste much time getting back to robbery, encountering a series of double-crossings as he and his wife (MacGraw) flee with the bank loot.

Matthew Perry and Thomas Lennon
in “The Odd Couple”

The fond and full career of Matthew Perry

Q: I was hugely sorry to learn of the death of Matthew Perry. It was said that he had done other series besides “Friends.” What were they? – Judy Reynolds, via e-mail

A: The late-October passing of the actor who immortalized Chandler Bing in sitcom history came as a widespread shock. He played that part from 1994 to 2004, getting a Primetime Emmy nomination for it, but he was a regular on other shows both before and after that. He first co-starred in “Second Chance,” an afterlife-related comedy that was revamped into “Boys Will Be Boys.” He then played Valerie Bertinelli’s brother on “Sydney,” and then a journalist still living at home with relatives in “Home Free.”

“Friends” was Perry’s next series stop, and the world – including those who still watch repeats regularly – knows how that job turned out, with the actor appearing in every episode over the classic show’s 10 seasons. Though he would do recurring parts on “The West Wing” (for which he earned two Primetime Emmy nominations) and “The Good Wife,” Perry was a regular next on “Mr. Sunshine,” reuniting him with “The West Wing’s” Allison Janney.

In “Go On,” he portrayed a new member of a support group, and a reboot of “The Odd Couple” (in which he played slovenly Oscar) was the last weekly series in which he starred ... though he reprised his character from “The Good Wife” in several episodes of the sequel show “The Good Fight.”
