WELCOME

Hello! I'm Joshua Detherage, and I serve as the Chair for the Greater Warrensburg Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. When not serving the community at large, I am the Business Development Officer for Central Bank.

First and foremost, I'm a tried-and-true Warrensburger. I was born, raised, and attended K-12 right here in our little slice of heaven. I'm equal parts Old Drum/Tiger/Mule.

There have been countless community leaders I have looked up to for inspiration and guidance over the years. True neighbors who have given of their time for civic betterment. When contemplating ways to serve my community, the overwhelmingly shared message was, Get Involved, Stay Involved.

Through the Chamber, I have been able to Be Involved and Stay Involved with a focus on community involvement but, most importantly, growth. For my term, I have looked to our mission and purpose statements for inspiration and guidance.

Our Purpose: To empower the community with opportunities that encourage involvement, promote education, develop leadership, and strengthen business.

Our Mission: To be a diverse organization dedicated to fostering connections, stimulating business, and cultivating community.

I am proud of my hometown, and I am proud to serve you, my neighbors and community, through the Chamber of Commerce.

Howl/Growl/Hee-Haw,
Joshua

GROWTH & EXPANSION

By Johnson County Economic Development Corporation

Warrensburg is a thriving community of just over 20,000 residents. As the regional hub of a six-county area and home to the University of Central Missouri and nearby Whiteman Air Force Base, Warrensburg is well positioned for continued economic growth. Warrensburg's centralized location, its affordable business climate and its sophisticated small-town appeal have provided tremendous growth momentum recently.

From small, friendly boutiques to large retail stores and unique antique shops, there is something for everyone to enjoy. The Warrensburg business community offers more than 70 restaurants and bars and approximately 100 retailers. Recent additions of new companies such as Marshalls, Hy-Vee, Starbucks, Casey's General Stores, Fazoli's, Factory Connection, Culver's Restaurant, and Firehouse Subs show that businesses and residents alike recognize the wonderful assets Warrensburg has to offer.

This recent growth has also had a positive impact on employment and the number of jobs available in the Warrensburg area, as the heartland work ethic and community pride make it a great place to do business. This has helped to create a diversified job base that provides the area with a secure and growing economy. In the public sector, major employers include nearby Whiteman Air Force Base, with more than 8,100 civilian and uniformed personnel on its $716 million payroll, and the University of Central Missouri, with more than 1,100 faculty and staff members. Private corporations have also contributed to the area's high employment rate and bright economic outlook.

When not working, residents enjoy a high quality of life, including access to quality education, recreation, shopping, appreciating home values and a low cost of living. Warrensburg boasts the best of rural life: an educated available labor pool, a world-class university, a burgeoning downtown and an engaged community that works hard every day to improve the place they call home. Warrensburg's amenities rival larger cities but with a mid-America, small-town feel. First-rate health care, first-rate infrastructure, and plenty of entertainment and leisure activities allow all community members to enjoy and thrive in Warrensburg.

The economic development partners of the City of Warrensburg, Warrensburg Main Street, The Greater

Warrensburg Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Johnson County Economic Development Corporation dedicate their efforts to preparing and growing the Warrensburg community:

The Warrensburg Chamber's mission is to be a diverse organization dedicated to fostering connections, stimulating business, and cultivating community. The Chamber provides many benefits and services to new and existing businesses and organizations in the greater Warrensburg area. These services include but are not limited to assisting its members in networking and money-saving opportunities. The Chamber manages a community calendar and the Discover Warrensburg app. It aims to empower the community with opportunities that encourage involvement, promote education, develop leadership and strengthen businesses.

Warrensburg Main Street is a nonprofit organization working to revitalize and preserve the downtown. The four points of the Main Street approach work together to build a sustainable and complete community revitalization effort. It works for historic preservation through economic development, believing that preservation happens naturally if businesses are economically stable. It also provides access to national information networks and technical assistance and helps with business retention, expansion, and recruitment.

WARRENSBURG: JUST THE FACTS

No matter where your travel plans take you, Warrensburg, Missouri, is on the way.

Located in the center of the country's heartland, Warrensburg is an hour's drive from Kansas City, four hours from St. Louis, and three hours from Branson. Warrensburg residents are in the enviable position of being able to enjoy the attractions of metropolitan areas and the advantages of small-town life. Unlike purely suburban areas, Warrensburg is a self-contained city with a vibrant employment base, an active cultural scene, and many civic events and activities. Warrensburg serves as the county seat of Johnson County.

Established in 1855, Warrensburg is a third-class city with a council-manager form of government adopted in 1957. Its five council members are elected at large, and one council member is selected by the council to serve as mayor.

The City of Warrensburg provides police, fire, street maintenance, sewer, animal control, building inspection, and planning and zoning services within the city limits, as well as maintaining the Sunset Hill Cemetery. Warrensburg is home to nine beautiful parks covering more than 400 acres, including three award-winning parks, namely, Cave Hollow, Grover Memorial and Shepard Park, with miles of hiking trails, a skate park, a dog park, eight tennis courts, six playgrounds, seven ball fields, two soccer fields, and Nassif Aquatic Center.

The Warrensburg Community Center features a full-size gymnasium with six basketball goals, a walking track, an indoor aquatic facility, seven meeting rooms, and the award-winning WCC Fitness Center. The Community Center also provides space for the Warrensburg Senior Center, which operates a weekday lunch and home delivery program.

The City operates with approximately 217 full-time, part-time, and seasonal employees.

City Government

The City of Warrensburg has a city council-manager form of government in which an elected city council serves as the city's primary legislative body and appoints a chief executive officer, called a city manager, to oversee day-to-day municipal operations, draft a budget, and implement and enforce the council's policy and legislative initiatives.

City council members serve staggered three-year terms, with elections hosted annually in April. Council members may serve a maximum of two consecutive terms before they are term limited, but they may sit out for a term and run again.

The council is currently composed of Mayor Jim Kushner

(term expires 2026), Chairperson Pro Tem Bruce Uhler (term expires 2025), Council Member Tarl Bentley (term expires 2024), Council Member Eddie Osborne (term expires 2025) and Council Member Jan Jones (term expires 2026).

The city's administrative offices operate out of City Hall at 102 S. Holden St. on the city campus, which includes the Municipal Building across the street and Fire Station 1 and the Police Department buildings west of City Hall.

City Manager Danielle Dulin oversees the city's daily operations. Department Directors, including the police and fire chiefs, human resources, community development, planning, finance, and public works directors, answer to Dulin. The city also has numerous boards and commissions composed of volunteer members who report to the council.

Members of the public may attend the city council meetings, generally hosted at 7 p.m. on the second and fourth Mondays of every month at the Warrensburg Municipal Center.

For more information about council meetings or for general information about city operations, call 660-747-9131 or visit www.warrensburg-mo.com.

WHITEMAN AIR FORCE BASE

Sixty miles southeast of Kansas City, nestled among the wooded, rolling hills of west-central Missouri, two miles south of Knob Noster, is the bustling community of Whiteman Air Force Base. Whiteman is the home of the 509th Bomb Wing, proud to serve as host to several associated units. These include the Air Force Reserve 442d Fighter Wing, Missouri Army National Guard 1-135th Assault Helicopter Battalion, Missouri Air National Guard 131st Bomb Wing, and the 20th Attack Squadron.

509th Bomb Wing

The 509th Bomb Wing is part of Air Force Global Strike Command and is the host wing at Whiteman Air Force Base. The Bomb Wing and its fleet of B-2 Spirit bombers serve as part of the Air Force's conventional and strategic combat force. The Bomb Wing can project U.S. airpower anywhere around the world from its home station and employ a wide range of precision-guided munitions. The 509th Bomb Wing comprises approximately 5,600 military members and 2,000 civilian employees. The mission statement of the 509th Bomb Wing is "Execute Nuclear Operations and Global Strike ...Anytime, Anywhere!"

B-2 Spirit Bomber

The B-2 Spirit Bomber is a multi-role bomber capable of delivering both conventional and nuclear munitions. By possessing an extreme unrefueled range and the ability to penetrate deep into enemy airspace undetected and unassisted, the B-2 can place any fixed or movable target at risk and expose the aircraft crew to limited hostilities.

Air Force Reserve's 442nd Fighter Wing

The 442nd Fighter Wing is comprised of nearly 1,800 members at WAFB and two geographically separated units: the 917th Fighter Group, Barksdale Air Force Base, Louisiana, and the 476th Fighter Group, Moody Air Force Base, Georgia. The wing is responsible for the combat readiness of 48 A-10 Thunderbolt II aircraft – all the A-10s in the Air Force Reserve. The 442nd moved to Whiteman from Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base, Kansas City, Missouri, in June 1994.

A-10 Thunderbolt II

The A-10 Thunderbolt II is a single-seat fighter jet designed to provide close air support for ground forces by attacking tanks and other armored vehicles.

Army National Guard's 1-135th Assault Helicopter Battalion

The Missouri National Guard is the only component of the armed forces that has two missions. The federal mission is to provide federal support when called upon by the president – this could be for overseas contingency operations or national emergencies like Hurricane Katrina. Their mission is to support the governor of Missouri in times of state crisis. The 1-135th Assault Battalion's mission is to conduct attack, reconnaissance, and security operations that complement other maneuver forces. They control AH-64 Apache Helicopters.

AH-64 Apache

AH-64 Apache is the Army's heavy division/corps attack helicopter. The Apache conducts rear, close, and shaping missions, including deep precision strikes. It also conducts distributed operations, precision strikes against relocatable targets, and provides armed reconnaissance when required in day, night, obscured battlefield and adverse weather conditions. The combination of the radars, advanced navigation and avionics suite of the aircraft provides increased situational awareness, lethality and survivability.

Air National Guard's 131st Bomb Wing

In 2008, Whiteman AFB welcomed the Missouri Air National Guard's 131st Bomb Wing into its midst as an associate B-2 unit. In this capacity, Missouri's citizen-airmen work alongside active-duty personnel to maintain and fly the nation's most advanced bomber.

Whiteman Air Force Base History

Whiteman's heritage dates back to 1942, and U.S. Army Air Corps officials selected the current site as the home of Sedalia Army Air Field. Following the war's end, the airfield remained in service as an operational location for Army Air Force C-46 and C-47 transports. In December 1947, the base was inactivated. However, in 1951, the Strategic Air Command selected the base to be a site of one of its new bombardment wings, with both bombers and tankers assigned. In 1952, SAC activated the 340th Bombardment Wing.

In 1955, members of the wing saw the base name change to Whiteman Air Force Base in honor of 2nd Lt. George A. Whiteman. Whiteman was one of the first American airmen killed in combat during World War II when his P-40 fighter, the Lucky Me, was shot down. In the 1960s, its mission shifted from aircraft to the Minuteman Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. In 1961, officials selected the base to become the command's fourth Minuteman missile wing, the 351st Strategic Missile Wing.

In 1987, Congressman Ike Skelton announced the B-2 Advanced Technology Bomber would be based at Whiteman AFB. In preparation for a second wing, the Air Force activated the 100th Division in July 1990 to replace the 351st as the base host unit. Thus, in July 1991, the 100th was inactivated, and the 351st again assumed its host unit role. The changes did not end there. On July 31, 1991, President George H.W. Bush signed the historic Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START) that called for the dismantling and destruction of the Minuteman II ICBMs.

The end of the Cold War spelled the end of the 351st, and the deactivation of the Minuteman II system began immediately. On Jan. 8, 1993, the wing's first launch control center, India-01, shut down operations. In 1995, the last Minuteman II missile, located at Juliet-03 in Chloe, Johnson County, was removed from its site.

The 509th Bomb Wing traces its historical roots to its World War II ancestor, the 509th Composite Group, which was formed with one mission: to drop the atomic bomb. The group made history on Aug. 6, 1945, when the B-29 Enola Gay, piloted by Paul W. Tibbets Jr., dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan.

On Sept. 30, 1990, the 509th Bomb Wing was transferred to Whiteman AFB and, in July 1993, accepted host responsibilities for the base. During this same month, the wing received its first fixed-wing aircraft, a T-38 with a B-2 style paint job.

On Dec. 17, 1993, the 90th anniversary of Orville Wright's historic first successful, controlled, heavier-than-air powered flight at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, the world's most sophisticated and advanced aircraft, the B-2 Advanced Technology Bomber Spirit of Missouri, arrived at Whiteman AFB.

Members of the Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce Military Affairs Committee engage in outreach and connection supporting area active duty, reserve, National Guard, veteran, retiree and student military communities, with a particular focus on engagement directed to boosting morale within Warrensburg's Whiteman AFB Community Council sister squadrons: the 393rd Bomb Squadron, the 509th Operations Support Squadron and the 20th Attack Squadron.

BUY LOCAL

Innovative teaching methods, dedicated educators, and a focus on holistic development make Warrensburg School District a cornerstone of quality education in the heart of Missouri. Discover a community that values learning, embraces diversity, and prepares students for a successful future.

The Warrensburg School District, founded in 1866, is located in Johnson County, Missouri, just an hour's drive from Kansas City, Missouri. The population within the District is approximately 26,000. The District employs more than 575 full-time staff members who serve 3,469 PreK-12th grade students on eight campuses. More than 65% of the District's teachers hold advanced degrees, averaging 12.8 years of classroom experience. The average student-to-classroom-teacher ratio is 17 to

1, and Warrensburg R-VI District is fully accredited by the State Board of Education.

The district and all buildings have received distinction from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education for their efforts in supporting military families. The DESE has awarded the designation of Purple Star for our buildings in 2022 and the district in 2023. The designation was received due to the efforts of the dedicated liaisons in each school to support our military families and students. These liaisons support relocation, deployment, loss, academic planning, and eligibility to participate in extracurricular activities.

Warrensburg is a 1-to-1 technology school district. PreK through fifth grade students receive an iPad, 6-8 grade students receive a Chromebook, and high school students are issued laptops. The district is constantly striving to enhance and integrate technology into daily learning activities for students and staff.

The District has two preschool through second grade elementary schools and two third grade through fifth grade elementary schools. Preschool programs include full-day tuition programs and half-day Early Childhood Special Education programs. After-school childcare programs are available for grades K-6. Each elementary school has a media center and offers art, music, and physical education by fully certified staff members and services for students with special needs. As students move to the middle school level, students have opportunities to participate in band, sports, and numerous after-school clubs.

High school students can take advantage of the A+ program opportunities, dual credit, Project Lead the Way classes, advanced placement classes in various subjects, and courses in robotics, biomedicine, and broadcasting. Students can participate in the University of Central Missouri Innovation Track, earning college credit by attending classes on campus or online. Numerous extra and intra-curricular activities are also available to encourage students to participate fully in their high school experience.

Preparing Johnson County students and adults for rewarding careers is possible through the Warrensburg Area Career Center. The Center offers programs in technology information management, computer programming, nursing, automobile mechanics, agriculture, building trades, office technology, and cosmetology.

The Gateway Education Program provides opportunities for sophomore through senior students to earn credits toward graduation in an alternative setting. These students also participate in service-learning programs combining an academic curriculum with meaningful community service. The Tiger's Den, supplying items such as food and clothing for students in need, is another example of our students' work to give back.

Through the years, the City of Warrensburg and the surrounding areas have been great supporters of the District. Their support has allowed facility additions and improvements, including classrooms at several buildings and a Warrensburg Activities Complex. These partnerships and the patron support of the school district make Warrensburg a great place to raise a family!

With an innovative Success Advising Center, Career and Life Design Center, expert tutoring for more than 100 courses, free counseling and mental health services, and the only accredited Counseling Center at a Missouri public institution, student support is one of UCM's highest priorities.

Low Tuition Rates

With tuition lower than most Missouri colleges and the national average, UCM believes everyone deserves affordable access to a high-quality education. Plus, 94% of UCM undergraduates receive financial aid. UCM has been recognized by the student finance bureau LendEDU for having one of the lowest national student debt numbers and was named one of America's Top Colleges by Forbes Magazine.

UCM's signature Red and Black Scholarship provides students with more money so they can focus on their future and graduate with less debt. This automatic, merit-based scholarship allows students to earn up to full tuition and fees. UCM also has test-optional admission and no application fee.

The Mule Grant allows first-time undergraduate degree-seeking students and transfer students with an associate degree who are Missouri residents to attend UCM with less financial stress. It covers any tuition and general fees remaining after federal, state and institutional grants and scholarships have been applied.

High-Quality Academics

With an average class size of 18, students receive 1:1 attention from world-class faculty. From Aviation and Cybersecurity to Education and Nursing, UCM professors provide educational opportunities that enhance students' skills and help them discover their career potential.

All programs at UCM are accredited by the Higher Learning Commission, a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. UCM is consistently ranked as a top college by U.S. News & World Report and The Princeton Review, and 97% of UCM graduates launch their careers or continue their education within six months of graduation.

Big Experiences

Students learn outside the classroom with more than 185 student organizations, 32 intramural sports, 26 Greek letter organizations, 17 NCAA Division-II athletic teams and study abroad options in more than 60 countries. UCM is one of the few universities in the United States to offer study abroad scholarships and grants, including the Global Vision scholarship that pays 100% of students' costs to go abroad.

Unique facilities include Pertle Springs, a 300-acre recreational and biological research area featuring the Earl Keth Memorial Golf Course and the Audrey J. Walton Clubhouse; the Max B. Swisher Skyhaven Airport, the only university-owned airport in the state, which serves the university and Warrensburg; the Missouri Safety Center; the University Farms; and public broadcasting station KMOS-TV. Also included is the main campus with a blend of historic and state-of-the-art buildings, nine residence halls, Audrey J. Walton Stadium at Vernon Kennedy Field, the Elliott Student Union and the Jerry M. Hughes Athletics Center. Serving as a cultural hub in central Missouri, UCM provides abundant opportunities to attend events and exhibitions of the fine and performing arts.

Military Friendly

UCM has earned the 2023-24 Military Friendly School designation. The Office of Military and Veteran Services helps active-duty military members and veterans make a smooth transition from military life to college life.

HISTORY & HERITAGE

Warrensburg's exciting future remains anchored to its colorful western frontier past. The town's history dates to 1833 when Martin Warren, an American Revolutionary War soldier and blacksmith, arrived from Kentucky and settled along the Osage Indian Trail at College and Gay streets.

In 1834, the County of Johnson was designated, and the town of Columbus was the center of county government until 1836. In 1838, a group of early Missouri leaders, including Daniel Morgan Boone, son of Daniel Boone, chose the site for the county courthouse in the growing community that was to become the City of Warrensburg.

The county court commissioned the building of the courthouse in that same year, and it took four years to complete. Incorporation as a city came in 1855, and the railroad arrived July 4, 1864, after it had stopped at Sedalia during the Civil War. A thriving new commercial district sprouted along the tracks, five blocks southeast of the original town (or town square), and nearby sandstone quarries helped spur growth.

The Barlow & Sanderson Overland Mail company started here. Established by Vermont men Jared L. Sanderson and Bradley Barlow during the Civil War, the Barlow-Sanderson Overland Mail Company first carried the mail and operated a stage line between Sedalia and Warrensburg, Missouri. By 1863, was also operating a line from Kansas City, Missouri, to Fort Scott, Kansas. In 1866, they began to expand westward and transferred their headquarters from Kansas City to Junction City, Colorado. By 1867, the two entrepreneurs had established a route from Missouri to California over the Santa Fe Trail and changed the name to the Barlow and Sanderson Company.

One of the city parks, located in the historic area, has been restored and is today named Blind Boone Park. The completed restoration includes a gazebo for public musical events, a picnic area, and a statue of Blind Boone. John William "Blind" Boone (May 17, 1864 – Oct. 4, 1927) was a highly successful American pianist and composer of ragtime music, giving over 7,200 concerts in North America. The JCHS is also hoping to restore the Old Davis Store, established in 1895, and is located across the street from the Old Courthouse and the only historic commercial building left in the area.

Old Drum Trial

Old Drum, a hound dog, was shot dead in 1869 by Samuel "Dick" Ferguson, nephew and ward of Leonidas Hornsby, an irate neighbor who thought Drum had been killing his sheep and is one of the most celebrated figures from Warrensburg's past. When U.S. Senator-to-be George Graham Vest delivered his eulogy to the dog in 1870 in a Johnson County courtroom, he had no idea his words would make him famous. His words, coining the phrase "Man's best friend is his dog," quickly won him fame across Missouri and beyond.

Vest made the speech while arguing in court on behalf of Charles Burden, whose favorite dog was shot by the ward of Leonidas Hornsby. Burden sued and the case eventually wound up in the Missouri Supreme Court, where the plaintiff was awarded $50.

The trial advanced Vest's political career, and in 1958, his "Tribute to a Dog" was cast in bronze beneath the statue of Old Drum on the courthouse lawn. Vest's eulogy has won world fame and has been cited as one of the greatest speeches given during the 19th century. The story of Old Drum is known and loved the world over.

Preserving our past and sharing this with our community is a prime objective for the volunteer-based Johnson County Missouri Historical Society and sister organization, The West Central Missouri Genealogical Society, both supported by the generosity of donors and its members.

THE ORIGIN OF MAN'S BEST FRIEND

By George Graham Vest, 1870

"Gentlemen of the jury: The best friend a man has in this world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name, may become traitors to their faith.

The money that a man has, he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps when he needs it the most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads.

The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, and the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog."

"Gentlemen of the jury: A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, when the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounters with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince.

When all other friends desert, he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens.

If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies, and when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in its embrace and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even to death."

The defense's closing argument was a moving speech about the dedication and loyalty of dogs and is said to be the inspiration for the phrase, "A dog is a man's
